The earliest authentic mention of a railway is in the life of Lord Keeper North, early in the seventeenth century. About 1679 a double parallel wooden beam was laid at New on-Tyne, and a large cart, with rollers, drawn by horses, was used to transport coal from the mine to the surface. A flange placed at the side of the track kept the carts from rolling off the rails. So successful was the experiment that other coal districts in England followed the example. In Scotland labor saving scheme, for a

Finally, in 1808, the rails were made of malleable iron. By 1808 the tramway had used 100 tons of iron for the rails and 100 tons for the motors, and in some lines the stationary engines; but men

Watt seems to have been the first to conceive the idea of propelling carriages by steam, but he was engaged in perfecting the stationary engine, so that he did not attempt to carry out his idea. William Murdoch, the first constructed a model locomotive

Though little more than a toy it succeeded successfully, and traveled so far that on one occasion its inventor tried to keep pace with it. In 1825 Richard Trevethick and Andrew Beatty, two Cornwall engineers, took the first patent ever issued for a locomotive. All the steam carriages and engines, however, amounted to nothing so far as the public was concerned.

...really practical locomotive. Trevelthick in this year built the first portable locomotive in south Wales. It drew a load of ten tons of iron over a distance of five miles an hour. From this date, the locomotive was used in 1811, very little, if anything, was used to advance railroads. Time was spent in the employment of inventors to improve the locomotive. The locomotive was employed to invent the locomotive, and the locomotive was employed to invent the locomotive.

... successful engine was built by George Stephens in 1813. It ran an hour, drawing thirty tons of coal, and was the first of the class. Then Robert Stephenson's Rocket, which attained a maximum speed of twenty and one-half miles an hour, was built, and with an average of fifteen.—

THE UNSEEN POOL.

People Who Go Through Terrible Things to Keep Their Little Home together.

It is forgotten that while to the lowest scale of human life poverty is hard lot somewhat tempered by the fact that it is the lot of all to higher grades of society poverty really a crime. They dare not shun their neighbors and acquaintances, outward evidences of their power. They dare not reveal the terrible wrongs and struggles they go through to keep their little home together. They are anxious they suffer in raising their rent; they have to pay weekly for a humble lodging in a respectable and neighborhood. The poor man, the poor lady, the poor clerk of employment, must maintain respectability, for their pecuniary means also social ruin. There is a point in certain grades of humbleness where respectability becomes a burden and a tax. It is all very well to say, "There is menial labor of others." There is no greater cant than the affectation that menial labor is a disgrace. But menial labor himself, quires skill, and unless a m his friends, woman be reared to it he or and the res- valueless in that capacity. To suspended, competent navy or laborer require certain muscular development and after training. To be a skilled carpenter —Cleveland bricklayer requires as much ledge, skill, and nicety of touch many callings of higher repute. purposely putting aside all con- I.E. tions of the natural and actual and pain felt by all refined nature in contact with sordid surroundings and coarse, vulgar associates. But the well-bred and educated man or woman all this means trial and suffering; it is a species of trial and suffering quite unknown to the inhabitants of a slum. The deserving poor, those who get no sympathy, do not suffer in shame. The popular journals make no mention of their existence. It anxiety, and mental suffering.—

Year Round.

—The oldest earriages, used by ladies of England, were called cotes. These became unfashionable after Ann, the daughter of Charles and Queen of Richard II., about the end of the fourteenth century, saw the ladies how gracefully they rode on a side-saddle. Coaches first known in England in the 1590s. They were introduced for many by the Earl of Arundel.

—In 1796, at Henlow, Kent, Whit Tuesday, a burlesque imitation of the Olympic games was held. The prize was a gold-laced hat, to be given to the best candidate, who was elected for six candidates, who danced on a platform with horses.

THE arrival of the month of February did not find Lawrenceburg taking its annual bath this year.

ABOUT $400,000 of the money being longed to a Pennsylvania bank, ran off with the cashier the other day.

THE Cabinet-makers have about concluded that they know nothing about who will compose Cleveland's advisors.

THE Clark County Democrat came out with a new head, last week, but we can't say that it's an improvement on the old one.

SOME few sales of tobacco have been made in this section, the prices realized being about half of those which prevailed last season.

A BILL introduced in the Michigan Legislature secures to women the right to vote in school, city, town and other municipal elections.

NEARLY all of our rural contributors were out Monday, February 24, and we hope they will be out every week during the remainder of the year.

ONE month from to-day Cleveland will be inaugurated President, and shortly thereafter the cabinet guesses will discover how badly they have been fooled.

IT is said that a small piece of resin dropped in a vessel of water on a stove will add a peculiar property to the atmosphere of a room and afford relief to a person troubled with a cough.

THE Ripley (O.) Budget says that the tobacco men of that place and Higginsport have lost $100,000 on the weed this season, and dealers all over that part of the country are heavy losers also.

KENTUCKY horses are very successful at the New Orleans Exposition. W. W. Adams, of Lexington, having taken $1,300 on his, while H. C. Hays, of Fayette county, took up with $100 on his roadster.

THE Owen News has undertaken to reconstruct Mr. Waterson's opinion of Hon. Samuel J. Randall, of Pennsylvania. The mention of the name Randall has the same effect on Waterson that a red rag has on a wild bull.

TUS Lonsville Commercial proposes to put an expert accountant to overhaul the books of the State officials at Frankfort. This is exceedingly clever on the part of the Commercial, but its bank account will never grow any less on that account.

THERE was absolutely no business of public importance transacted in the County Court last Monday. The crowd in town that day was as large as that which generally attends the February court. No stock of any consequence was offered for sale.

IT seems that Congress can not be satisfied that all the survivors of the Mexican war should be pensioned. These survivors are now entitled to a pension if they ever will be, and the territory acquired by their efforts merits for them a proper recognition.

MANY counties in the State are without a mile of turnpike, but to judge from the number of new charters granted and the number of old charters amended by the last Legislature, a person would conclude that over half the roads in the State are turnpikes.

THE latest reported method of treating the "whisky habit," is to use the stimulant as a gargle, and then spit it out. This is said to satisfy the appetite without permitting one drop to enter the stomach. Thus the brain is relieved and the victim retains absolute control of himself.

A MR. STERLING man claims that he has canvassed that city and found that two men who will not sign a petition praying the governor to commute Neal's sentence to imprisonment was so violent toward the condemned man some time since is apparently abating.

TAK Park City Times office, at Bowling, Green, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night. This is the fifth time the editor has had his office thus destroyed, but being one of the most energetic men in the state, he has not been discouraged by the loss. The press on which the Recorder is printed came from that office not long since.

O'DONOVAN ROSA, the New York Dynamite is laid up with a pistol shot wound in his back administered by a woman claiming to be an English widow. She had read about and brooded over the dynamite troubles in England, till she concluded she would contribute her mite toward suppressing those engaged in the dynamite business.

IT seems that Lawrenceburg is having some trouble in getting Congress to make an appropriation to assist in constructing a levee for her protection. The engineer whom the government had to investigate the matter reports adversely to a levee and recommends dredging which is not in accord with what the Lawrenceburgers consider the proper thing. They have an idea that a levee is the only security they will have against the ravages of the floods.

IT is true, as the Maysville Eagle says, it is useless for Kentucky people to talk about Kentucky resources and development, until they are willing to take the lead and help. There is plenty of money in Kentucky to develop the state, and if our people can once realize how much wiser it is to spend money at home than in wildcat western schemes, they will place the State in the position to which she is entitled by reason of her magnificent natural resources.

MRS. WOODSWORTH, the Evangelical preacher, creating quite a stir at Hartford, Conn., Ind. There are many who sneer and call her a fraud; but with it all she is doing a great deal of good. People who never attend any church, go to hear her and many of them have been converted. Saloon-keepers have closed their doors and joined the church. Evil-doers have turned their backs upon their old haunts and have reformed. If she be a fraud, then let there be more of such, in this world.

FROM ten a. m. to two p. m. the time allotted to the ground-hog to come forth from his winter home on the second day of February and settle the question as to what kind of weather we are to enjoy for the next six weeks. It is evident that the ground-hogs and all other hogs in this community were furnished an opportunity to go upon their shadows Monday, and it now remains to be settled whether or not it takes a majority of the hogs to settle the weather business.

THE Penitentiary at Eldersville will be the most modern in design and handsomeness in architecture in the South. The main building will be made of cut stone, with wings on each side 50 feet high, built of the same material. In the wing rooms there will be 300 cells. There will be also a handsome brick hospital and four commodious brick work shops, each 200 feet long by 50 feet wide. The entire plant will contain 104 acres of ground, which will be enclosed with stone wall 18 feet high. About 8,000,000 bricks will be used in constructing the buildings. One hundred convicts are now at work quarrying stone, chopping wood and preparing to make brick. Every apartment of the penitentiary will be supplied with pure water, which will be filtered from a never-failing spring, which runs through a cave beneath the high hill on which the penitentiary is situated.—Paducah News.

THE annual report of the Department of Agriculture says of Kentucky: "The wheat market has ruled so low that it has had a material influence on the breadstuffs of this fall. A large part of the crop is still in original hands and is being held for better prices. The tobacco market is unsettled, growing out of the fact that a general impression prevails that there is a large production last year. But the over-production was not sufficient to seriously affect the market value. Prices of tobacco in white Burley districts is unfavorably affected by the fact that quite a number of large bars, containing whole crops, have been burned by incendiaries, and every day or two adds to the number. The result is that the owners are pressing their crops on the market, the eagerness to do so is enhanced because insurance companies are refusing to issue policies on tobacco bars."

IN an interview, the other day, at Washington, Speaker Carlisle said he believed the time will come when the form of an oath will be done away with in the courts. This expression of opinion was brought out in a general conversation upon the subject of the rejection of the testimony of an agnostic in the Swain court-martial. Mr. Carlisle said that under the present methods of taking testimony the evidence of a most worthless character who took the oath would be taken against that of the most scrupulous and high-minded man who from his very sense of truth could not say that he knew that there was a God. He thinks that there never was a case tried in any court where there was not perjury of some kind on both sides. He never yet has in all his legal experience seen evidence that the oath alone restrains a man from making mistakes in his own interest. He would have each man give evidence without any preliminary form and there would stand according to the character of the witness. Each witness would be on his honor.

STATE ITEMS.

Tobacco is estimated to lose about 20 per cent. by roasting.

The first church erected in Owensboro, says the Inquirer, was built by negroes.

Owing to the low price of wheat there was a large decrease in the acreage sown last fall.

The Bowling Green Gazette announces that four head of cattle have recently died, in that county from eating tobacco.

On court day at Mt. Sterling some parties got drunk and took the town. Business was almost suspended and the houses were closed.

The Court of Claims fixed yesterday the salary of J. W. Raiser, Superintendent of Common Schools at $800 annually.—Owen Democrat.

Winfield Scott and Berry Wigington sold their tobacco at Louisville last Tuesday, which brought $8 10 and $7 90.—Trimble Free Press.

A tobacco buyer has arrived from Louisville and yesterday purchased a large amount on the Newtown pike at nine cents, straight. This is the best price offered this season.—Lexington Transcript.

The Winchester Sun says a farmer of that county cut his tobacco crop with a reaper-hook, stripped it green, and handled it with a pitchfork, and one of the best crops in the county.

The inhabitants of Glendale, where a liquor law is in force, are at pains to know what they must do in case of snake-bite. No doubt it will only require an ante to get the antidote that they do upon.

A couple of Pennsylvania farmers were in the county last week with a view of locating and going into the sheep husbandry business. They looked at several farms and expressed themselves as well satisfied with the prospects.—Paris Kentuckian.

Two ten clever young men who run the Owensboro Messenger have planted a small but lively crop of hell in the State political pasture, and the question now arises, what arrangements have they made for harvesting it.—Louisville Commercial.

A rat terrier near Careyville disappeared two months ago, and had not been seen, until a few days since when he was seen in company with a ground-hog. He disappeared under the cliffs with the ground-hog and could not be persuaded to leave his hiding place.

John R. Wolfe, who was serving a ten-year sentence for forgery, and who was the leader of the convicts who attempted to escape last August, died yesterday at half-past three P. M. from the wounds received on that occasion. His remains will be taken to Georgetown for burial.—Yeoman.

The Cloverport News, after much study of the criminal record of the State, is convinced that lawlessness proceeds from ignorance and ignorance. For the latter the editor prescribes compulsory education. The point is well made. But there is less need to do of argument in favor of compulsory education than of practical plan whereby it may be accomplished.—Louisville Commercial.

The delinquent list of Owen, is much larger than ever heretofore. It is estimated that it will reach from one-fourth to one-third of the mature voting population of the county. It is remarkably strange to find that such a large proportion of our people are unable to pay their per capita tax of $2.50. Every able-bodied man, white or black ought to be, and in fact, is able to pay that small sum to relieve the county of her pecuniary embarrassment.—Owen Democrat.

A Paducah special to the Louisville Courier-Journal says: "February 1, 1896, the Court-house at Ballard, Ballard county, was burned, with all its contents. Several bridges of the county were also burned at the same time. Last week a prisoner in the county jail informed the jailer that one, Tobe Hendricks, was the guilty party. Acting on this, the jailer arrested Hendricks at Louisville, Graves county, and placed him in jail. Great excitement prevails, as prominent citizens are said to be implicated. The mystery will soon be unearthed."

John Palmer, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty-one years, for the killing of Crutcher, was taken to Frankfort last Wednesday, but with him were taken pieces from all parts of the county, among which was one gotten up and signed by the ladies of New Liberty, Owen county and other towns, praying for a pardon for the 31d man, and which was so pathetic that it would have melted the heart of brass. As a consequence, Palmer was not confined within the prison walls, but pardoned by Governor Knott. Every one who is familiar with the case cannot help but overlook the action of the Governor. Upon his release Palmer went home to his family.—Owen News.

The COURIER-JOURNAL for 1885
An Organ of Living Issues, Living Ideas and Moral Forces and an Enemy of Monopolies, Oligarchy and the spirit of Subsidy, as embodied in

THAT THIEVING TARIFF.
The Courier-Journal is the acknowledged representative newspaper of the South in Democratic politics, and first, last and all the time is for a reduction of the tariff levied on the people by the tariff now in force.

THE WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL is without a superior in the world as a great family and political newspaper, and during the year 1885 it will strive more uniformly and logically than ever for the political faith, not neglecting, however, the infinite variety of claims misanthropy that cause it to be a favorite in the family circle. The return to power of the Democratic party will make 1885 a year in the history of the United States, and no family should be without the Courier-Journal who desire to keep thoroughly posted on passing events. The Weekly Courier-Journal has the LARGEST DEMOCRATIC CIRCULATION OF ANY NEWSPAPER IN AMERICA.

If you are unacquainted with it ask a subscriber to it to its merit as a great family and political newspaper. In point of quality and quantity of interesting reading matter it leads the newspaper press of the United States. It covers industry and enterprise on every branch of it, it will continue to be the head of American journals. It contains each week, the most complete array of the news of the world, and its editorial columns (Henry Watterson, Editor-in-Chief) are always strong and bright. Among the best of the leading papers in the South, the Courier-Journal is a favorite. Its reports, answers, to Correspondents Department, Poetry and Department for Children. No home in the country should be without it.

SWEET POTATOES.

How the Tubers, Which are Not Potatoes, at all, Are Grown.

Yet they gave the name to the true potato. They are a species of convolvulus, closely related to the well-known plant of that name, and more closely to the common garden plant, Ipomoea: botanical name is Convolvulus batatas or Batatas edulis, and from this has been derived the common name of sweet potato. It is a very different plant, Solanum tuberosum, our common potato. It is a twining plant, and when grown as a house plant, its ornamental character makes a very pretty ornament for the window glass.

It is an exceedingly valuable plant, its nutritive tuberous root, and its popular substitute for the South American potato in the northern part of the continent when it was discovered by Columbus. It formed the principal subsistence of the Revolutionary army in the Southern States, and formed the noonday meal of General Marion in South Carolina when he was visiting the British officers after his victory at Cowpens. It contains not only a portion of starch, but also much sugar, and when dried and reduced to powder makes an equally nutritious and palatable food.

The mode of culture is as follows: Early in the spring, as soon as heavy frosts are over, a hot-bed is prepared in the usual way and the plants are sown in it. The seed soon appears and when they are six inches long they are slipped with the roots attached to them are then set out in beds about eight to twenty inches apart. The eye buds sprout again, and so a large number of slips are taken from each bed. The beds are usually left uncultivated for the day, and are protected by a covering of straw or swamp hay during the nights. The plants are set out about the time corn planting, when the ground is warm. The beds are made as follows: Two wide and deep open furrows are made in the form of a trench-participate; the mature, which be well rotted, is spread in this furrow and covered by a double plow; the soil is then smoothed with a rake or phable harrow, slips or plants are set out in the furrow as mentioned. The after-cultivation consists in keeping the soil loose and free from weeds and moving vines as soon as they begin to grow, to prevent them from rooting at the base and wasting their strength upon unnecessary growth. This is done with the hoe or a rake at the last work of the ground.

The crop is gathered by digging the roots with a plow and turning the tubers. In small patches it is done with the hoe. The tubers are well dried and are then packed away for preservation. Just here begins the trouble of more or less apertains to every year and labor of mankind. This difficulty of keeping the tubers is that they are very tender and easily injured by exposure to cold, which causes decay. For their perfect preservation they require a temperature of least sixty degrees. In the Southern States, where large quantities grain for shipment to Northern California, potato houses are made for them. These are made with floors and lathed sides protected by close shutters. Bins made of lath ranged on each side and raised inches from the floor, to permit a free circulation of air. In warm weather the shutters are closed and the air permitted to pass through the potatoes. When the weather is wet or cold a stove provided for purpose is heated and the potatoes warmed to a right temperature in this way the tubers are kept in order until the spring. In a small place the tubers may be preserved in boxes or barrels packed in dry straw or wood ashes and kept in a closet, or in a dry room which is kept warm, or in a dry cellar. They may be warmed by a stove.—Times.

MASKED carnivals at the roller skating rink are the most popular resorts now. Neither churches nor theaters can prevail against their powerful attractions.

ONE of two things is certain, Bath county either has the oldest woman in the United States or has recently been visited by the biggest lying newspaper correspondent in the country.

AN Arkansas negro in crossing Tyrone river on a mule fell off and was drowned. The mule came safely to the shore and was taken possession of by the "Squire." The river was dragged, the negro's body found and on it a pistol. He had been dead three days, but the Squire fined him $50 and costs for carrying concealed weapons, and confiscated mule and pistol to pay the same.

The numerous killings at, and the frequent escapes from, the Anchorage asylum renders people skeptical on the subject of the management thereof. One day the Superintendent proclaims that a patient is being closely watched, and the next day he serves notice that that particular patient with three others has escaped, but leaves it to the escaped patients to inform the public that in a body they walked out of the gates and left the premises. This was the case with Black Clarkson and his comrades.

JOE G. REVILL, of Owenston was in town Monday, canvassing a proposition to start a bank here. He met with considerable encouragement, and left much pleased with the outlook. About the only obstacle in the way of a bank here is that many of our citizens own stock in Covington banks, and they are inclined to discourage a like enterprise in Burlington.

JOE G. REVILL can clearly demonstrate to any body who will listen to reason, that a bank here will in no wise conflict with Covington banks. There are many benefits to be derived from a bank at this place, and no better man than Joe Revill could have charge of it. He has had considerable experience in that line of business.

BLACK CLARKSON and his traveling companion who left the Anchorage asylum together last week, were captured at William Cochran's in Carroll county, and returned to the asylum. Clarkson desired to escape into Indiana, but the ice in the river prevented his crossing, and during his trip his feet and ears were badly frozen. Black's going to Mr. Cochran's where he is well known, is not construed as an evidence of insanity, but is used as an argument against it. It is suspected he expected to be so considered though. There is no evidence as to his having attempted suicide while at large.

BOYD, Carter, and other counties in the eastern part of the State are greatly incensed at Lieutenant Governor Hindman for resigning Neal for thirty days. Neal had been taken to Grayson to be hung at one o'clock last Friday, but about midnight Thursday Gov. Hindman telegraphed the Sheriff of Carter county that he had granted a respite, and for him to remove the prisoner from Grayson at once. Thousands of people went to Grayson Friday to witness the execution and had Neal not been secretly moved the night before, he would have been hung by the excited people notwithstanding the respite. The indignation has now reached a pitch which will require the interposition of the militia in case Neal should again be sent to Grayson for hanging. The people up there consider justice has been greatly outraged, and unless he is protected by a strong guard Neal can not survive a return among them but a mere man. They are clamoring for his execution, and so thoroughly are they satisfied that he is guilty of the awful crime with which he is charged, that it would be next to an impossibility for anything to occur to change them.

This committee to which is entrusted the improvement of the jail is just now running the gauntlet of public criticism, some of which are made in earnest while some are merely for the amusement of those who are indulging in them. That committee is vested with authority to improve the looks of the jail, and to make it safe and more comfortable, which they are proceeding to do in a cautious and well advised manner, regardless of the unnecessary and unjustified criticisms hurled at it by the public. The committee is now doing what the County Court has been requested by several grand juries to do, and no doubt, that which would be readily accepted by nine-tenths of the citizens of the county were they acting in the capacity of a grand jury. That men a grand jury and observation teaches that not in a single instance, for several years past, have they failed to suggest improvements on the jail, and when their recommendations are being complied with, some of the grand jurors of the recent past so far forget themselves as to raise their voices against the work now being done in pursuance of their past recommendations. The committee should turn a deaf ear to the public clamor and do that which the circumstances indicate is necessary. We believe the committee has determined to make lasting and valuable improvements on the present building, and although many may condemn their efforts, they will finally see the wisdom of the committee. Our advice is to make strong and patient red.

A short time since a hound belonging to Mr. Pileher Smith became the mother of a litter of pups. After having done her part by her offspring, by watching over them for some time, she deserted them. An old goose that had been roaming about the premises, being attracted by the racket of the abandoned canines, took charge of them, huddled them together and spread her protecting wings round them. In short she played old mother goose to the little howlers. So devoted was she to them that it was exceedingly dangerous for man or beast to come near.—Bowling Green Times.

Dr. E. L. Grant, of this county, stands prominently among those who are seeking appointment as Collector of Internal Revenue in the Sixth District. His name is as familiar as household words, not only to the people of Boone, but is well and favorably known over almost the entire district. He is not known as an office seeker nor politician in the general acceptance of that word. It is by the rare qualities of his mental and moral character; his worth as a citizen, friend and neighbor, and his sterling integrity in all things, social as well as political, that he has succeeded in winning and keeping the esteem of all who come within the circle of his acquaintance. It is our wish—it is the wish of every Democrat in Boone county that Dr. Grant shall succeed in securing the position he seeks, and the Recorder is glad to raise her voice in behalf of no other man.

A Washington correspondent of the Buffalo Courier has this to say of Speaker Carlisle: "It is taken for granted here very generally by members of both parties that Mr. Carlisle will be speaker of the next House of Representatives. It is not at all probable that he will have any opposition in the democratic caucus. There are no indications that Mr. Randall intends to be a candidate for the Speakership nomination. Gentlemen who are recognized as his close personal friends frankly say that they do not think that he has any intention of engaging in another contest with Mr. Carlisle. The latter has grown stronger in the high regard and affection of not only his political associates, but also his political opponents. His ability, high character and extraordinary knowledge of public affairs, and his rare and remarkable talent for parliamentary law and procedure are the subject of constant favorable comment. In private conversation some of the Democratic members are disposed to criticize Speaker Carlisle for not using his position and influence in organizing and directing the Democratic majority of the House even in the daily proceedings. There are those that say he should shape a programme of legislation and should do everything in his power as Speaker to carry it out. But Mr. Carlisle does not think that the Speaker should be the 'bone' of the House and a dictator to his party associates; and while he gives the Democratic members, freely and candidly, his judgment and advice regarding legislative matters and party questions, he considers himself as in duty bound to be the Speaker of the entire House when speaking over deliberations, and he is as scrupulous in protecting the rights of the minority as in protecting the rights of the majority. A more high-minded and accomplished presiding officer never occupied the Speaker's chair.—Courier Journal.

Joe G. Revill can clearly demonstrate to any body who will listen to reason, that a bank here will in no wise conflict with Covington banks. There are many benefits to be derived from a bank at this place, and no better man than Joe Revill could have charge of it. He has had considerable experience in that line of business.

Black Clarkson and his traveling companion who left the Anchorage asylum together last week, were captured at William Cochran's in Carroll county, and returned to the asylum. Clarkson desired to escape into Indiana, but the ice in the river prevented his crossing, and during his trip his feet and ears were badly frozen. Black's going to Mr. Cochran's where he is well known, is not construed as an evidence of insanity, but is used as an argument against it. It is suspected he expected to be so considered though. There is no evidence as to his having attempted suicide while at large.

Boyd, Carter, and other counties in the eastern part of the State are greatly incensed at Lieutenant Governor Hindman for resigning Neal for thirty days. Neal had been taken to Grayson to be hung at one o'clock last Friday, but about midnight Thursday Gov. Hindman telegraphed the Sheriff of Carter county that he had granted a respite, and for him to remove the prisoner from Grayson at once. Thousands of people went to Grayson Friday to witness the execution and had Neal not been secretly moved the night before, he would have been hung by the excited people notwithstanding the respite. The indignation has now reached a pitch which will require the interposition of the militia in case Neal should again be sent to Grayson for hanging. The people up there consider justice has been greatly outraged, and unless he is protected by a strong guard Neal can not survive a return among them but a mere man. They are clamoring for his execution, and so thoroughly are they satisfied that he is guilty of the awful crime with which he is charged, that it would be next to an impossibility for anything to occur to change them.

people that our democratic principle needs no apology, and that in its fearless and faithful application it to be found the surest guarantee for good results in the operation of the Government. Every citizen has a share in its operation, and the proper limitation of its power is only possible with a correct appreciation of the times when the heat of the passion should be merged into the calm of reason. The Executive branch of the Government is transferred to new keeping. But this is still the Government of all the people, and it is impossible that it has an object of their affection and solicitude.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The following named gentlemen compose President Cleveland's Cabinet:

L. Q. C. LAMAR—Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. Lamar is one of the most influential of the Southern men. He is a native of Georgia and forty-nine years of age. He was educated at Oxford, Ga., and graduated at Emory College, in that State. He studied law at Keokuk, Ia., and was admitted to the bar in 1881.

made a partnership with a classmate, Henry F. Dimock. Whitney devoted himself without delay to getting into politics, and there by became the Corporation Counsel—an appellate officer on the town's highest court of record. The position had amounted to little for many years, but now it suddenly became important—partly because of the mass of litigation over fraudulent claims against the city, but largely through Whitney's ability, energy and shrewdness in dealing with the cases. He soon established his reputation as a lawyer, and he maintained it during his continuance in this office, which he at length voluntarily resigned. In business, too, he was successful.

The tables, window-sills, and the edges of book shelves in his law office in Utica used to be decorated with cigars strangely mutilated. He would put a cigar in his mouth wrong end to, carry it till in his abstraction he happened to remove it, and when he missed it, would take another from his vest pocket, and proceed to enjoy it in the same manner. It used to be said of him in his office that

Boone County Road Law.

That an annual tax of five cents on each hundred dollars' worth of property in Boone County, which, by law, is taxed for revenue purposes, and is hereby levied and imposed for the purpose of opening, repairing and keeping in repair the public roads in said county.

It shall be the duty of the assessor of Boone County, when he takes the list of taxable property of said county for each year, to note in his book the names of all persons owning lands in more than one agricultural district, the number of acres and value of same in each district, and in what district said lands are located.

It shall be the duty of the sheriff to collect the tax imposed by the first section of this act; but he shall proceed to do so, he shall execute bond, with sufficient security, to be approved by the county judge, for the faithful discharge of his duties. Which bond may be held upon in the name of the Commonwealth, for the use and at the costs of any person aggrieved by a violation of the same. But in the event the sheriff should fail to execute such bond and proceed to collect and did collect the road tax, then he and his sureties on his official bond shall be liable therefor.

The sheriff shall settle annually with the county judge, or a commissioner appointed by him for that purpose, in the month of February of each year, in regard to the road funds. The intention of such settlement is to determine how much money is in the hands of the sheriff for distribution for road purposes, the amount of money each agricultural district is entitled to, and also what amount of money each road district is entitled to, and upon such settlement being made, the same shall be entered as a public record upon the order book of the county court, and the county judge shall then make an order directing the sheriff to pay immediately to each incoming road surveyor appointed at the March term of the county court according to section six of this act, the several amounts of money shown by such settlement going to such surveyors. The sheriff shall be allowed five per cent. of the amount collected as compensation, and the judge or commissioner making the settlements shall be allowed five per cent. of the county judge.

Each agricultural district shall be divided into four road districts, each to have, as near as may be, without actual measurement and allotment, the same number of miles of public road, and the same number of persons to work thereon. The present division of roads and allotment of hands to remain until changed by the county court.

The county judge shall, at the regular March term of the county court in each year, appoint in each of said road districts a surveyor of roads, who shall be notified of his appointment by the sheriff within fifteen days thereafter.

It shall be the duty of each surveyor of roads to superintend the opening, repairing, and keeping in repair, all the public roads in his road district. He shall, between the first day of April and the first day of November in each year, notify each person in his road district who is required by law to work on public roads, of the time when and place where, he will work the road, and this notice must be given two days before the time fixed, and may be verbal. It shall be the duty of all such persons thus notified to attend, with proper implements, at the time and place fixed by the surveyor, and work for two full days upon the public roads; but any such person may, at the time he is notified, pay to the surveyor the sum of two dollars and he shall thereupon be exempt from working upon roads for that year, except as provided for in section nine of this act.

Any person liable to work upon public roads who shall, after due notice has been given him, fail to work two full days upon the same each year, as required, or to pay two dollars to the surveyor in lieu thereof, or who shall fail to work or pay any part of the same, shall be reported immediately by the surveyor to the county judge, who shall thereupon issue a warrant of arrest for and delinquent, directed to the sheriff, and any constable of Boone County, returnable to the county judge within ten days, and the said delinquent shall thereupon be fined at the rate of two dollars per day for each day or part of a day that he shall have failed to work, together with the costs of said proceedings. Provided, however, that said delinquent, at the request of his sureties, may be ordered to make good the cost of the proceedings against him; and he shall thereupon be discharged; and in order to enforce the provisions of this act, no property in the Commonwealth shall be exempt from execution.

All lands owned by the surveyors for road purposes shall be exempted upon the public roads in their respective districts between the first day of April and the first day of November in each year. They shall distribute the hands and the proceeds of said lands among the various roads of their districts, taking into consideration their condition, and the amount and kind of travel upon the same; and if at any time after having exhausted all their resources, and road, bridge, or culvert is in an unsafe and dangerous condition, they shall order out, without delay or previous notice, any hands liable to work upon said road, not exceeding two days, for the purpose of repairing the same; and any such person so notified and failing to work as required, shall be reported immediately to the county judge, and be subject to the same fines and penalties as a delinquent road-worker. Provided, however, that no person shall be so ordered out or required to work a second time who is not the owner or renter of lands, or a teamster, interested in the condition of said road.

Public roads in Boone County shall include the streets and alleys of towns, which are continuations of public roads, and are not included in the charter of a turnpike company. Surveyors of roads shall be allowed one dollar and fifty cents per day for their services, while actually engaged in notifying or superintending hands; but in no case shall they receive more than twenty dollars each for such services in any one year, which sum they may retain out of the road funds in their hands.

At the expiration of their terms of office, the several surveyors aforesaid shall make a report, in writing to the county court, of all their acts under this law, showing the amount of money received from whom received, the amount expended, to whom, and for what paid, and a list of all road-workers in their respective districts. They shall, at the time of filing their reports, pay all road funds in their hands into the county court, and said court shall order the same to be paid to the incoming surveyors in their proper districts.

Any surveyor of roads who shall fail to perform any of the duties devolving upon him by virtue of this act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense; and any officer failing to perform any of the duties required of him by virtue of this act shall be liable to a fine not to exceed ten dollars for each offense, in the discretion of the county judge, who shall have exclusive jurisdiction over all road cases. The county judge shall when he shall have received information by the affidavit of any person living in any road district in said county, or have knowledge of the failure of any surveyor of roads, or other officer, to perform any such duty, issue a rule against such delinquent surveyor or officer, to show cause why he has not performed such duty; and if sufficient cause be not shown, such surveyor or other officer may be compelled, by fine as aforesaid, to perform said duty; and in all cases where a rule is so issued the delinquent surveyor or officer shall pay the costs thereof.

All fines collected from any road-worker or surveyor of roads shall be paid into the county court by the officer collecting the same, and the court shall order the same to be paid to the surveyor in the delinquent's road district. All fines collected from any officer by virtue of this act shall likewise be paid into court, and shall go to the general fund for road purposes. The county judge may, for cause, remove any surveyor of roads, and upon such removal compel him to make a settlement of his account; he shall have the power to fill any vacancy that may occur, and it shall be his duty to see that the provisions of this act are enforced.

All acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

The career of the festive pistol, the cantankerous knife and the destructive torch, in Boone the past few months, attaches an odium to the county which it will take some time to remove, and causes the people, in their protestation against the too frequent use of deadly weapons and the pernicious torch, to proclaim that the criminal laws are inadequate. That the law is insufficient is a mistaken idea, for it is sufficiently comprehensive to meet and punish all offenses, the only trouble is to get it properly administered.

Boone County, Ky., March 10, 1885.
To the distribution of Federal aid, fines, for the discharge of the said delinquent, properly, be determined, in considering the claim of the applicant; but, this point conceded, every rule of fairness would seem to require that recognition be given to the various sections of the act, in the matter of appointments, just as geographical position has always been considered in filling the higher places under the General Government.

The application of Dr. E. L. Grant of Boone, to be made Revenue Collector of the sixth district of Kentucky, should have the hearty endorsement of the entire democracy of the county; to whom but few places, and none of general importance have ever been accorded.

No State official holding place by the suffrages of his fellow citizens, has ever been chosen from the county. No Judge of the highest court, nor of district or Circuit Courts—no Common Pleas or Circuit Courts—no officers above that of State Senator, has ever been bestowed upon one of her citizens, since the election of Maj. John P. Gaines to the Congress of the U. S. during the Mexican war, and while he was held as a prisoner in Mexico.

Since the days of Know-Nothingism, our representative in Congress, (where citizens of Boone have helped to elect) have been furnished with from among the talented gentlemen of Boone and Campbell counties; our Commonwealth's Attorneys were kindly given us by Owen, Franklin, Henry and Grant, and so on through the entire list.

No one will assert that this county has no citizen fitted by nature and acquirements, to hold these places; but we have been content to sit idly down and allow our more self-satisfied neighbors to reap all the honors of the party.

It would seem an opportune moment to repay these services, and it seems to the writer as at least a proper time to demand this tardy recognition.

Dr. Grant is in every way worthy of the appointment he is seeking. Possessor of fine ability, a high sense of honor and sterling honesty, he would bring credit to his friends, to the county and district; and would prove an additional guarantee of a successful Democratic administration.

To our friends in the other counties I therefore appeal for fair play. To our friends at home I appeal for an earnest and united effort to secure his appointment.

WE give you the law under which the roads are managed in this county. Save this copy of the paper for reference to the law.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN!

I have just opened up, in addition to my Ready-made clothing Department a fine

CLOTHING PARLOR,

Something that has never been practiced in cities less in population than such as New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and Cincinnati. In this parlor we place nothing but the finest Custom Tailor Work, in quality of goods as well as Style, Finish, and extra quality of the Linings and Trimmings. In this department young men that have been in the habit of getting Suits made to order, costing $35 to $48, can find what they want, not only in quality, but they can find a FIT, and the chances are you will find a better fit than you have been getting from the best tailors. Remember, I don't sell you tailors in this department as was ever sold by custom; I positively say you will find better goods in this section before, and invite your inspection, and to convince yourself, you are invited to examine them, whether you want to purchase or not. No deviation in price; one man pays the same as another.

LOT 5834 is a Black English Cloth, Corkscrew Pattern, Saeque Suit, with best silk lining, both in sleeves and throughout the coat, sewed with three buttons attached. The style of the pants will please anyone at first sight. Price $22. Breast measure 33 to 38. This Suit would not be made to measure by city cutters for less than $48.

LOT 5531 is an English Cloth, Corkscrew Pattern, made same style as Lot 5834. The color of this Suit is called in the country where the goods are made) Dublin, but would be called in our country wine-color. Price $19. Breast measure 33 to 38. Pants to fit either slim or heavy built persons. Suit will please on sight.

LOT 4431 is an English Goods, Corkscrew Pattern, Saeque Coat. We have it in three colors—Black, Brown and Dahlia—made to wear with three buttons attached. The fit of the Suit will please any young man that takes pride in Fine Clothing. Stylish goods, made and lined throughout in the most elegant manner. Price $18. I challenge anyone to get a suit made costing $35 that will come up to this in either Style, Fit, Workmanship or Durability and real worth. You are invited to examine them, whether you want to buy or not. I want you to know I keep them.

LOT 4314 is a Fine American Diagonal Suing, made as the above saques; Suit lined with best fur, and sewed with best cotton thread and has every appearance of the above line of suit, but is of American goods and has cheaper lining and thread, though it is made stout, American blue and neat; it really is a better Ready-made Suit than has ever been kept in any Ready-made Clothing Store in this vicinity, by either myself or anyone else. Price $15. Breast measure 34 to 42. It is better suit than any tailor in this vicinity can get up.

LOT 4534—This is a dandy. It is made of Fine English Cloth, Corkscrew Pattern. This is a Four Buttoned Cutaway, and comes in three different colors—Black, Brown and Dark Wine—is dressy and is called the "New Duke in Town." Price $19. Come and see them.

We have several other styles of Taylor Work in this Parlor that will be shown you when you come in.

Please bear in mind that the above suits are as I represent them, and if you want Fine Clothing you should call and convince yourself of the above facts. As sure as you buy one of those London Tailor-Made Suits you will come to this Parlor for the next suit. The price of these suits may appear high to you, but they are just as cheap as the above-named price as a spool of thread. The cost of the goods is $2 cents. This is a new enterprise in the United States and has been in existence here about two years only and their goods in small cities, as they will to every one that gets Clothing made to measure. As everyone that can get these English Goods at prices to suit the times in this country, they will undoubtedly buy them.

Eastern Made Clothing.

In addition to the London Tailor-Made Fine Clothing, we want to call your attention to our immense line of Eastern Made Clothing. We do not hesitate to say that we have the largest, best and cheapest lot of Men's Boys' and Children's clothing ever brought to this vicinity, all brought within the last four weeks, from parties that were compelled to sell their goods at a sacrifice to raise the "mighty dollar," so as to meet their obligations and save their credit.

We have on our counters a line of Men's Full Suits at $3 a suit, that cost $6 to $8 to manufacture.

Another full line of Men's Business and Dress Suits at $5 to $7, that actually cost to make them $3 to $11.

We can convince you at once that we have some of the Grandest Bargains in Ready-made Clothing ever placed before the people.

We have a line of Men's and Youth's Business and Dress Suits that we are going to sell for $10 and $12, which will compare with suits that you have been buying $45 to $20 for.

Also call your attention to our Boot and Shoes and Hats and Cap Departments. We work hard to secure bargains, and don't forget it, we get bargains, and our customers always have the benefit, which booms our sales. Respectfully,

A MYSTERIOUS PACKAGE.

Sent Through the Philadelphia Postoffice

to a Hospital Nurse.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 18.—An information capable of destroying at least a score of human lives, directed to Miss Alice Fisher, the head nurse at the Alms-house, was detected in the mail at the Sub-Postoffice in West Philadelphia

this morning. The deadly package was covered by Clerk Wilson about seven o'clock, while he was sorting the mail just closed, from the main office of the postoffice, and his suspicion was aroused

by hearing a clicking noise in the package, which was in the shape of a cigar.

Thinking that something was wrong, he hereof a part of the covering of the box, and lifting up a corner of the lid, a small clock-work and a number of parlor matches got to a bit of cardboard at the bottom. He was thoroughly alarmed, and placed the incriminating package in the hands of the postmaster,

and the arrival of Superintendent

Dr. Barber, who, at first, was disposed to laugh at the discovery, but when he saw the mysterious box and got a glimpse of its contents, however, he became very serious. He immediately

In the Dearborn county, Indiana, Infirmary, a few days since one lunatic beat another's brains out with a pair of tongs. The lunatics kept in that institution are considered harmless.

We learn from farmers that it is not probable that a large crop of tobacco will be planted, but more of other things will be raised. In other words farmers are returning to the true theory of farming—Carrollton Democrat.

At the primary election in Carroll county last Saturday, Hon. T. J. McElrath was nominated as the Democratic candidate for the legislature, defeating Judge Cox 105 votes.

McElrath represented his district in the Senate some years since.

It is said that Gen. John S. Williams wants to be Minister to Mexico. The General distinguished himself in that country once, and no doubt he is as well qualified for the position as any one the President may be solicited to appoint.

Some of the convicts in the Kentucky penitentiary have been engaged making counterfeit nickels. The number, made of plaster, and a quantity of the spurious coins were recovered. Three of the convicts were running the business.

THE Chief of Police in Louisville made it too hot for the gamblers that infest that city, and they have all disappeared, and that very suddenly. The Louisville Commercial has been waging a vigorous war on that class for some time, and it now has the satisfaction of seeing the good result of its efforts.

WHEN the next legislature meets it will find enough general legislation needing its prompt attention to furnish work enough for a reasonable session, but as is always the case a flood of local measures will sweep down upon the statesmen who will find it exceedingly difficult to find any time to devote to business of a general character.

It is very evident that Mr. Cleveland intends taking his time in changing the occupants of subordinate offices. To make a complete change is a very large task, and one which he has done too hastily might result to the disadvantage of the administration. There are some officials, however, who will have to walk the plank in very short order.

DANIEL W. LEWIS, a colored lawyer, of Prince William county, Virginia, wants the position of Minister to Liberia. His claims are based upon the fact that in 1870 he became the first colored man to be admitted to the bar in that State, and in 1880 he attended the State of Virginia for Hancock and English, and again last year for Cleveland and Hendricks.

In this country the losses by the burning of buildings and their contained property are about one hundred millions of dollars per annum, and the losses of lumber by the burning of forests are estimated at three hundred millions of dollars. In all, four hundred millions of dollars, these enormous losses are stopped, the country would soon grow very rich.

Is the Kentucky scramble for a gubernatorial appointment, the legislature not entirely lost sight of the offices to be filled next August, and there will be an average crop of candidates in the field. We notice that some of those who imagined that all they had to do was "to knock and it should be opened unto them," have realized their mistake, and are now signifying their willingness to accept an office which is at the disposal of home people.

The medical world is drifting in the direction of belief in vaccination as a sure prevention against yellow fever infection. The experiment is in its infancy, but is promising of good results. Dr. Fricker, of Rio Janeiro, by permission of the Emperor of Brazil, has vaccinated five hundred persons, including three ship captains and the crews of three English vessels, all of whom have been exposed to the disease which is prevailing in that city. Up to a date several weeks after the vaccination, not a single person thus treated, had contracted the disease, nor had any bad results ensued.

For the first time since the winter of 1883 Mr. Blaine visited the White House last Friday evening. Mr. Blaine was not an unexpected visitor. He had asked for an appointment to suit the President's convenience, and had been asked to come at an hour when the President would be least likely to be interrupted. His visit was not a hurried one. He held long enough to congratulate Mr. Cleveland, to explain his absence from the inauguration ceremony caused by the death of his sister, in Baltimore, and to entertain the President, with brisk conversation about men and things.

THE Japanese dentist does not frighten his patient with any array of steel instruments. All of his operations in tooth-drawing are performed by the thumb and forefinger of one hand. The skill necessary to do this is only acquired after long practice, but once it is obtained the operator is able to extract a half dozen teeth in about thirty seconds without once removing his fingers from the patient's mouth. The dentist's education commences with the pulling out of pegs which have been pressed into soft wood; it ends with the drawing of hard pegs which have been driven into an oak plank with a mallet. A writer in the Union Medicalist says that no human jaw can resist the delicate but powerful manipulations of the Japanese dentist.

THE Frankfort Yeoman says: "There were audited on yesterday (Wednesday) and paid out of the State Treasury idiots claims amounting to $1,191.25, all from one county." This was the semi-annual allowance for the support of thirty-four idiots. Among this lot were seven new ones. At this rate, how long will it be before the idiots are in the majority in that county? And may not this be a key to the systematic robbery of the treasury, of which the readers of the Commercial have heard so much? Will the legislature have the nerve to repeal the law under which such outrages are perpetrated, and relegated to the counties the care of the few of this class of poor unfortunate who are really objects of pity? Repeat the idiot law and stop this fraud."

This Auditor has sent to the sheriffs, circulars urging them to push the collection of the tax as rapidly as possible, and as it is now but a few days till the first of April, the time when the per cent, has to be added to those who have not paid their taxes, can save a big interest on their money by settling with the sheriff without further delay. Tobacco and other crops may fail in quantity or in price, but taxes are a certainty, and their early adjustment is the better for those owing them as well as for the Commonwealth. Many persons entertain the State for being out of funds and at the same time have not paid their taxes for one and possibly more years. If the taxes are paid as soon as due there would be no room for so much complaint about the severity of State funds.

THE New York Graphic says: "Let us hope that the President's ardent admirers will not exhaust themselves before he comes to the larger reforms which the people expect. Let them not, either, become impatient. The lapping off of several sinners directly under the eye of the President, the dropping of forty or fifty useless clerks in the Treasury Department and several dismissals from other branches of public affairs ought to be considered good work for the first ten days of the new administration, especially as much of that time has been taken up with hand-shaking when unknown people have imposed on the President and Cabinet. The greater reforms, greater because pertaining to larger expenditures of the public funds—will come in due course of time. Let the new men 'get the hang of the barn.'"

Twenty-four hogheads of tobacco were shipped from here Wednesday, the largest shipment of the season. —Warren Independent.

A Boyle county farmer sold 700 bushels of wheat last week at $1.10 per bushel for April delivery.

The establishment of the whip business in Kentucky becomes a question of increasing interest as the legislative canvass progresses. Already a number of candidates have declared themselves in its favor, meeting the approval of some of the best county papers, and it is probable that a whipping-post bill will be offered at the next session. Such a bill failed of passage a few years since only through the vote of the President of the Senate. Meanwhile the evils which suggest the need of the whipping-post have increased, rather than diminished, so that it need not be unexpected if the lash should be restored as a punishment for petty crimes. At present imprisonment in the penitentiary is imposed for crimes of such low degree that this institution is always overcrowded. The county jails, too, are seldom lacking for inmates. They are not so desirable retreats for many worthless characters who feel no shame in being prisoners, while being well fed in idleness is preferred to labor of any kind.

It is not surprising that the prevalence, in so many sections, of property thieves and other crimes against which the ordinary penalties have no effect, should lead honest citizens to favor any measure promising relief. The whipping post will be opposed by many on general principles, but these objectors have failed to suggest any measure more desirable which can be depended upon as effective.

The question now seems to be whether Kentucky will submit long to the annoyances we have described in preference to the sentimental objection that the whipping-post is barbarous. —Louisville Commercial.

The office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue did not come to Kentucky. Phil Thompson's pole was not long enough to reach the peninsula, but a fellow over in West Virginia, by the name of Joseph S. Miller, did reach it, and was, in all probability, confirmed yesterday. The objections to Thompson was that he is too closely identified with the whiskey interest.

The Fable of the Jackasses. A long time ago the jackasses, assembled and prayed Jupiter to send them a king. He accordingly sent them a beautiful colt; but no sooner had he appeared among them than they all laid back their ears, and, in a moment, they were all gone. Jupiter, inquiring why they did not like their king, they replied that his ears were too short, his limbs too slender, his head too little, and that he was, in fact, in every way, ill shaped and ugly, besides, said they, we want a king of our own choice and kind, a true jackass, the most perfect of our species.

Jupiter granted their petition. They immediately chose the jackass with the biggest head, the heaviest limbs, the longest ears, the coarsest and roughest hair, a dirty brown color, and the most stupid appearance.

They pronounced him the most beautiful and perfect of his species, and immediately placed him on an eminence that all might see and admire his beauty. Then having voted loud cheers for their king, they set out on a prying, so deafening that all our animals of the vicinity, thinking that a thousand lions must be roaring in great dismay, but, having recovered a little from their terror, they ventured cautiously to the top of a neighboring hill, and peeping timidly over, when, to their utter amazement they saw only a vast assembly of braying jackasses.

MORAL—Good people need not be alarmed at all this noise in the world about Bob Ingersoll; it is only the jackasses sounding the praises of their king. —S.

Five prisoners assaulted jailer Berry at Louisville, Lawrence county, and overpowered him, escaped. He was struck on the head and very dangerously wounded.

The editors of the Danville Advocate have talked with many farmers concerning the wheat prospect, and find the opinion general that the ear-dilled is not materially injured, but the late broadcast has been badly thrown up, and will do no good. A number of farmers will plow up these fields and put in oats and other spring crops.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I have just opened up, in addition to my Ready-made clothing Department a fine

CLOTHING PARLOR,

Something that has never been practiced in cities less in population than such as New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and Cincinnati. In this parlor we place nothing but the Finest Custom Tailor Work, in quality of goods as well as Style, Finish, and extra quality of the Linings and Trimmings. In this department young men that have been in the habit of getting Suits made to order, costing $35 to $45, can find what they want not only in quality, but they can find a FIT, and the chances are you will find a better fit than you have been getting from the best tailors. Remember, I don't say you will find as good goods in this department as was ever sold by custom, but I positively say you will find better goods in this Parlor than were ever sold in this section before, and invite your inspection, and to convince yourself, you are invited to examine them, whether you want to purchase or not. No deviation in price; one man pays the same as another.

LOT 5384 is a Black English Cloth, Corkscrew Pattern, Sack Suit, with best silk lining, both in sleeve and throughout the coat, sewed with best Tailors' Silk. The style of the pants will please anyone at first sight. Price $22. Breast measure 33 to 35. This Suit would not be made to measure by city cutters for less than $48.

LOT 5384 is an English Cloth, Corkscrew Pattern, made same style as Lot 5381. The color of this Suit is called in the country where the goods are made) Dalila, but would be called in this country wine color. Price $19. Breast measure 33 to 35. Pants to fit either slim or heavy built person. Suit will please on sight.

LOT 4314 is an English Goods, Corkscrew Pattern, Sack Suit. We have it in three colors—Black, Brown and Dalila—made to wear with three buttons buttoned. The fit of the Suit will please any young man that takes pride in Fine Clothing; stylish goods, made and lined throughout in the most elegant manner. Price $15. I challenge anyone to get a suit made costing $35 that will come up to this in either Style, Fit, Workmanship or Durability and real worth. You are invited to examine these, whether wanting to buy or not. I want you to know I keep them.

LOT 4314 is a Fine American Diagonal Suing, made as the above except. Suit lined with best farmers' satin and sewed with best cotton thread and has every appearance of the above line of suits, but is of American goods and has cheaper lining and thread, though it is made stout, serviceable and neat; in fact, it is really a better Ready-made Suit than has ever been kept in any Ready-made Clothing Store in this vicinity, by either myself or anyone else. Price $15. Breast measure 34 to 42. It is better suited than any tailor in this vicinity can get up.

LOT 4314—This is a dandy. It is made of Fine English Cloth, Corkscrew Pattern. This is a Four Buttoned Cutaway, and comes in three different colors—Black, Brown and Dark Wine—is dressy and is called the "New Duke in Town." Price $18. Come and see them.

We have several other styles of Taylor Work in this Parlor that will be shown when you come in.

Please bear in mind that the above suits are as I represent them, and if you want Fine Clothing you should call and convince yourself of the above facts. As sure as you buy one of those London Tailor-Made Suits you will come to this Parlor for the next suit. The price of these suits may appear high to you, but they are just as cheap as the above-named price as a spool of thread in the United States. —Has been in existence here about two years only and only in the large cities, and they find that large sales can be made of their goods in small cities, as they will to every one that gets Clothing made to measure. As everyone that can get these English Goods at prices to suit times in this country, they will undoubtedly buy them.

WM. COLTER has the exclusive right of selling the London Tailor Made Clothing in Ohio, Switzerland and Boone county.

Yours Truly, Wm. COLTER.

Eastern Made Clothing. In addition to the London Tailor Made Fine Clothing, we want to call your attention to our immense line of Eastern Made Clothing. We do not hesitate to say that we have the largest, best and cheapest lot of Men's Boys' and Children's clothing ever brought to this vicinity, all bought within the last four weeks, from parties that were compelled to sell their goods at a sacrifice to raise the "almighty dollar," so as to meet their obligations and save their credit.

We have on our counters a line of Men's Full Suits at $3 a suit, that cost $5 to $8 to manufacture.

Another full line of Men's Business and Dress Suits at $5 to $7, that actually cost to make them $3 to $11.

We can convince you at once that we have some of the Grandest Bargains in Ready-made Clothing ever placed before the people.

We have a line of Men's and Youth's Business and Dress Suits that we are going to sell for $10 and $12, which will compare with suits that you have been paying $15 to $20 for.

Also call your attention to our Boot and Shoes and Hats and Cap Departments. We work hard to secure bargains, and don't forget it, we get bargains, and our customers always have the benefit, which boosts our sales. Respectfully,

APPALLING DISASTER.

Mr. Lewis Ayler's Farm-house in Ashes, and his aged Mother-in-Law, Mrs. Blankenbaker, Falls a Victim to the Destroying Elements.

We can appreciate the particulars of the terrible scene as we have just learned from Elder Ed Stephens, who had just returned from the scene.

Mr. Ayler's house was situated on the south side of the Florence and Union pike about 2 miles from Union.

The building was substantial and comfortable, and was a fine specimen of a half-story of 7 or 8 rooms, well furnished, also porches in front.

After the death of Ephraim Blankenbaker, his wife and the mother of the three, Mrs. Lewis Ayler, and it was more than a year ago that she died.

Mr. Ayler built for his mother-in-law a suitable home of one story, in a proximity to his own, just near the old one, and the families lived together until the late fall.

Mr. Ayler would find that the old lady would find that she was a good housewife. We understand it that the old lady would find that she was a good housewife.

The Jail as Remodeled.

The County Jail is a structure which in the past has elicited much criticism, and has been a special target for the grand jury for two or three years last past, and it is now being remodeled.

REVOLUTION IN STEEL.

Old Style But and Lath Tapping Reverses and Aqueducts to be Supplanted by a Drains Article.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 26.—Some time since it was announced that a contract had been entered into by a New York syndicate, with the delivery of 50,000 tons of drawn steel tubing at $80 per ton, the tubing being manufactured by a new method, which was being patented by Mr. Kelley.

The Kelley Pipe-making process, the idea of which was thought of by Mr. Kelley, is a new method of making steel tubing, which is said to be a great improvement on the old method.

EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

Local News.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Boone County is requested to meet at the Court-house in Burlington, Kentucky, at 1 o'clock on Monday, April 18th, 1893. Business of importance is to be considered, and a full attendance is requested. J. G. FURNISH, Chairman.

The sun will begin next week. Sunday was a very trying day. Good and bad days alternated last week.

Spring chickens have put in their appearance.

Some little political buttonholing was done Monday.

The crowd in town Monday was large, quiet and sober.

Thanks to W. H. Pope for a sack of delicious apples.

Saturday and Sunday's sun made the grass begin to come.

Rev. Froh will preach in Burlington next Sunday evening.

The honey bees have been on the wing several days of late.

The jail will have done its best appearance by next Monday.

The sheriff is about through circulating circuit court literature.

The fish mongers made their appearance on the streets last week.

There is a division of opinion as to the prospects for fruit this year.

The lively men had all the customers they could accommodate Sunday.

Some of the farmers have sown to oats the land on which wheat was sown last fall.

If the business should require it, the next term of circuit court can continue for three weeks.

The court of appeals last week affirmed the decision of the lower court in the Woolper bridge case.

Lemon's saw mill passed through town on its way to Menzies, where it will be located for the future.

The grain has taken on a green tinge and is apparently anxious to start on its spring and summer nibble.

One of the most successful cattle doctors of the day, H. Hayes Dunbar, of Freedom, Owen county, Indiana.

There will be preaching at the Baptist church in East River next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, by Rev. Curran.

We have noticed quite a number of farmers buying tobacco cases recently, with which to protect their plant beds.

The petit jurors are not summoned to appear until the second day of the April term of court, which is next Tuesday.

Some of the boys are packing their grip-sacks preparatory to taking a little pleasure trip during the deliriousness of the big sixteen next week.

Judge Riddell showed his appreciation and admiration of Dr. Morgan, by attending his opera concert with the other little boys of the town.

The docket for the approaching term of circuit court is made up as follows: Old equity cases 50, new 40; old common law 5, new 29; new indictments 64.

Dr. Morgan was in town several nights last week, and each evening he gave an open air entertainment with banjo and song to advertise and sell his medicines.

Owing to the severe weather the past winter (we think we can venture to call it past) much food was required for stock, and it is very difficult to buy food now.

We are informed that Marce Riddell only went home to take charge of his hens until after Easter, and that he put them in pens and some laid eggs and some none.

The early spring frosts commenced their clatter last week. They sang melodiously (?) as though their throats had not been closed by one of the severest winters.

Judge Riddell commenced planting garden last week. Beets, peas, lettuce and onions he planted. Mr. Ben Rouse was engaged in the same business at the same time.

Remarked by Dr. C. J. Oliver, of Allen P. O. Hillsdale co., that "nothing gave my rheumatism such quick relief as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil." For sale by W. F. McKim.

Burlington boasts of a meat store, a boarding house, an undertaker's establishment and a law office all under a single roof. That seems to be a centralizing of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap's entertainment given at this place last Thursday and Friday nights was quite interesting, the programme being exactly what they had announced it would be.

A very malignant type of sore throat has appeared among the children in the Petersburg neighborhood. Dr. Ed Terrill has his little girl, with it.

George Blythe, of Rodeale, can not express his excited feelings of pride since the arrival of that embryo voter at his house. The young man arrived on the 24th inst in time for late breaks.

Enquirer & Huey's literary stable furnished a nice tourney as any stable in Covington can, and already are they doing a much better business than the moss-backs prophesied they could ever do here.

Mr. Mash Carpenter's horses attached to his wagon ran off Saturday and threw him out, leaving him quite severely, rendering him unconscious for some time, but at last accounts he was getting along nicely.

Last Monday B. J. Rouse received his commission as postmaster at Pleasant X-Roads, but you must bear in mind that the name of the office at that point is Llanaburg.

Go to Hurchcraft & Co., Lawrenceburg, Indiana, for tombstones and monuments. They never fail to give satisfaction in style, price and workmanship. John Beall, of Hebron, is their agent.

The auditor has furnished the county clerk with sheets for the assessor's book which are arranged entirely different from those heretofore used at that book, and which will greatly increase the labor of preparing the book.

Those living on dirt roads will not be exposed, this spring, to the inconveniences of a prolonged annoyance with impassable highways. The ground has been thawed out so gradually, and under such favorable conditions that the road will not get as bad as usual.

The Aurora Spectator is urging the business men of that place to assist in providing a steam ferry boat at that point. The Spectator is evidently correct in its assertion that it would be greatly to the advantage of the merchants and others to have a steam ferry.

Last week deputy sheriff German visited Constance for about the 47th time, to make some arrests for Circuit Court, and was returning home, his usual course, a popular road down Dunbar, powder creek to the Rabbit Hash grange. Commissioners filed report on proposition of Dr. Adams and others to make a change in a public road.

George Stamer and Robert Allen, supervisors of roads in Walnut district, filed their reports.

Owen Minor's will probated. M. S. Rice, James Donnelly and L. W. Lanning appeared to view a change in public road as proposed by H. Hicks. Trustees Riggis released from paying poll tax on account of age.

Edgar Cropper granted permission to erect gates across the Bruce's mill road. Commissioners filed report in the O'Neal land division.

Our young friend, Charles Rice, is attending Kentucky's Business College in Cincinnati. He is studying stenography, which, to complete, generally requires a course of ten months, but by his own industry this winter, Charles acquired such proficiency that he will be able to get a diploma in two months. Industry is always rewarded.

We will send the Enquirer one year free to any person who will trace all the lines in the above figure, passing over no line nor portion of a line twice, and making the pencil not to exceed three inches. Joe Reed says he will do it in one dozen good eggs.

The report that Bert Clow who killed Thomas Furlong, intended to surrender and have his examining trial at Hebron last Saturday, was circulated on the streets last week. The report was confirmed by the summoning of the witnesses of the defendant, but no notice of the trial was given the county attorney, consequently he ordered no witnesses summoned. There was nothing done Saturday, and it was then reported that the examining trial would be held yesterday, but the county attorney was not advised that any such proceedings would be had, and did not go out. When our friends collected nothing had been heard as to what was done Tuesday.

Hox, W. B. Adams.

County Court.

Monday was a beautiful day, and a very large crowd attended court, while there was a lively scene on the streets all day. The agricultural implement man entertained a large crowd with the middle of new inventions with which he will supply the farmers, while those that have axes and palms collected around Dr. Morgan, enjoyed his songs, heard of the wonderful cures performed by his nostrums and bought his medicines quite liberally. Mr. Hox, the inventor of the contrivance for gathering apples had his crowd to entertain, and John M. Moody's four-horse-power voice could be distinctly heard at the utmost parts of town as he would cry out, "How much can I offer for this nice young horse?" "Start it up at something if nothing more than a drink." The buggy makers and the tombstone men were bounding their business, and the sheriff was ready to write and sign a receipt for the delinquent tax payer who had delayed settling his obligation to the State five per cent had caught him.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock the annual exhibition of horses took place on the streets. There were about a dozen of the noble animals and the show was one of the best ever witnessed in Burlington.

While everything was bustling on the streets, but little was done in court as witnesses the following: J. D. McNeely, G. L. Smith and Joseph Riddell appointed to view the route of a proposed road down Dunbar, powder creek to the Rabbit Hash grange. Commissioners filed report on proposition of Dr. Adams and others to make a change in a public road.

George Stamer and Robert Allen, supervisors of roads in Walnut district, filed their reports.

Owen Minor's will probated. M. S. Rice, James Donnelly and L. W. Lanning appeared to view a change in public road as proposed by H. Hicks. Trustees Riggis released from paying poll tax on account of age.

Edgar Cropper granted permission to erect gates across the Bruce's mill road. Commissioners filed report in the O'Neal land division.

Our young friend, Charles Rice, is attending Kentucky's Business College in Cincinnati. He is studying stenography, which, to complete, generally requires a course of ten months, but by his own industry this winter, Charles acquired such proficiency that he will be able to get a diploma in two months. Celebrated Collection of Monard Builders' Utensils.
The State Geologist showed a re-

on Saturday the nature and use of a large number of the mounds' implements. This collection comprises eleven thousand pieces of earthenware, fashioned by the ancient dwellers in Indiana and Ohio. They are from the valleys of the Ohio and Wabash, many of them from Madisonville, O. Mr. Hill was thirty years in buying and sorting them out of an enormous

There are axes, hoes, axes, hammers, grinders, sleds, skinning stones, knives, axes and spear points. They amount to an emblematic history of the domestic, religious and political life of the builders and the people.

the heaviest implement—pestles, two long, from which they rolled their shiny and soft, new corn; grinders in which they made a corn, hard as roots into meal—are of white. The hoes, knives, spades, and axes are of flint. The pipes, totems, and spinning spindles, and shuttle-in spinning, and all the personal ornaments are of the beautiful layered banded ribbon slate stone—a hard firm rock, very hard some when rubbed. The great totems, “e-lumet,” “peace pipes” of the different tribes very striking. They are as large as a kettle. Each tribe had its own, after which it fashioned its great staffs and ornaments. The eagle, loon, bear, fox and dog are all repre-

WITHIN the last nine years 800 churches have been destroyed by fire in America.

A Virginia paper which has an idea that Cleveland is trying to form a new party suggests that it be called the Surprise party.

A MYSTERIOUS disease, with many of the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, is agitating medical circles as well as residents of Cleveland.

EX-GOVERNOR WALLER of Connecticut, who goes as consul-general to London, used to sell newspapers on the streets of New York.

It is now three and a half years since Garfield was buried. All this time a squad of sixteen men have guarded his grave in Cleveland.

THE Secretary of War, Mr. Endicott, has notified the clerks in his department that they must pay the debts contracted on account of their official position or leave.

The first legal hanging that ever occurred in Floyd county was last Friday, when Gus Fenley was hanged for killing James Hunt in 1883, while trying to shoot another man.

THE Cadiz Telephone wants the press to agitate the subject of a whipping-post until the Legislature will enact a law providing that it shall be the penalty inflicted for certain offenses.

Two straight-shoot Republicans who own a lock mill at Stafford Springs, Conn., have been successful that if Cleveland was successful they would shut down. Their mill is now running night and day. Half a dozen similar instances are reported from various parts of New England.

JOHN WILLIAMS, confined in the county jail for the murder of Maj. Rothwell two years and a half ago, and who made a full confession of the deed last summer, implicating Moss, Morgan and Bill McDonald, is rapidly losing his mind, and the attending physician pronounces the trouble troubling of the brain.—Owen News.

MAJ. H. S. HALE, of Mayfield, declines to become a candidate for State Treasurer on business engagements, and the fact that to make a canvass of the State would either do him more harm or benefit than the office was worth. Will L. Crab, of Eminence, and J. W. Tate, the present incumbent, are the only candidates now announced for the Democratic nomination.

THE Third Assistant Postmaster General is getting ready for the issue of a new postage stamp to be used by newspapers, the postage of which has been reduced from two cents to one cent a pound. The stamp will be of the same general character as the series now in existence, which ranged from two to ten cents in denominations. The reduction of newspaper postage goes into effect on July 1.

THE grand jury compiled anything but a complimentary history of the morals of this county for the past six months. The last jury had only nine members to deal with, but at this term the jury overhauled a higher grade of offenses and turned out some very ugly indictments, the like of which we trust will not be repeated in the history of Boone county. Let us hereafter have peace on our borders.

MR. Cleveland has thus far followed out the plans he indicated at and before his inauguration, and to those some are impatient to see the Republicans "fired" and their particular friends put in, the President recognizes the importance of exercising the greatest care in making appointments and is disposing of the business in a manner calculated to result in the most good for the country.

THE Virginia Conference of the African Methodist Church closed at Abington last week. About 100 members were present, including some of the most distinguished colored men in the United States. In the report of the committee on the State of the Country, reference was made to President Cleveland's election and his sentiment toward the colored race. At this point the Conference and visitors became very enthusiastic and burst into loud applause.

A CONFERENCE of "representative business men of the whole country" will be held at Atlanta, Georgia, on the 18th of May. The general object is to consider the most effective means to promote the business interests of the United States. Commercial and reciprocity treaties, a national bankruptcy law, the compulsory coinage of silver, and railway transportation, are some of the subjects to be discussed.

The new Maine prohibitory law went into effect April 6. Traveling salesmen, or "drummers," are forbidden by it to solicit orders for liquors, and there are no longer fines imposed in the case of intoxication; drunkards will be imprisoned from five to 30 days for the first offense, and from ten to 90 days for a second offense. It is reported that "bottle carriers" have again become quite a feature in the State, as they have only a bottle at a time given them, from which they peddle out drinks.—Tolledo Blade.

Painting a town red has become a familiar expression, but painting the inhabitants is something of a novelty. Saturday night a party of men caught a couple of colored girls of disreputable character, and proceeded to paint their faces a bright red, and then, having done so, they would leave the town. This element of our population have been making themselves offensively conspicuous lately, and it is said that there is a determination among many of our people to rid the town of them.—Lebanon Times.

CHOLERA has appeared from time to time during the winter in Paris and elsewhere in France, and a few cases have recently been found in Toledo. When hot weather comes, it will again start on its destructive march. It may cross the Atlantic within two months, and probably will do so. In this country ready for it? Every cellar and house, back yard, outhouse, street and alley, needs thorough and complete cleaning and disinfection immediately, and the same work kept up throughout the warm season. To fail to do this is to invite the presence of the plague.

MR. Beck's explanation of his conduct in signing a recommendation for Mr. Beck and then opposing him for the Peruvian Mission is characteristic, amusing and satisfactory.

MR. Beck says he signed the recommendation of Mr. Beck at the instance of a friend; that afterward Mr. Beck called upon him to secure Mr. Beck's active interest, and explain to him that he was especially anxious to have the appointment to Peru, as the ambition of his life was to write a book on Peruvian bugs, or the bugs of Peru.

This was enough for Mr. Beck. He thought a Minister Plenipotentiary should have some higher object or aim in view in representing his country at a foreign court than a study of its bugs; and after advising Mr. Beck and urging him not to press his claims, but finding him determined in his wild passion for bugs thereupon he opposed his nomination. Back on bugs would no doubt be quite a catchy title, but bugs by Beck or Beck's bugs would either do probably as well.—Lexington Transcript.

COORATIONS of value may be gleaned by observant politicians from recent circumstances connected with the distribution of offices at Washington. In the first place it is best not to too accommodating in signing petitions or writing letters for Mr. Beck's campaign, as witness Mr. Beck's experience with Mr. Beck.

In the next place men who hope for a political future should be before in their own minds what they believe and are willing to stick to before making speeches at local meetings intended to regulate other than local affairs, as witness the case of Mr. Kelley, of Richmond, Va., appointed Minister to Italy. Quite a number of years ago, when Victor Emmanuel marched into Rome and made it the capital of Italy, and put an end to the temporal power of the Pope, the Roman Catholics of Richmond had a meeting, in which they denounced the proceeding in very strong resolutions, not at all diplomatic in their phrasing. Mr. Kelley was on the committee, and made a speech in which he reported the resolutions, in which he was very denunciatory of the Italian Government. It is reported that the attention of the Italian Government has been called to these proceedings, and that the Italian Minister has signified to our State Department that it will not be agreeable to the Italian Government for Mr. Kelley to represent the United States at Rome.

Now we have no idea that Mr. Kelley has ever cared two cents about the matter since he made the speech and reported the resolutions. We do not suppose he cared at the time any more than was necessary to warm him up to making an eloquent speech.

It was not the Italian Government he was so much as it was the war and the spirit of the Roman Catholic community of Richmond. He was probably playing the devil's game a little, and now his success is troubling him. Politicians must learn to be more careful.—Louisville Commercial.

The effort to start a bank at this place is now being made, and in the next ninety days as many of the moneyed men in the county will be called on, as possible, and those who are not visited in that time, are invited to assist in the enterprise by taking stock.

That a bank in Burlington will pay can not be doubted, when the advantages of the surroundings are considered, and compared with those of neighbor counties where banks are doing well.

Warsaw, the county seat of Gallatin county, has a prosperous bank, which has much competition on both sides of the river.

Owenton has two banks and New Liberty one, all of which are making money for the owners of the stock.

Williamstown has two banks and is proving a very profitable investment.

Neither of the above named banks are as favorably located for general patronage as one at Burlington would be, and yet the stock in each is away above par and are paying dividends ranging from seven to ten per cent. So well are the stockholders in each of these banks placed with their investments, none of the stock is for sale, except in cases where a stockholder sells to relieve himself of embarrassments brought on by some other business.

Boone has equally as much money as either Gallatin, Grant or Owen, and basing our opinion on the statements of those interested in the banks in those counties, we are sanguine that a bank in Burlington would pay.

Some of the fields of wheat are beginning to take on a healthier appearance. A larger acreage will be in hemp this season than for some years previous. The plows are running when the weather permits, and the ground stirring up nicely. Georgetown Times.

Many farmers have plowed up a large part of their wheat and will raise other crops on the ground. The reports of the bad condition of the wheat crop have not been exaggerated. Much of it is now almost entirely killed by the severe winter.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Nearly all the hemp and tobacco raised in Clark county has been sold and during the past week the town has been filled with wagons delivering the crop. Tobacco planters have been busy the past week burning bolls, and the outlook there will be a larger crop raised this year than last.—Winchester Sun.

Nearly, if not quite, one-half of the wheat crop of this county has been destroyed by the severe winter. The young clover and timothy have likewise been killed.—Jessemine Journal.

Farmers are satisfied that the wheat yield can not be large this year—broadcast sowing almost a complete failure, while that which is drilled is badly frozen out.—Nelson Record.

We are informed that the ground is breaking up finely this season. The severe frozes of the winter have had the effect to pulverize the soil, and it can be gotten in good condition for the spring crops.—Danville Advocate.

Farmers in this county who have begun breaking up ground report that the ground was never in better condition than now. Many farmers are greatly behind, but some of them have sown their oats.—Ballist Pioneer.

The wheat crop in Fayette county is almost a total failure. Hundreds of acres of wheat are being plowed up, and the ground will be sown in hemp or planted in corn. The wheat is winter killed.

The wheat in Mason county is in a better condition than has been reported. Many fields that were thought to have been entirely ruined by the cold weather are looking much better, and will produce part of a crop at least.

The severe winter was so hard on the wheat that we will have a very light crop of it in this county. Some farmers are plowing it up, and we have heard that one crop near Allensville was sold for less than one dollar per acre.—Todd Co. Progress.

BUCHANAN'S DRUG STORE, Petersburg, Ky.

THE COMBINATION FENCE

A fence that is wanted, and in time will be used by every one that wants a fence, either around the House, Garden or Farm, as it is cheap, durable and serviceable, to keep in check horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens, etc., and restrain wolves, dogs, and rabbits, etc.

Having all the advantages of a picket fence in restraining animals from jumping, and not so liable to decay, and at much less cost, and no bars to injure valuable stock, thus placing it far in advance of any other fence now in use, hence it must be the fence of the future; all who have it want more.

It is portable and can be removed from field to field by drawing staples from posts, taking out the splice lath and rebundling it. We offer this fence for sale in bundles of five and six rods at Burlington.

The COURIER-JOURNAL for 1885

An Organ of Living Issues, Living Ideas and Moral Forces and an Enemy of Monopolies, Oligarchies and the spirit of the Law.

The Courier-Journal is the acknowledged Representative Newspaper of the South and the West. It is the only paper in the South and the West that is not a party paper, as is the case with the people by the law.

If you are unacquainted with it take a subscription to it as to its merit as a great family and political newspaper. In point of quality and quantity of its news reading matter it leads the newspaper press of the South and the West. It contains the latest news of the world, the latest news of the South and the West, the latest news of the South and the West.

It is a paper of the South and the West, and it is a paper of the South and the West. It is a paper of the South and the West, and it is a paper of the South and the West.

The proposition is now before the people and it is with them whether or not the necessary money is subscribed.

superstition that ghosts visit the dead, which gives plausibility to its existence. notice the children of dinmor with their mothers care, and omits to notice the father in his dinner parties of six, or twenty. the mother, and omits, also, to note the father, which make gaps in every path of mankind. Equally absurd is the superstition that to cross a funeral procession is an omen of evil. The ignorance, and superstition had its widest field for action in everything pertaining to death and the grave, next it has made the coffin the train and the burial ground the scene of its inventions; but no one ever shortened his or her days by entering a funeral train or by any other mortal association with the dead, and the examination, contagion of duty, and the funeral did the work.—Philadelpia—ca.

AGAIN WARLIKE.

A French Squadron of Humans to Enmarch immediately for Egypt.

THE Arsenal Ordered to Reassemble Their Night and Overline Work.

LONDON, May 24.—Every day that passes with no enlightenment of the public regarding the negotiations with Russia deepens the already prevalent conviction that a hitch has occurred and increases the belief in the gravity of the situation. This leads to all sorts of disheartening surmises by the press, and it rapidly unbecomingly confident in the country.

THE good faith of the Government Order has been proved by the fact that a fresh squadron of Humans to Enmarch for Egypt at the earliest possible moment. This order, which is becoming general, is certain to cause as great a commotion as the detection of the Guards at Alexandria and the Anstralian at Cairo. Orders have also been sent to the Royal Arsenal at Woolwich to resume work on the manufacture of ordnance and ammunition. Comments are confined to the papers and the clubs, where opinions differ as to whether the moral effect of the preparation is mainly for Russia or for France.

Amnarched Outbreak in Paris.

PARIS, May 24.—To-day being the day set apart for the annual visit to the burial-place of the dead, there was a unusually large number of persons at Pere la Chaise. The visitors were as orderly as the place itself, and a demonstration was made by a body of Communists carrying flags, and the soldiers, who were in the front, were resisted stoutly by the Communists. The police charged the crowd with bayonets, and the soldiers, who were in the front, were resisted stoutly by the Communists.

ANOTHER HORROR.

Explosion, Fire and Death in a Printing Establishment—Fifteen Lives Lost.

CINCINNATI, May 21.—At half-past one this afternoon, a fire in Sullivan & Co.'s Printing Establishment on Sixth street was carrying a bucket of kerosene upon the third floor of the building, which exploded, and in an incredible short time the entire stairway was one mass of flames, thus cutting off the escape of the seventeen girls at work in the bindery on the fifth floor and the printers on the fourth floor. The girls in the bindery rushed out for the stairway, but the front windows of the building falling in—fell from the present—

TO jump meant to be to place in the pavement; to remain meant the most horrible of fates, that of being hurled to death. They stood at the open windows wringing their hands and imploringly calling on those below to assist them. But the crowd below, who were not in the least in a position to do so, were unable to find any assistance during which she was screaming from pain on the roof above her. Another Conflict Between the Parliament and the Commons.

Lord Grosvenor leaves London, which is regarded in some quarters as indicative of Peace.

PARIS, May 26.—The ministerial demonstration at the Chamber of Deputies, which continued to-day proceeded quietly until late in the afternoon, when an encounter took place between the police and a number of Communists, who were interfering the body of a comrade. The police made use of force by leading Communists were of such a violent character that the crowd became excited, and led by M. Rochefort, they acted in a body to assault one of the gates of the Chamber, shooting and waving red flags. The police, who were not in a position to do so, were unable to find any assistance during which she was screaming from pain on the roof above her.

That is the way to make money profitable, and why should there be any doubt about the success of a bank at this place. Boone has hundreds of thousands of dollars making money for banks out side of the county, while many thousands more are lying idle, but would find its way into a bank were one put in operation here. Boone has money enough to start a bank of $200,000 capital if the people could only get their own consent.

"School Commissioner Darrah has requested the County Court to petition the Legislature for a special act empowering the Sheriff of Fayette county to pay all the claims of the teachers of the schools in the county.
This would be a wise and convenient provision. The law, as it now stands, requires the teachers to forward their claims to Frankfort for payment, and it is a long and uncertain way to get their money, and more before they realize the money on their way. It is to be hoped that the teachers of the county, who more than any other class are entitled to the teachers of the county, will be relieved of the money they receive of delay. The County Court should present a strong petition, and our Representative should see that the bill is introduced."

The above has the right to it, and we would suggest that as much as Clark is a next door neighbor to Fayette, our County School Superintendent should be inserted to allow Clark county to be inserted in the same bill. Having owned as a teacher for several years, we fully realize the deficiency in the law as regards the payment of teachers—Clark Co. Democrat.

The above would have the right ring were it proposed to apply to the entire State, as there is no reason why such a favor should be extended the teachers in Fayette and Clark counties and denied those in other counties. If such a law as the one above suggested can be enacted for one or two counties it can be made apply to the entire State, and we believe it should be done, and thereby remove the delay in drawing their pay to which the teachers have been subjected for several years. As a general thing the public school teachers are persons in moderate circumstances, depending in the main on their wages for support, and having to wait two or three months, they earn it is a hardship, which all men rejoice to draw their money directly from the Sheriff upon an order from the County Superintendent will certainly meet the case.

The State Teachers Association.

How can we better celebrate the 4th of July, 1885, than by a grand demonstration of our enthusiastic devotion to the sacred cause of "Public Education"? The S. T. A. is the organized representative of this great set of works, one which can never be more a "Lost Cause" so long as the more than 1200 intelligent schoolmen and women who are actively interested in the S. T. A. are faithful to this high trust. The next meeting of the S. T. A. is to be in Lexington, Ky., July 2nd, 4th inclusive. More than 70 counties have promised delegations. Teachers, know your strength! No opposition can withstand the united efforts of the 1200 who have resolved not to rest until Kentucky stands fully abreast the most advanced in this enlightened age. Every man and woman whose name appears in the "Proceedings" of the next meeting of the S. T. A. is to be held in memory by Kentucky for many generations. Schoolmen and women resolve to make the self-sacrifice needed to enroll your names in this noble army warring against vice and ignorance. Be with us July 2-4th. See! The railroad companies have nobly responded to our call. The people of Lexington have tendered to you greatly reduced rates of living. Every intelligent lover of Ky., observe you! Do you love children? Strengthen their love for you by nobly responding to the call the times makes upon you for dedication to "our cause." 5,000 programmes—send for a copy and get ready for the work. Send for Proceedings of last meeting, to learn and stand the turn of affairs. Christian teachers pray that we may understand our duty and date to do it.

W. H. Rowan County Clerk of Nelson county, accidentally shot himself last week with a shotgun loaded with bird shot. The charge struck him back of the ear, but failed to enter the skull.

How! Marshall, a colored man of Greer county, received last week from the Federal Treasury a draft for $7,610 for land pensions due him and will be paid in future at the rate of $288 per year. He is totally disabled and blind.

The Pulaski Standard says that the new Court-house at Clinton when completed, will be one of the handsomest in the State. The appropriation was $25,000, but the entire cost will be only $19,000, the county having saved several thousand dollars
by judicious management.

The pastor of a colored church, of Fayette county, died at a funeral in Frankfort the other day, speaking of the life of the deceased, said, "he was born in Woodford county in 1851, but that I don't know him. He was a gambler, and you all know it; he was in the trenches of the smoke and blue blazes of the burning furnace of hell. Take warning by his awful fate."

There seems to be a current opinion among our citizens that the locust insects will make their appearance this year, but according to the ordinary rule for their advent this is a mistake. Mr. J. T. Younglove, who is a close observer in such matters, says they appear every seven or ten years, that they come in the years 1838-55-72, and on this schedule they will appear in 1880—Bowling Green Democrat.

A Boyle county candidate for the legislature announces himself in favor of a revival of the whipping-post in Kentucky. He says half the inmates of the penitentiary were put there for stealing locusts, and that it cost the State $300,000 to prosecute them; besides, he says, such a law would be the economical method for reducing the number of criminals, and saving the $300,000 would oblige the raising of that much tax money to meet the State's indebtedness.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

For State Senator
J. H. McDANELL,
of Warsaw, Gallatin County.

We are authorized to announce
JON. RUTHERFORD, as a candidate for representative, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce B. B. ALPHIN as a candidate for representative, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Any branches of business are very dull except that of office seeking.

The President does not recognize the office seeking element as the Democratic party, and every apparent failing thanks his rejection is a thrust at the party.

The Kentucky political layout on the Democratic side is as follows: For Senator, J. W. Bryan; for Representative from the first district, Harvey Meyers; for Representative in the second district, Jas. P. Tarrin and Theo. Walking; for Representative in the third district, Wes B.
Wilson.

Knox county has recently had an outbreak among a couple of clans or lawless citizens. About the best thing to do is to build a tight fence about fifty feet high around some of the eastern counties, let the good people out, lock the gates and give these lawless clans the next twenty years in which to exterminate one another.

Those gentlemen who expect to members of the next General Assembly of this State should procure copies of the present school law and make a study of it, searching diligently for its defects, and earnestly endeavor to repair the weak places.
Numerous amendments will be sought and a preparation for their consideration should be made by becoming familiar with the fabric desired to be overhauled.

The Philadelphia Times, speaking of county newspapers apply says:
The county newspaper is the most useful of all the agencies which stamp the impress of progress upon villages and inland cities. Without the aid of local newspapers towns are, as a rule, listless and dead. It is common for small great media to speak with contempt of the local newspapers, but the village newspaper makes more great men out of these material—more bricks without straw—than any other factor in politics, and it is the one factor on which men climb to local distinction as the beginning of wider fame. The advent of the local newspaper has always dated the increased thrift of the community. The local newspaper is the life of the locality, and the measure of its support, as a rule measures
the advancement of the people.

It is this impression is the announcement of Esq. B. B. Alphin, of Big Bone, as a candidate for representation. Mr. Alphin has been a "wheelhorse" in the Democratic party as is attested by the breeding marks, and being a veteran in the party ranks, he thinks his election to the office of representative would be a deserved recognition of past services in carrying the "Democratic" banner aloft in many heated political contests of the past. Mr. Alphin was one of the Chief Justices in the Hamilton Circuit for many years, and his peculiar and fearless manner of dealing out justice endeared him to the hearts of his "Democratic" constituents, whom he says are now desirous of calling him to a higher realm of political servitude.

Alphin has advanced far beyond the meridian of life, but he claims that he has vitality enough, both physical and political, to give Boone's interests in the next legislature the proper attention.

The World's Exposition at New Orleans closed last Saturday, and from the slender success with which it was attended it seems that a very small portion of the world patronized its enterprise. Uncle Sara responded very liberal with his checks in an attempt to make the show a big success, and while it exceeded the average expectation, on account, probably, of bad management, it fell far short of the success anticipated at first. Although this exposition may properly be called a financial failure, in many respects it has been a great advantage to the South. It brought many people from the North into her midst, thus acquainting one section with another, which will be a tendency to break down the barriers existing between the two sections.
It gave the South an opportunity to show the other sections that she has natural advantages which are being developed to her own glory, and that she is not solely a dependent section of it is country, but one which, in a few years, will establish the remainder of this government with her local developments. These are the principal advantages resulting from the late World's Exposition, and are to be realized in the future.

At the next August election the proposition to call a convention for the framing of a new constitution for this State, will be submitted to a vote.
Only the votes in favor of the convention will be recorded, it requiring a majority of all the votes in the State to be twice cast in favor of the convention before it can be called. It matters not how much is in favor of the proposition a voter may be, his vote is counted against a convention if he fails to appear at the polls and cast it for a convention. This is manifestly a wrong principle to be governed by,
but the present constitution so provide, and while in many respects it is declared nugatory, it seems difficult to depart from its programme for a revision.

One cause of so much apathy on the part of the people as regards the calling of a constitutional convention arises from the fact that they are called upon to demand a change in their fundamental law without any information as to what the changes are to be. Certain defects in the constitution are pointed out, but they ask what assurance is there that those worse ones will not be ingrained in a new one. They argue that we are getting along very well under the present constitution and that nobody but the politicians are demanding a change. While their grounds, to some extent are tenable, it is none
the less a fact that Kentucky's constitution is woefully in need of a thorough overhauling in many particulars, and until these necessary changes are made, we may expect to be delayed in many respects in the progress to which the State is entitled.

Money enough has already been expended in an effort to get a majority vote in favor of calling a convention, to pay the expenses of a revisa-tory convention, and it seems to be the inclination to continue the useless expense of taking the vote on the proposition every two years, not withstanding that the end sought will never be accomplished by the means prescribed.

If the candidates for the legislature who favor the proposition will present the subject to the people during their canvass, the result may be favorable. Let them try it.

John Durham, that good, kindly since he has been home, very kindly submitted to an interview with an Advocate representative yesterday, the result of which was substantially as follows:

"How do you like your office at Washington?"

"Very well, indeed. It is hard, constant labor, and one of great responsibility. I have many very great questions to pass upon, involving large amounts, and from my decision in most cases, there is no appeal except to Congress. I wish some high court could overlook my decisions."

"Do you see the President often?"

"No; my duties confine me closely, but I have had three different interviews with him."

"How does he impress you?"

"Most favorable. He is anxious to listen to men from different sections of the country as to their opinions of men aspiring to office, as to their fitness, of their capabilities, and their standing at home. He is easily approached, mild and pleasant in his manner. He listens to what you say, and occasionally draws you out freely by propounding queries. He seems to have a remarkable memory, treasures up the important things said, and his suggestions you make to him.
His whole conduct seems to be to select good men to fill the offices, so that the business of the Government can be conducted on business like principles. When he makes his mind to pursue a particular course he is not easily changed, but I think he is very careful to know that he is right."

"In his course approved generally, or do you know?"

"I see very many people from all parts of the country, and outside of restless office-seekers and hotheaded politicians, his course so far meets with general approbation."

"Is he not slow in filling offices?"

"Don't think he is. It is a big country: each section is expecting many names to fill the offices, and many names are presented and strong ly urged he must look over the whole ground into the files of all, and then make the best selection from the best lights he has before him. He doesn't want to make any mistakes;
it requires great labor and patience to make proper selections."

"Have you any idea of his future policy as to finances, etc?"

"I have not. I suppose he is too much engrossed now in getting the Government in good running order, so that he says but little as to his future policy, but you can rely upon it being thoroughly Democratic, urging upon each man of the public service retrenchment and economy, thus reforming many abuses which have sprung up over the country."

"What do you think of his Canident?"

"They are all good, substantial men. They are all working hard to properly understand their duties and all are cautious and pains-taking like the President. Mr. Manning is very much like the President—has a great many applicants for office, listens to all, makes no promises, but tries to select good men. He is fast reorganizing his whole department. He has fine executive ability."

"When do you expect to return?"

"I will leave for Washington on Saturday at noon, and be ready to commence work Monday morning."

Tom Peel, of Jessamine county, indicted for horse-stealing, came to

A great deal of complaint is made about heavy taxation in Kentucky, when the truth of the matter is that taxes are lower in Kentucky than in any of the Southern States. If we take into consideration the low assessment of property, our people ought to be very happy under their light burdens.—Elizabethtown News.

J. M. Cooper, of Newtown, Scott county, Ky., was arrested here on a charge of stealing a horse and barness from Barnett & Muir, Lexington. He claimed to be agent for a patent belting and obtained the vehicle and harness some two weeks ago by misrepresentation. Cooper is a former resident of this city.—

John Wesley Davenport forged the name of Preston Borrus, of Saliva to a check and the Mercer National Bank cashed it. Discovering the forgery, the bank officers gave Davenport the option of making good the amount or going to jail. Davenport was equal to the emergency. He forged the name of Wm. Robinson to a check for $150, paid off the check and left Harrodsburg with $25 clear money. Unfortunately for him he was arrested at Frankfort and brought back.

The prospects for grapes was never better. The vines everywhere in this section are in healthy condition and bearing luxuriantly.—It is, however, a very uncertain crop, and sometimes may happen to destroy it before fruit has time to ripen. The miller, crust, is the worst enemy the grape grower has to deal with. Gardeners who only grow a few vines of the finer varieties have learned to protect the grapes from the sting of insects by putting each bunch in a paper bag.
This service very well and allows the fruit to ripen evenly.—Yeoman.

COMBINATION FENCE

A fence that is wanted, and in time will be used by every one that wants a fence, either around the House, Garden or Farm, as it is cheap, durable and serviceable, to keep in check horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens, etc., and restrain wolves, dogs, and rabbits, etc.

Having all the advantages of a picket fence in restraining animals from jumping, and not so liable to decay, and at much less cost, and no barbs to injure valuable stock, thus placing it far in advance of any other fence now in use, hence it must be the fence of the future; all who have it want more.

It is portable and can be removed from field to field by drawing staples from posts, taking out the splice lath and rebanding it. We offer this fence for sale in bundles of five and six rod at Burlington.

TO THE PUBLIC!

Be it known to All Whom it may Concern,
That we are again in the field with a Large, Well thought and Well Selected Stock of

Dry Goods, Ready-Made Clothing, Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Wall Papers, Window Shades, Hats & Caps.

Besides all such Goods in Large Quantities as are generally kept in a first-class and well regulated Business House. We can not enumerate all articles, for they run up into the Tens of Thousands, but will mention a limited number of such Goods as are ordinarily in popular request.

Our stock of Embroideries is, in point of variety and prices, unsurpassed and varies in value from one cent to $2 per yard, and forming a variety of about 500 pieces. All these Goods must and will be sold long before the expiration of this season, and new goods will constantly be added. The prices are unprecedentedly low, which secures sales whenever offered.

and Cuffs. A superb and elegant line of Ladies' Collars and Cuffs.

In regard to our line of Ready-Made Clothing we will only say we have built up our reputation for keeping only First-Class Goods, and we mean to adhere to this principle. We will not be forced by any of our competitors to run an inferior class of goods in order to undersell, but can and will do so with First-Class goods. We are making clothing to order, keeping on hand a full line of Cloths and Cassimeres, and employing a first-class cutter and a number of workmen, so as to enable us to deliver goods on short notice.

At the urgent request of many friends who have recently laid in a full and well assorted stock of Boots and Shoes, which we will make a specialty of after this. We keep none but First-Class Stock and only such goods as will give satisfaction to the buyer without any risks. We do not have to depend on the profits of Boots and Shoes alone, neither does any other firm give us any additional expense, therefore we can and will undersell any other engaged in this trade. Acting upon and adhering to a Strictly Cash Basis and polite attention to our patrons, we are bound to make this New Departure a like success as has heretofore been our Dry Goods and Clothing trade. It will apply you to give us a call. Very respectfully,

THE rains the past week have furnished the tobacco growers a fine opportunity for setting out their crop much the larger portion of which is now out. The cut worms have greatly annoyed some of the planters, while a few were scarce of planks. There will not be quite as large an average cultivated in the county this year as last, but with a favorable season we predict more pounds produced this year.

NEXT Saturday the Democrats of this county are called upon by their Executive Committee to go to the polls which will be opened at the usual voting places, and vote for a candidate for the legislature. There has been but little said about the primary election, but the candidates would be glad for the voters to turn out on that day. The order under which the election is to be held was published in these columns a few weeks since.

"If the President is really honest in his desire to learn the geography of Kentucky and to give all the people of the State a fair chance at the Federal pig wagon, we can give him a map of the Bluegrass section that will be of use to him. In that favored region everybody is born with royal purple blood in their veins and silver spoons in their mouths. Each of the various States and national offices are divided between the males over eighteen years old. All boys who are not statesmen at sixteen and office holders at twenty-one are branded on the backs and banished to Southern and Western Kentucky. This patriotic Bluegrass section is bounded on the north by Senator Deck, on the south by Controller of the Treasury Durham, on the east by Senator Blackburn and on the west by Minister to Peru Duck."—Louisville Commercial.

RECENTLY Attorney-General Harbin brought suit on the bond of a late Assessor in Jefferson county to recover some $14,000 which that officer had been paid by the State for listing persons who pay poll tax only. The case was tried in a Louisville court which decided that the State is entitled to recover the amount sued for, which decision throws the Assessors on the counties for pay for that branch of their work, said being taken for the benefit of the counties. Acting under this decision the Attorney-General has instructed the Auditor to ascertain what amount of illegal fees has been paid the Assessors now in office for listing polls in their respective counties, and to withhold their salaries until the amount of illegal fees which have been paid are retained, which, in many instances, will more than absorb the amount due the Assessors for services rendered the State this year. No doubt the decision is correct, but its retrospective action will be rather hard on the Assessors. If the State compels the Assessors to refund the amounts the State has paid them for services for which the county should have recompensed them, the counties should not be so ungrateful as to refuse to make good on their contracts. No one believes that Boone county will refuse to reimburse their Assessors.

WE are apprehensive that the Justices of the Peace for this county, and probably those of other counties as well, are falling into a practice in regard to the trial of parties for carrying pistols, that is calculated to result in an unwholesome effect. We are referring to staying the ten days imprisonment when a party fined is able to replevy the money fine. The staying of the imprisonment is a pernicious practice introduced by the Circuit Court, and which should be ignored by the Justices instead of followed by them. A few days imprisonment in the county jail would have a much more salutary effect than a few dollars fine, but the enforcement of that part of the law is invariably interrupted. When these fellows who go about over the country with their pockets full of pistols, learn that when caught they cannot escape the imprisonment prescribed by the law, they will also learn that they have no use for their pistols and they will soon part company with them on the grounds that they are dangerous associates. Had the imprisonment clause of the law been rigidly enforced, no doubt young Drunkard would be a brighter fellow before him. Just a few hours before the shooting of Holler last Saturday, a man was tried and fined for carrying a pistol in Walton, but the imprisonment was stayed. The Justices of the Peace have it in their power to make it exceedingly interesting for those brought before them for carrying pistols, and the times demand that they enforce the law rigidly.

The indications are that the present growing wheat crop in many sections will not average more than 32 per cent. of a full crop.

Turn hens with young chickens into the patches of Irish potatoes. They will make a clean sweep of the bugs. Turkeys and ducks are equally effective.

The farmers are happy over the rainfall of last week, which put an end to a drought of a very threatening character. The rain came too late to avert all damages to crops, orchard grass having suffered considerably and oats to some extent.—Lebanon Standard.

Some of those who have experimented in killing potato bugs are of the opinion that the safest of all ways to destroy them is two spoonfuls of ammonia in a gallon of water. It is, they say, far better than the dangerous Paris green or London purple and just as efficacious.—Jesseville Journal.

Copious rains have fallen the past two weeks, and all who had tobacco plants were busy setting. Some succeeded in setting as much as twelve acres, while many will be compelled to wait for the plants to grow large enough. Not near as large an acreage will be put to the seed this year as last.—Owen News.

The Tribune county people are happy. Their local leader - the black-better - promised to be home. The black-better, we understand, will make at least $100,000 from these berries, and a merchant who does not take them in exchange for goodness groceries might as well look up his traps and shove out - Owen Bennett.

Married - On the 8th inst., at the residence of Elder M. Keene, in Covington, TAYLOR, David, of Petersburg, and Miss Mary E. daughter of W. T. Snyder, of Bullittsville. Elders Keene and Howe officiated. Quite a number of church members and friends were present. They will make their future home in Petersburg.

Owing to the question as to what person in Burlington has the finest garden it has been decided to have a garden show in the street in front of the Court-house at an early day. Each competitor will be required to have his entire truck patch on exhibition. The judges will be appointed as soon as President Cleveland finds time to consider their recommendations.

Hon. G. W. Rouse died at his residence near Big Bone Church last Friday. He was a man well known in this county, and had a large circle of relatives and friends. He was a consistent member of the Big Bone Baptist Church, at which place his funeral was preached last Sunday by Rev. J. A. R. at Aurora on the 4th of July.

Charles Wilson, of Rabbit Hash, was in town Monday. He brought the heavy returns from the primary at that place last Saturday.

W. T. Smith, who lives near town, fell out of a tree and broke one leg in his left arm. A limb split off and let him down.

writes, feather beds are a scarce article.

The lamb harvest has arrived. A. S. Gaines, the lone buyer drove several hundred through our burg last week, enroute to market.

Lee (Gaines), Lee Crapper and Will Gaines, who have been attending college at Georgetown, have returned. Orlis, got your "Gaines" dress?

Miss Nannie Winston, of Covington, is spending a few days with Mr. Geo. W. Gaines. Miss Nannie is always a welcome visitor to our neighborhood.

The primary election held here last Saturday was the quietest record. Hardly any interest whatever manifested. Conner received 25 votes and Alphia 2.

Our mercantile partner, J. L. Hiney, met with quite a reverse. One customer a few days since asked him to give him a check and she did so, Jim was so taking. Remember this is all confidential.

Misses Pearl Gaines and Mamie Grady, two beautiful and accomplished young ladies who have been attending college at Lexington, have returned home to spend vacation, consequently several young gentlemen are trying to look as fascinating as possible.

Judging from observation I am forced to the conclusion that Ed Stephens is enjoying the worse case at present that he has ever had in his life to experience. He has got right where a fellow doesn't know whether to go or not. However, I think Ed will get left.

Quite a small little crowd assembled at the residence of Mrs. W. B. Willis, on last Wednesday evening and spent several hours in social enjoyment, consisting of music, dancing, ice cream, etc. Miss Lillie and Tempt King were to entertain on such occasions.

The pulpit in the Christian church was occupied last Sunday by Rev. Howie, the regular pastor, who preached a fine discourse to a large and appreciative audience. After the discourse an spirited prayer was offered by all that man could desire, to satisfy his appetite. Then followed the Sunday school, which is prospering nicely under the management of G. C. Grady.

Tobacco Market.

Cincinnati, Friday, June 12-1885.

Total offerings for this week, 1748 bbls, of which 1748 bbls were new against 1773 bbls the corresponding week last year, of which 871 were new. Total offerings to date 37,021 bbls, vs. 35,052 bbls last year.

With continuing large offerings the market closed firm at grades of tobacco, but a fraction weaker for the non-descript.

The demand with increased offerings for the better grades of new leaf was spirited and satisfactory price for the seller. A very large number of goods selling from 12 to 17c.

Good market fillers were also in request, at an advance. Colors, grades, and smokers and short clean leaf tobacco, which at previously noted prices but dark green and aged leaf and trash are neglected and lower.

The offerings of old were quite small and consisted principally of a medium to good fair leaf. Prices for these grades were stronger. Other grades nominal.

We expect the active demand for leaf to continue till offerings of this kind become exceedingly scarce.

Mrs. A. W. Smith and children and Misses Kate and daughter of Dr. J. F. Smith, arrived from Florida last Wednesday, and are visiting relatives here.

The Constancees were treated to a first-class blow-up last Sunday. It was a blow-up in the Ohio river at that point by the steamship Frank, Paul Boyton, who, a few years since, floated down the Ohio river in his swimming suit, and for the past week has been the biggest monkey in the Cincinnati Zoo. Boyton's exhibition Sunday was for the purpose of showing what he can do in the way of destroying ships and boats by means of a torpedo which he conceals will be very effective in naval warfare. From Monday's Enquirer we take the following: "Rounding up at Parler Grove, the Sheriff returned as far as Anderson's Ferry, where the passengers went ashore on the sandy beach under the shady willows. Quite an assembly formed at this point and in it Boyton went through his aquatic evolutions. The ship to be blown up was a fifty-foot bark rigged up with masts, cordage and flags. Igniting the torpedo fuse the Captain paddled out of the range. The explosion blew the bark into the air, and a hundred feet into the air."

Several accidents of a serious nature happened in and near our town last Sunday.

Mrs. A. W. Smith and children and Misses Kate and daughter of Dr. J. F. Smith, arrived from Florida last Wednesday, and are visiting relatives here.

The Constancees were treated to a first-class blow-up last Sunday. It was a blow-up in the Ohio river at that point by the steamship Frank, Paul Boyton, who, a few years since, floated down the Ohio river in his swimming suit, and for the past week has been the biggest monkey in the Cincinnati Zoo. Boyton's exhibition Sunday was for the purpose of showing what he can do in the way of destroying ships and boats by means of a torpedo which he conceals will be very effective in naval warfare. From Monday's Enquirer we take the following: "Rounding up at Parler Grove, the Sheriff returned as far as Anderson's Ferry, where the passengers went ashore on the sandy beach under the shady willows. Quite an assembly formed at this point and in it Boyton went through his aquatic evolutions. The ship to be blown up was a fifty-foot bark rigged up with masts, cordage and flags. Igniting the torpedo fuse the Captain paddled out of the range. The explosion blew the bark into the air, and a hundred feet into the air."

Several accidents of a serious nature happened in and near our town last Sunday.

Col. W. B. Watts, the hero of the Ohio Falls disaster several years ago, was in town several days last week.

Mrs. Mollie Tolin is quite sick at this writing with neuritis of the head and breast. Dr. J. M. Grant is the attending physician.

The funeral procession of Dr. Ed. Terrell was the largest ever seen in Petersburg. Dr. Ed. had a host of friends who will miss him sadly.

While at the picnic at Splitrock, Saturday the lightning struck a horse belonging to Mr. George Gaines, valued at $250, killing it instantly.

W. T. Cridler has returned home from Canton, New York, where he has been attending school. Billy will have to go home and attend to his school.

In attempting to cross Woolper creek last Saturday evening at the ford just below here, L. P. Arnold's carriage was turned over and washed down stream.

Mr. Arnold's two daughters were in the carriage with him and barely escaped from drowning. The vehicle was a total wreck and the horses very badly hurt.

Accident had the same result. Mr. Arnold's accident reached our town, when we again heard of another similar mishap.

As Mr. Jesse Vinson and daughter were crossing Woolper, which is very treacherous, came rushing down on them, and the horses were thrown.

Mr. Vinson and his daughter, struggling in the muddy water, but for the timely arrival of Billy McMurphy they would have both drowned.

Bellevue.

Grandma Grant is visiting relatives at Plattburgh.

W. W. Grant is visiting at Glencoe, (Indiana) county.

John Deek shipped several thousand pounds of willows last week.

But little clover has been cut and cured without being injured by rain.

The carpenters are pushing the work on Bob Cole's house, and are getting it in shape.

What is ripening and some of it will be harvested this week, and will make less than half a crop.

Mr. Corbin has installed a heated tent at the rear of his kitchen, and grates a dinner bell on top of it.

The excessive rain is interfering very much with farm work, the ground in many places being too wet to stir.

Mr. Corbin and infant daughter, of Lawrenceburg, widow of the late W. B. Corbin, are visiting A. Corbin and family.

Judge Berkshire has had his residence touched up with a coat of paint, which has improved the look of the corner very much. It is rumored that the Judge will hold his court in his new place very shortly.

Last Saturday just as the heavy rain was falling, a horse belonging to Mrs. Corbin was killed by a wagon.

Mr. Corbin was driving the horse, and was thrown from the seat, and sustained a severe injury to the leg.

AUGUST ELECTION, 1885.

For State Treasurer:

J. W. TATE.

For State Senator:

J. H. McDANIELL.

of Warsaw, Gallatin County.

For Representative:

REUBEN CONNER.

The Ohio Democrats are sitting in the shade, drinking mint juleps and enjoying the Republican effort to swallow the Prohibitionists.

Secretary Manning has appointed Mrs. George W. Cross, widow of Sergeant Cross, of the Greely expedition, to a place in his department.

Mr. Daniel Stagg informs the Standard Journal that his sons have a crop of 25 acres of wheat in Casey that will average 25 bushels to the acre.

The Trenton Sittings is a new candidate for public favor at Trenton this State, the initial number of which is before us, and is a spicy sheet. Suppose to it.

The Deposit Bank of Eminence has declared a dividend of 5 per cent. for the six months ending July 1st, and placed to surplus account between three and four per cent.

Owen county is excited over the very dim prospects of a railroad penetrating it. Railroad meetings and long-winded railroad speeches are now the order of the day in Owen.

Voters for the Constitutional Convention. If the Convention only adopts a clause by which the Constitution can be amended under less difficulties than at present, it will accomplish much good.

The soldiers will be kept in Rowan county until after the September term of the Circuit Court, by which time it is thought all the parties to the internecine war will be captured and ready for an investigation.

So far there are but about a hundred applicants for positions under Collector Davison. What a large amount of well developed muscle is in search of rest—and what a quantity of it is doomed to disappointment.

The low price realized for tobacco last year has not discouraged the farmers in this county. "They're ticked off their flint and come again" this spring with as much solicitude for a large crop as if they had been well paid by the last one.

Some say: "If a bank at Burlington had $50,000 to loan there would not be enough borrowers to consume it." Ah, gentlemen, there is where you miss it. When you put salt on a log or stump in a pasture among the cattle they always lick it.

Each of the Lebanon banks has declared a four per cent. dividend for the half year ending June 30. The gross earnings of the National Bank of Lebanon for six months were $10,262.92; those of the Marion National Bank $15,899.89.—Times.

Trit Republic State Central Committee met in Louisville last Saturday and decided not to nominate a candidate for State Treasurer but recommended that in all counties and Senatorial districts in the State where practicable, candidates for Representative and State Senator be presented.

The great military encampment presided over by Gov. Underwood at Philadelphia proved a very expensive piece of glory to the governor. The loss occasioned by the encampment is estimated at $30,000, which will greatly reduce his future military enthusiasm.

The following is the new regulation in regard to the redemption of mutilated United States notes: United States notes, each exceeding ten-tenths of its original proportion in size, are redeemable at their full face value in any United States bank or in the Treasury and the Secretary of the Treasury.

The office seekers and the hot weather have crowded the President out of Washington. Notwithstanding he is a very robust man, Mr. Cleveland could not survive the oppressive influence of these two elements.

Will a Bank Pay in Burlington?

The proposition to start a bank in Burlington has caused several to investigate whether or not such an institution will pay in Burlington. The Recorder has affirmed all the time that it would, and it is backed by the opinion of every business man from other counties who is interested in a country bank and who has been consulted as to the propriety of organizing one at Burlington.

Men who have been interested in country banking for years, and who have no earthly interest in Boone county affairs, and who only the prospect of receiving from the investment would induce them to come here, are now only waiting to be asked to take stock, and they will subscribe every cent of the surplus they have at their command. These same men are business men—men who engaged in banking at points where there are no local business men would have been afraid to invest a cent in such stock.

They have been successful and recognize Burlington, surrounded by the wealthy county of Boone, as a much better location for a bank, than the points at which they first engaged. If these strangers are willing to come and take hold of the matter, there is certainly something in it.

As to their being available funds with which to operate can be honestly doubted, when it is taken into consideration that there is largely over $600,000 surplus in Boone county, while in the Burlington district alone there is over $159,000 surplus. These facts should at once dispel any doubts as to a local bank carrying sufficient deposits to meet the demands that would be made on it, besides being a strong argument that the deposits will be two or three times as large as the capital stock, which is a guarantee that the profits in this connection it is proper to state that we have been watching closely the reports of county banks as published in our exchanges, and find that their dividends range from 4 to 6 per cent. semi-annually, and Boone is a much wealthier county and more favorably located. Could a man of means want any better investment for his money? In what business could money be placed where from 8 to 10 per cent. per annum can be realized, and that, too, in a manner that puts its owner to as little trouble? Boone county has the money to loan and she has good men who will borrow it—men to whom it will be perfectly safe to loan not men who are worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to-day and not worth a penny before to-morrow's sun goes down.

Boone county people don't want to see men from another county come in and start a bank here, and that is what will be done if they do not take hold and make it a home institution. Our people have the money to run a bank and they should be entitled to the profits arising therefrom. Home pride should inspire an effort on the part of county capital to take control of the matter and perfect the plan of a local bank. The people of this county have been paying the outsiders long enough for handling their money. It is about time they were getting these profits themselves.

THE BOYS IN CAMP.

While the small "drill" companies at the great military encampment in real solid work at practice, the boys of the First and Second Ohio and Third Kentucky regiments had an unusually good time. The Kentucky boys warmly welcomed all the colored camp followers who ventured into their lines, and tossed each and every one in blankets with commendable impartiality and thoroughness. Every little while a dark form would go squirming up into the air above the tent tops, and then up again. To protest was no use and to resist was sure to earn a repetition of the attention.

A rabbit created the greatest excitement of the day. It was a little one and apparently ventured into Colonel Crump's tent and was found there by some of the Kentucky boys, bringing off of some choice lettuce that had been presented to the Colonel. A general chase was instituted and a hundred soldiers took after the unlucky animal. But the rabbit was fleet of foot, and it got out of the Kentucky camp and crossed the line into the Second Ohio's quarters, when its pursuers were augmented. Thence the pursuit reached into the camp of the First Ohio, where all joined in the chase. The frightened thing turned back over its course, dodging pots, kettles and pans, bayonets and guns, and only when one of the Kentucky boys, who happened to be in his pocket, took it, which he shed with such deadly effect as to stretch poor bunny on the ground. That illustrates the deadly effect of Kentucky bluegrass whisky," said one of the lookers on afterward. The game was served as a tempting dish on Colonel Crump's table.—Philadelphia Times.

The office seekers and the hot weather have crowded the President out of Washington. Notwithstanding he is a very robust man, Mr. Cleveland could not survive the oppressive influence of these two elements.

The Law and Order Club having succeeded in closing all the faro and keno banks in Louisville now propose turning its attention to the poker rooms. It proposes to secure the names of all who enter such places and have them before the next grand jury, or to raid them, as is deemed most advisable. The Louisville gamblers must go.

South Carolina comes to the front with a negro who vomited up a half dozen large, full-grown lions. The negro claims that he swallowed them a year ago, and the doctor accounts for the other five on the hypothesis that the one swallowed was a female, and that she propagated the other five in the negro's stomach.

It is yet some time before the common schools will open for the fall and winter term, but the trustees in a county should not wait until the last moment to employ teachers. Long delays in securing teachers in many instances compel the employment of incompetent instructors, the best teachers generally securing positions at early dates. Now is the time to commence negotiating if you want persons worthy the hire.

The spectacle of a bewildered stranger on the side-walk, using a lamp-post and calling it all kinds of names for misdirecting him with its street signs, was encountered on a prominent corner a few evenings ago. The lamp-post blinked away and never deigned to notice the insults feeling, no doubt, that it could afford to mislead the public, especially since it had a U. S. mail deposit box strapped to its waist.—Commercial.

AND now it is said that we owe the word "camp-meeting" to the Presbyterians, and not to the Methodists. The supplement to the American edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, in its article on "Americanism," says: "It is not to the Methodists, as is generally thought, but to the Presbyterians, that America owes the new word camp-meeting. Certain Presbyterian ministers held a sacramental meeting at a place called Cane Ridge, in Kentucky, in 1800. It was attended by more than twenty thousand people, and protracted for weeks. This was the first camp-meeting ever held in the United States."

GEN. ROBINSON repeats he intends appointing none but good men and good Democrats. He says: "The reason I have retained the Republicans in office so long, is because I do not desire to make any hasty appointments. It would be the sheerest folly for me to make an appointment before I have examined into the merits and fitness of the applicants. Such hasty action on my part would prove unsatisfactory to the Democrats of the Seventh District, and detrimental to the service. I desire not only to appoint good Democrats, but good men, and I can not do this and act hastily. As I have said scores of times, I have neither appointed nor reappointed any Republicans. I have merely permitted them to hold over until I can find suitable men to fill their places. This is the whole matter in a nutshell, and if any Democrats are kicking, it is because they do not understand me. I have indicated to several applicants for Guernsey, that when they can satisfy me that they have learned the business I will hand them over their commissions. I do not intend to inflict a lot of green men on the distillers and on the government. I expect to know and do my duty as a government officer, and it is but reasonable, I think that I should require the same thing of my applicants."

A New Constitution Needed.

(Princeton Banner.)

We answer in the affirmative, for the following reasons:

1. To place some restriction on the pardoning power of the Governor.

2. To prevent so much local legislation.

3. To reduce the number of members of the Legislature.

4. To prevent the creation of any more paper counties.

5. To amend the constitution that that instrument can be amended hereafter by a vote of the people without a constitutional convention.

6. To revise the whole judicial system of the State, that legislation may be made cheaper and more prompt.

7. To get rid of those clauses in the present constitution relating to slavery.

8. To place all proper restriction upon cities, towns and counties going in debt.

9. To have the State and county elections on the same day and year to save a great expense of too frequent elections.

10. To revise our present unequal and unjust revenue system.

While the cost of holding a constitutional convention would perhaps amount to $150,000, it would get rid of an unnecessary annual expense now attached to the State government of at least that amount.

The semi-annual statement of the Deposit Bank, Georgetown, appears in this issue. The "hard times" seem to have but little effect upon this bank, as it declares its accustomed 5 per cent. dividend for the past six months.—Times.

STATE ITEMS.

There is considerable sickness among the colored people of Winchester.

It is estimated that the cost of seed cultivation and harvesting wheat is 85 per acre.

Diagrams, the Kentucky horse, won the Cumberland Plate at Carlisle England.

The Richmond Register says 1,000 bushels will cover the wheat crop of Madison county this year.

Timothy meadows in this county will hardly pay for the cutting this year.—Clark Co. Democrat.

The gross earnings of the First National Bank for the past 6 months were $4,762.80.—Georgetown Times.

Little George, a four-year-old colt, was killed in a well and drowned near Clintonville.

The colored people will hold a Fair near Georgetown, commencing on Thursday, August 20th, to continue three days.

Noel, Kemper & Co., of Glencoe, have bought about 50 lbs. of tobacco at an average of 74 cents, and have been offered $2,000 profit on the purchase.

Reports from Floyd, Perry and Breathitt counties, say there is considerable suffering for want of corn in that section.

The grand jury of Fayette county has just indicted Dick Curry, a Lot Wright deputy, for breaking into a freight car at Lexington.

A Nicholas county farmer has tobacco growing on his farm that has from 8 to 13 leaves growing on a stalk, some of them two feet wide.

Two Garrard county farmers pay 5 cents a dozen for tobacco, and the Lancaster News says they paid at one time for 300 lbs. which would have deposited 300,000 eggs, hatching that many worms.

By the end of the week the wheat will all have been harvested, and from present indications the yield will largely exceed former expectations.

A. E. King has fifty acres which will yield twenty-five bushels per acre, at least.—Milton Press.

E. E. Lee says the meadow or bud worm is ruining the corn on the ridge.

He says it bores through the heart of the stalk and then no shoots put out. He examined a dozen or so hills in a patch on his place the other day and found the worms working in each stalk.—Owen News.

State Politics.

Judge Frank Richardson, of Christian, is the Democratic candidate for the Legislature.

Col. John Duvall has withdrawn from the legislative race. He says he feels perfectly happy to get out of the canvass.—Owen Democrat.

The Democratic nominee for the Legislature in Lincoln county having withdrawn, a convention was held at Stanford Monday to make another nomination. J. E. Lyon was named by acclamation, but he declined and thereupon the convention adjourned without making a nomination. This leaves the race to Fontaine Fox Bobbitt, a bolter, and his colored competitor.

Those who had been rejoicing on account of the reasonable grounds for supposing that an immense amount of the "filthy lucre" would be thoroughly distributed at the August election, were greatly disappointed when they learned that there was but one candidate on the track. They will now, we hope, have to make other arrangements for procuring their much desired wealth.—Ex.

On the first Monday in next month members of the next General Assembly are to elect a speaker. This is every respect an off year in this State, but nevertheless a large vote should be polled. Let the people of Boone come out en masse and exercise their right of suffrage on the first Monday in August next.

MR. CLEVELAND is certainly very busy; in fact he is so busy that he can't find time during the week to go fishing a few hours and has to devote Sunday to that class of recreation. Probably the poor fellow has been teased so by office seekers that he doesn't know when Sunday comes. We will excuse him on that ground this time, but he must not repeat.

FARM NOTES.

Air the stables.

The cabbage needs a rich soil.

See that your stock is in good health.

Carrots and rutabagas require a light, rich soil.

Dry earth is an excellent absorbent of manures.

Late planted squash vines usually succeed the best.

Granaries should be thoroughly cleaned out at least once a year.

A liberal dressing of wood ashes will be beneficial to cherry trees.

Keep the tires on your wagon tight and the axles and harness well oiled.

Do not forget that if high feeding causes hog cholera, starvation will prevent it.

The largest turkeys are the most profitable. It costs but little more to fatten them.

Hogs on pastures should have some grain each day, so as to ripen the growth as fast as made.

Fix the roosts so the hens won't have to roost in a draft. It gives them a cold that ends in croup.

Those who grow millet, sorghum or broom corn will find the seed the best kind of food for small chicks.

A cross of the Dorking and Brahma will produce a fine market bird of large size with yellow skin and fat.

Tide fruit trees will need some attention during the summer to keep the caterpillar, etc., from damaging them.

Farmers should make their own fertilizer, as far as possible, and then they will know just what they are using.

The weight of testimony and experience now seems to be against planting back melon, tomato and squash vines.

One of the best eatings for tree worms is gum arabic in alcohol. It effectively excludes air, and the worms quickly heels over.

The effect of short manure upon light soils, and long manure upon heavy soils, are to improve greatly the physical character of each.

Sheep are the only animals that will not eat beans whole. Ground and mixed with ground corn or oats, they are valuable for cattle, horses and pigs.

An Iowa agricultural society recently decided, after considerable discussion, "that the best time to prune nursery and orchard trees is when the leaves from one-half to two-thirds grown."

Prof. Sanborn, of the Missouri Agricultural College, says that colts fed cattle digest their food much better than the meal fed animals, and that the corn-eaters make fifty cents a bushel by the gain in weight of flesh.

It is said that there is no better index to the health of cattle and horses than the condition of the hair.

Indigestion and all other diseases that farm stock is heir to, even in a short time, is plainly indicated by a rough harsh coat of the animal.

Dead limbs on fruit or other trees should be promptly removed. The cutting should be below any diseased part, or it will spread the infection.

The manure should not be applied to healthy trees unless first washed with carbolic acid and water.

Equal parts of oats and corn, and one-twentieth part linseed cake, ground with them, makes a good feed for horses. It will give a fine sleek, good coat, and will make a horse at the same time very healthy. It will also keep horses from contracting colds and diseases.

In planting an orchard the young trees should be slightly inclined toward the direction of the prevailing winds. All the old orchards lose as the trees were bent while young, and most of these old orchards were set when there was more forest and winds were much less violent than now.

They Know His Worth.

A clergyman relates the experience of a faithful clerk who was tempted, but followed his better promptings. It was every one else but himself. A young man came to a gentleman one day with a case of conscience. He was a poor clerk in a flourishing house. His employers had begun to direct him to write letters to customers containing statements which he and they knew to be false. He had objected and they said: "We are responsible for those statements; it is nothing of your whether they are true or false."

"I said to him, 'Did they sign the letters, or ask you to write them in your own name?'"

"As soon as the question had left my lips I saw that, if there was a difference, both sides were wrong, and I hastened to tell him so."

"He said, 'I have to sign them with my own name, but I have a conscience, and I don't want to do it.'"

"I said, 'Your case is clear; you must decline to do it.'"

"He said, 'Then I shall be dismissed.'"

"I said, 'I have a wife and family, and I don't know where to go.'"

"He replied, 'I am still in my situation. I had an interview with the partners, and told them I could not continue. They knew me to be true. They were very angry, and I expected to receive notice, but I have not received it yet. I have been retained in my position. I have a wife and family, and I don't know where to go.'"

The Board of Equalization will hold their sessions at Burlington on the 2d, 4th, 6th, 8th, 10th, 12th, 14th, 16th, 18th, 20th, 22nd, 24th, 26th, 28th, 30th, and 31st of July and August for examination of teachers for the Common schools. No examinations during the Institute, H. J. Powers, County Superintendent.

In this issue will be found the statement of the condition of the Farmers and Traders National Bank, Covington, which has in a remarkably short time forged to the front in its line of business in that city. The remarkable success of this bank is due to the skill and efficiency of its manager, John L. Sanford, one of the best men in the State, being thoroughly conversant with every detail of the banking business.

We received a letter from George T. Gaines, Tullahoma, Florida, in which he writes as follows:

"I understand it has been quite warm in Kentucky. The thermometer has been above 90 at many places, and always in a pleasant breeze. Most people (strangers, land and grove) have chased in our country than ever known here in the summer. Having railroad facilities, this lake region will advance rapidly. Vegetable business satisfactory last winter and spring. With kind feelings, yours truly."

A Compulsion to our Assessors.

H. Clay White, member of the State Board of Equalization, from this district, was under date of the 11th inst., as follows:

We are getting along well with the business of the Board of Equalization; will complete the work by the 15th next week. We could have been through by this time, or even sooner, but were delayed and had to adjourn on account of the clerks not having returned a copy of the Assessors' books in time for us. We will not make many changes from last year's assessments. The Assessors in the counties, generally, where the board of last year increased the assessment increased their assessments in the State, nor up to its cash value of her real estate. But few changes will be made in my district. Yours truly,

H. CLAY WHITE.

Petersburg lodge of Sons of Temperance gave its annual picnic at Parlor Grove last Saturday. The Steamer Minnie, chartered for the occasion, started from Aurora and at that place and Petersburg and Lawrenceburg took on about 700 persons, and was compelled to refuse to land at other points where the boat was to stop. The crowd that came on the boat was largely composed of the people from the country far and near, and the attendance was estimated by no one at less than 1,000. In every particular the picnic was a success, although the worst of Saturday morning was rather doubtful.

NOTES.

Everybody went home sober.

W. R. Green, Frank Collier and Capt. Christy dished out the ice cream and kept the lemonade stirred up.

The music was the worst feature of the occasion; it sounded like corn-stalk music. Where did they find it?

Bishop Schumann and Solon Barclay were the "preachers" of the day; they managed to rush around and get a partner for every lady.

Personal Mentions.

If you have friends from a disconcerting you please, tell us from him or her.

John Stephens, of Hillsville, was in town Monday.

AUGUST ELECTION,
1885.

For State Treasurer:
J. W. TATE.

For State Senator:
J. H. McDANELL.
of Warsaw, Gallatin County.

For Representative:
REUBEN CONNER.

This London Times declares that Mr. Phelps is the greatest Minister America has ever sent to England.

Judge Major was appointed a special judge to try a murder case in Woodford county. The trial commenced last week.

Judge Jackson, of Louisville, has gone up into the mountains to dispense justice. He refused to take an escort of soldiers with him.

In this issue will be found a long article from the County Superintendent of schools, and addressed to the teachers and trustees and is worthy a perusal by all others as well. It contains some information that it is well to preserve.

It is strange that so many Democratic papers in this State take their cue in the discussion of State issues from the Louisville Commercial, a non-partisan paper, and not from the public as an independent. Gentlemen, you are running after a false god.

Mr. Claude Carr, of this city, has been notified that he will receive $2,500 for his share of the stock of the Louisville Commercial, and is now running after a false god.

Half the male citizens in Lexington will now try the detective business. We have no grounds for believing that J. W. Tate ever did anything crooked as the custodian of the State funds, but in view of the many insinuations of the Louisville Commercial, echoed by a portion of the Democratic press of the State, we deem it proper that he should demand that the next General Assembly investigate his official accounts. If there is anything crooked, let the public know it; and if there is nothing wrong Mr. Tate will not be injured by the investigation.

MONDAY week is the regular August election with the following officers to elect: State Treasurer, State Senator, County Representative and several Constables, besides voters for the proposition to call a convention. As there is no general contest the probability is a light vote will be the result, although the people should come out and vote, and the proposition to call a constitutional convention should receive a unanimous endorsement. A revision of our constitution could not possibly make it any worse and more impracticable than it is, while, on the other hand, it would be so improved as to work a reform in our State Government which would greatly redound to the interest of the taxpayers.

SPEAKER Carlisle is besieged with office seekers. An employee in one of the Departments called, bringing with him two little boys. The man told Mr. Carlisle that he was going to be turned out, and for the sake of his children asked that the Speaker intercede in his behalf. Mr. Carlisle knew the man to be a Republican, and frankly told him that he could do nothing for him. He said: "My friend, I feel sorry for you but I also feel sorry for thousands of Democrats as poor as you are, and with as many or more children, who are beseeching me daily to get them a place to keep starvation from the door. I believe that these Democrats are entitled to all of these offices under the law. They have worked hard for their party for years, and should share in its reward. I never asked the Republican Administration to put a Democrat in office, and I shall certainly not ask a Democrat Administration to keep a Republican in office."

To the Trustees and Teachers of Common Schools.

In the progress of events, civilization and the arts and sciences, are still being developed, and especially in this case in those countries where education is at a high standard. Assuming this to be a fact, how important it is, then, for us to use every means afforded in the Common School system to promote the cause of education. But allow me to say here, that it is a mistaken idea to suppose that the trustees and teachers, or any other officer connected with the Common Schools, can alone successfully carry on the work of education. The whole people are interested in this great cause, and their co-operation is necessary to a complete success. All have a part to act in the work of educating the youth of the land. Every one who has any respect for the dignity of intellect and any pride for the increase of intelligence, and looks upon voluntary ignorance as a crime, should be inspired with a lofty ambition to assist in removing the shackles from every human mind, that it may go forth to the enjoyment of the highest freedom in the great republic of thought. The proper education of the child demands the intelligent consideration and hearty co-operation of every man and woman in the country.

There are enrolled in this county, for the present school year, 3,414 white and 408 colored children in the school age; and all the education four-fifths of them will ever receive must be the Common School. Therefore, their education, and their destiny are in the hands of the people.

Twenty per cent. of the adult population of the entire State are unable to write their names, or to read them when written. It is estimated that in this country two millions of grown people can neither read nor write. Again, it is stated, that about one-sixth of all the crime in the country is committed by persons wholly illiterate. The number of prisoners in the Kentucky penitentiary for the years 1880-1 was 453; three hundred and twelve of them could not read, and of the entire number only 17 had received a good education. It is also estimated that about one-fourth of the white school population of this State cannot read; that there are about 40,000 white qualified voters that cannot read, and about 50,000 colored voters in a like lamentable condition, besides the fact that four of our sister States that show a greater per cent. of illiteracy than Kentucky. Now then, in view of all these facts, and the great and continuous conflict going on between virtue and vice, may it not be said that every citizen ought to lend his aid and support in promoting the Common Schools?

The Common School is the outlook of modern civilization, and should earnestly engage the attention of every man, woman and child without respect to party or creed; because it is only through the Common Schools that education can be brought within the reach of every mind. It is a very true saying that the foundation of every country is in the education of the child. The great Greek philosopher declared that the fate of empires depends on the education of the children.

Under the present school law the people of the county have it in their power to erect suitable school-houses adapted to the wants of every district, and also to establish good schools throughout the county. It is with pleasure that I am able to report for the past school year, several good school-houses that have been built and others repaired by local taxation. Since my coming into office I have received from district taxation, several hundred dollars, all of which has been paid out on the orders of the trustees, and by them used in building and repairing school-houses. I have received and answered, since I came into office, about 200 letters and postals, all of which were in some way connected with my official duties, besides numerous other documents in the interest of the Common Schools of this county. I have visited a number of the schools and districts, and delivered several addresses upon the subject of education, and in my feeble manner, tried to promote the cause of Common School education, and encourage both pupil and teacher in the work before them.

I have with the aid and assistance of Prof. Newton and Stephenson, examined 64 applicants and about 425 papers containing the analysis of the teachers in the nine studies taught in the Common School. I deem it but proper to return my thanks to these gentlemen for their faithful assistance, as they rendered in the several examinations before me.

One of the objectionable features in our school system is the tardiness of the State in paying the teachers' salary. I would, therefore, ask the County of Claims to petition the legislature through their Representative, for a special act directing the Sheriff of Boone county to pay the teacher's claims monthly as follows: "When a month of any Common School is completed, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees for that district, shall report the same to the County Superintendent who shall on the first day of the month, draw his draft on the Sheriff for all schools so reported and the Sheriff shall pay said draft in full to the County Superintendent out of any money in his hands belonging to the State, and he shall hold said draft and use it as a voucher in his settlement with the State."

This, we think, would be entirely satisfactory with the teachers, and there is no good reason why it should not be done. A few words in regard to trustees and I close. The office of trustee is much more important than it is supposed to be; his duties are quite numerous and he should be selected because of a personal and public interest in the schools. His term of office does not close until the 30th of June; hence the new Board is not in office and cannot perform any official act until the 1st of July. Neither can they do anything official before taking the oath of office, which can be administered by any Justice of the Peace, but he must certify the fact to the County Superintendent. The following form for the oath of office is prescribed by the State Board of Education: "You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of Kentucky, and that you will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of Trustee of district No. _____ in the county of Boone, according to law and the Rules and Regulations of the State Board of Education and to the best of your ability." The Chairman, only, is exempt from all jury service and work upon the highway. A Justice of the Peace is not eligible to the office of Trustee. The present district taxation can be submitted by the Trustees at any time by giving twenty days notice before taking the vote. The object of objects for which they propose to levy the tax must be clearly stated in the notice. The notice must be signed by the County Superintendent and the Chairman of the Board of Trustees; they cannot submit more than 25c. on each $100 worth of property, and $1 per poll on each white male over 21 years of age residing in the district. The tax can be voted for more than one year if so stated in the notice. In their submission of this question, Trustees must be very particular to follow the law strictly, as the least departure might invalidate the tax. Children that will be 8 years old on the first day of July, cannot be reported; neither can those that will be 20 years old on the 30th of June. The children that are enjoying the benefits of education at public cost in any of the State schools cannot be reported. Trustees can levy and collect not more than $2 from each patron except sending to school, to supply fuel, buckets, brooms, &c., and when this money is not all required for these objects, they can use the balance for purchasing seats, desks, blackboards, &c. Much more might be said, but I fear I have already trespassed upon your time and space. H. J. FOSTER, County Sup't.

There are enrolled in this county, for the present school year, 3,414 white and 408 colored children in the school age; and all the education four-fifths of them will ever receive must be the Common School. Therefore, their education, and their destiny are in the hands of the people.

Twenty per cent. of the adult population of the entire State are unable to write their names, or to read them when written. It is estimated that in this country two millions of grown people can neither read nor write. Again, it is stated, that about one-sixth of all the crime in the country is committed by persons wholly illiterate. The number of prisoners in the Kentucky penitentiary for the years 1880-1 was 453; three hundred and twelve of them could not read, and of the entire number only 17 had received a good education. It is also estimated that about one-fourth of the white school population of this State cannot read; that there are about 40,000 white qualified voters that cannot read, and about 50,000 colored voters in a like lamentable condition, besides the fact that four of our sister States that show a greater per cent. of illiteracy than Kentucky. Now then, in view of all these facts, and the great and continuous conflict going on between virtue and vice, may it not be said that every citizen ought to lend his aid and support in promoting the Common Schools?

The Common School is the outlook of modern civilization, and should earnestly engage the attention of every man, woman and child without respect to party or creed; because it is only through the Common Schools that education can be brought within the reach of every mind. It is a very true saying that the foundation of every country is in the education of the child. The great Greek philosopher declared that the fate of empires depends on the education of the children.

Under the present school law the people of the county have it in their power to erect suitable school-houses adapted to the wants of every district, and also to establish good schools throughout the county. It is with pleasure that I am able to report for the past school year, several good school-houses that have been built and others repaired by local taxation. Since my coming into office I have received from district taxation, several hundred dollars, all of which has been paid out on the orders of the trustees, and by them used in building and repairing school-houses. I have received and answered, since I came into office, about 200 letters and postals, all of which were in some way connected with my official duties, besides numerous other documents in the interest of the Common Schools of this county. I have visited a number of the schools and districts, and delivered several addresses upon the subject of education, and in my feeble manner, tried to promote the cause of Common School education, and encourage both pupil and teacher in the work before them.

I have with the aid and assistance of Prof. Newton and Stephenson, examined 64 applicants and about 425 papers containing the analysis of the teachers in the nine studies taught in the Common School. I deem it but proper to return my thanks to these gentlemen for their faithful assistance, as they rendered in the several examinations before me.

One of the objectionable features in our school system is the tardiness of the State in paying the teachers' salary. I would, therefore, ask the County of Claims to petition the legislature through their Representative, for a special act directing the Sheriff of Boone county to pay the teacher's claims monthly as follows: "When a month of any Common School is completed, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees for that district, shall report the same to the County Superintendent who shall on the first day of the month, draw his draft on the Sheriff for all schools so reported and the Sheriff shall pay said draft in full to the County Superintendent out of any money in his hands belonging to the State, and he shall hold said draft and use it as a voucher in his settlement with the State."

This, we think, would be entirely satisfactory with the teachers, and there is no good reason why it should not be done. A few words in regard to trustees and I close. The office of trustee is much more important than it is supposed to be; his duties are quite numerous and he should be selected because of a personal and public interest in the schools. His term of office does not close until the 30th of June; hence the new Board is not in office and cannot perform any official act until the 1st of July. Neither can they do anything official before taking the oath of office, which can be administered by any Justice of the Peace, but he must certify the fact to the County Superintendent. The following form for the oath of office is prescribed by the State Board of Education: "You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of Kentucky, and that you will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of Trustee of district No. _____ in the county of Boone, according to law and the Rules and Regulations of the State Board of Education and to the best of your ability."

A acreage of tobacco on the same as last year is growing well in Woodford and a large yield is anticipated. Many farmers have in as much as one hundred acre.

Corn and tobacco are beginning to feel the effects of the drought but with good rains and seasonable weather to follow, the prospects are flattering for a good crop of both. Williams-Courier.

Although the acreage of wheat harvested is small yet the grain is good and the yield a fair average. Many made the mistake of plowing up their wheat early in the spring, when it bore the appearance of being winter-killed. Shelby Sentinel.

Jas. T. Eton informs us that he found six ticks which had been missing for thirty days, in a sink hole on his farm, and strange to say three of the number were still alive notwithstanding the fact that they had been without food or water for a month. Clark Co. Democrat.

The prospects for a crop in Hopkins county, taken as a whole, were perhaps never more flattering than at present. While the wheat has perhaps not been more than half yield, yet corn, oats and grasses were never better. A good acreage of tobacco has been set out, and is growing finely. There is no danger of a famine in this party of the county. Madisonville Times.

A farmer named Kinney, living on Tate's Creek, Fayette county, had in 140 acres of wheat this season that will yield him an average of twenty-four bushels to the acre. He adopted some years ago the rule of the Russian wheat growers, in sowing about one bushel of salt to the acre of wheat, and has never failed to have a large yield even in years of comparative failure. His theory is that wheat is more injured by dry frozes than wet; that the ground does not contain sufficient moisture to sustain the growing wheat during dry, freezing weather, and that the salt not only acts as a preventive, but is an excellent fertilizer as well. We have heard of other farmers who tried this plan, and their yield has been up to the average of former years. Clark County Democrat.

STATE ITEMS.

A Bourbon county barn is 100 years old. The sheeting is of oak plank-festened with home wrought nails.

A prominent citizen of Todd Co. is authority for the following joke on the Elkton and Guthrie railroad: While the train was under full speed one day last week a woman ran down to the track and signaled the train to stop. She called out the conductor, Capt. Arthur Dale, and handed him a basket of plums and requested him to take them to Guthrie and trade them for sugar. The accommodating conductor took the plums and the train pulled out again.

COLLECTOR DAVISON took charge of his office Monday. The Government agents who inspected the office previous to his being turned over to the new Collector found everything correctly accounted for. It is expected that it will be some time before Mr. Davison will dismiss the present force of gaugers and storekeepers and supply their places from the army of applicants now awaiting his action. The applicants for positions in the revenue department in this district: Campbell, 325; Harrison, 250; Pendleton and Kenton each, 100; Grant, 60; Carroll, 50; Boone, 40; Trimble and Brackin, but few. There are but 70 appointments to make, which will result in a large number of disappointed applicants. The boys will now watch the mails closely for letters from the Collector notifying them that their services are required.

At the primary election for Representative in Gallatin county there was no contest, but since that an independent candidate has appeared in the arena, and the contest is waxing warm. No live issues are being discussed, the canvass having taken the shape of a regular fish-slinging as is too often the case in contests for county offices.

Boone County Court.

Regular Term, July 26, 1885. Numerous land sales (20 in number) of the Walton tract, situated in this county, having petitioned for the holding of an election on the 26th day of August, 1885, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters thereon, on the proposition whether or not to sell the vine or malt liquor shall be sold therein. It is therefore ordered that the Sheriff of Boone county be and he is hereby directed to hold said election at the Court-house door in the town of Burlington, on the 26th day of August, 1885, at 10 o'clock p. m., and place balloted, said election to be held in the town of Burlington, the fees were deposited as required by law. A copy of the order of the Court is on file in the office of the Clerk. M. T. GARNETT, Clerk.

The building house, running with Petersburg and Frankland, and A. B. Parker, have let their contracts for the construction of a palatial residence. That town has grown considerably in the last few years, and the improvements made are of a substantial character.

In a few days W. A. Ogden will leave on a prospecting tour through Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas, South Carolina and Missouri. Alford has done the like before, and has always returned satisfied to remain in Boone a while longer, but we fear we will lose him yet one of these days.

The lightning struck Mrs. Gravelle's house in the Big Grove neighborhood, last Sunday night. We do not know the extent of the damages to the building, but understand that her son-in-law, B. P. Rice, of Covington, who was there at the time, had the back of his neck badly scorched by the electric current.

The Burlington boys' knights include all the streets and alleys in the town during the day, and at night they pursue particularly the gardens, and the pavements immediately in front of the residences. Horse tramping about on a pavement keeping the dust from the horses' hoofs is a very common thing, and a combination of sounds that shatters the eardrums of the best of human beings.

St. Ruffs, who has manipulated the mill at Petersburg for a long time, is experimenting with a new kind of grass which will grow where vegetables will not grow, and where wheat will perish in a short time. He has tried it among rocks and gravel, where it thrives during the dry season. Being like in its growth to the corn, it is a splendid grass to prevent washing of land. It comes from Texas and is produced by planting slips.

How they Equalize

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., July 10, 1885.

The Board of Equalization adjourned on the 24th inst., and I returned on the evening of the 24th, and have intended sending you a statement of what was done by the Board in my district, but have been so busy that I have not had time to send you one from the Auditor's office, and have not yet received it; but will give you such information as I have memoranda of which I brought with me, and which I hope will be of some use to you.

Boone county gets 11 per cent, deducted from the assessed value of her land, and stands on the assessed value of her land, and has 10 per cent, added to the assessed value of personal property.

I think I would have been well to have left Boone remain at her assessed value on land and personal property, but in ascertaining the cash value of her land and personal property, and in setting the rate per cent, of the assessed cash value, the result was as before stated.

If the law by which we were governed were so changed as to deduct 10 per cent, from the assessed value of her land, it is assessed at its cash value, or more, and increase the valuation in the counties where it is assessed below its cash value, without making any adjustment in the rate per cent, it is provided in section 8, the Board could complete the work in about one-fourth the time now required, and would be much more satisfactory to the members of the Board, and also to the taxpayers of the State; and be much more easily understood.

Yours Truly,
H. CLAY WHITE.

Look Out Hog!

The hogs have begun to make summer depredations in the gardens. Yesterday's was laid to waste Friday night of last week. Neither fences nor rivers seem to have the power to prevent their entrance. Would it not be well to use some means to keep them off if you can't keep them out? Or in plain language, leave the hog law with a little powder and lead.

Criticism.

The hotel house of Mrs. Rosa King, of Walton, expired Monday, and the body was taken to the funeral home in that district that day, hastened her to Burlington early Monday morning to receive the license. She was in town by six o'clock, and before her death she had been in the hospital for some time. This is the first time on record in this county in that time.

Col. John Moody will be ringmaster at the Lawrenceburg Fair again this year, and his clarion tones will echo through the most remote corners of the morning of that of no other man, and will be heard in the farthest corners of the morning of that of no other man.

The column is a natural born ringmaster, and his earliest exploits in that capacity date way back.

While in Petersburg last Wednesday we met Mr. J. D. Norris who has been absent much of this season with Grifton and Beale G. the steppers belonging to him and J. Frank Grant.

Mr. J. D. Norris made three trips in a chicken coop, and was seen by the judge. He thinks Grifton can do better than that. But the animals have been a very satisfactory season for the full campaign, and are now resting up for the full campaign, which they will make very interesting if the misfortune overtakes them.

The election in the precincts of the county, except Walton, where heat option caused a lively commotion among the voters, passed off very quietly.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Helton.

The crops are all harvested.

M. F. Ogden is on the sick list.

A fine prospect for a good corn crop. A little boy of Wash Turner's broke his arm one day last week.

There is a great deal of sickness among the children in this vicinity.

Billingsville.

News has gotten to be quite a scarce commodity in this place.

We can assign no other reason than that the community is very much overworked with reports of such a character.

That sensible people are almost afraid to exchange ideas with each other for fear of being misunderstood by them.

Through the columns of our county paper, the only local medium we have for the interchange of ideas or suggestions on any given subject.

We must say that such timidity is as unprinted under the head of Billingsville news for some time past has been enough to disgust any writer, thinking person. Nothing true and unflattering, without regard to any one's feelings, utterly devoid of sympathy or respect.

Marriage of England's Chief Justice to an American Lady.

King of the Congo: The Man's Successor.

London, August 18.—Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, who married his American wife, Miss Jackson, on Monday.

The wedding ceremony was conducted privately, and a special license was granted August 16, so that the marriage could take place at any time of the day.

The bride, Miss Jackson, who is the daughter of a wealthy American family, is now residing in London.

The marriage of the young lady to the Lord Chief Justice, who is now in the prime of life, is a very unusual occurrence.

ALMOST INCREDIBLE.

Without a Trace of Insanity, a Woman Confined Twenty-Three Years.

Philadelphia, August 18.—Adrianna Brinkley has just been released from the State Lunatic Asylum at Harrisburg, where she had been confined twenty-three years.

Although perfectly sane during all that time, thirty years ago the family of Miss Brinkley's father, Dr. Wm. Draper Brinkley, were leaders of Philadelphia society, and Adrianna was the center of an admiring circle.

Her father, who was a very successful lawyer, was a very successful lawyer, and he was a very successful lawyer.

CHANGING THE CAPITOL.

Three Additional Terraces—A Willing Donor Has Repaired Their Construction.

Washington, August 18.—(Daily day) when there is not rain you can get a good view of the Capitol building, and you can get a good view of the Capitol building.

We boast of having the finest building in the world, and it is probably the finest building in the world.

The object of this expenditure is to add to the height of the building, and to give some additional room for storage and appropriation of the building.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Terror on a Steamer, where a Mysterious Explosion Occurs.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 17.—The steamer Samuel M. Patten this morning was lying at the Arch street wharf.

The passengers and crew were startled by an explosion, which shook the boat from stem to stern, and when the smoke cleared away it was found that the entire fore part of the vessel above the water line had been badly damaged.

A number of passengers were injured, and some of them were killed.

The explosion occurred at about 10 o'clock, and the vessel was damaged to the extent of $10,000.

The present administration is neither Democratic, Republican nor Mugwump. It is a mixture, the like of which is unknown in the political history of the country, and is not satisfactory to the peoples of either political complexion.

In Richmond local option was defeated at the August election, but the temperance element was in the ascendancy in the city council, and a prompt action was made to defeat the sale of whisky by council putting saloon licenses up to $2,000.

The cattlemen who have been intruding on the Indian reservations undertook to induce the President to extend the time in which they were to vacate, but he was inexorable, and gave them to understand that when he said they had to vacate in a certain time that he meant exactly what he said.

The Yeoman is having its own fun, prodding those of its contemporaries who kicked so vigorously against the way in which Dick Tate was nominated, and it occasionally sends the prod to the quick. The Yeoman is the most devoted of Kentucky papers to the Democratic party and its machinery.

For Foreign Missions last year the Southern Baptist contributed $64,000, of which the Kentucky Baptist gave $12,500. The income of the Board of Home Missions last year was $70,000, of which Kentucky contributed near $7,000, and she will this year be a good deal better than last year's contribution.

A THICK mass at the bottom of the bottle of a Cincinnati whisky firm is trouble, and although they have successfully evaded the government for some time, the day of reckoning has at last come, and the firm will be glad to pay a big sum, and discard the thick stuff as produced to business in a legitimate way.

THERE are several brands of beer used in Covington which often cause the reporter labor in that city to be presented to the public in a very undesirable shape as witnesses the following clipping from the Covington column of Saturday's Enquirer:

"John Drinkard, who has been confined in the Covington jail on the charge of murder, was taken to Walton, Ky., yesterday for trial."

Who knows but that President Cleveland is willing to submit to a year's abuse that he may so thoroughly develop the Civil Service Law as to make it too obvious to longer stand? He probably thinks the strict observance of a worthless law is the best way to get rid of it. That is about the only policy that we see that can be offered for his actions.

By reference to the list of subscribers to the bank it is readily discovered that it is no night by ten, four mile ranges, some thought it would be. Besides, it is not gotten up through any ill will or prejudice any of the subscribers cherish toward another bank, but because it is believed that it will be a paying institution and a great convenience to the people of the county.

OFFICE and Owens will, no doubt, be candidates for Speaker of the next House of Representatives. They have each served a term as Speaker and made very satisfactory officers, but it is not about time that some other section of the State should be allowed to fill that office. These two gentlemen will certainly not be the only two who are qualified to perform the duties of Speaker. Give the mountain range, or the "Peary" chance a chance once in a while.

CALIFORNIA LETTER.

NORA CITY, CAL. AUG. 13, 1885.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

Since there is that element in the human mind which is ever desirous of communicating impressions upon the same to fellow beings, especially "kiss and kin," I, therefore, send these few lines to the Recorder.

Early in the morning of a few days since, even before the birds warbled their earliest and sweetest notes, and while the stars yet alone beautiful and bright in the blue vault above, we bestirred ourselves and made haste to prepare for a trip into the mountains to these, the celebrated Water Springs. I will not weary you with an attempted description of our journey here. Pages might be written of the levelled and grandeur of scenes in Chiles Canyon, who that waving ferns dipped their heads in the mountain streams, which sparkling in the earliest sunlight rays came streaming down to the water below, how the whirling quail and warbling birds gave life to hill and vale; how the waters rapid and foaming, or dashing and splashing over precipice like unto the waters of Loredo.

These and other scenes I repeat in this canyon, we pass by, leaving them for the imagination to picture as a part of your mind suggests. A few miles of travel through canyon and valley, over hill and mountain, we reached the residence of Mr. K. Harding, a venerable son of Kentucky. Mr. H. left his native state in the fall of '48 and reached these shores in the spring of '49. Mr. H. having been a close observer of the Encyclopaedia. Having seen as he has the State of California grow from a wild country, inhabited by the savage Indians and treacherous Mexican to its present magnitude and power, peopled by refined and intelligent citizens from all parts of the globe; a people scattered and nomadic, increase and developed into one million people with settled, happy and prosperous homes, the now wealthy and populous city of San Francisco rise from a village on a sandy and desert shore having seen all these developments and passed through the vicissitudes of a miner's life, trapped the bear and slain the panther. Mr. H.'s stories are full of interest, especially to the eastern man.

Remaining over night with Mr. H. and starting out early the next morning, he kindly consented to act as guide. We reached here about noon. After drinking freely of the mineral waters and resting a few hours at the highest peak, which led to the highest peak, where seated upon a great mass of stone heaved up till the strata are perpendicular, and stones lying about sparkling with that deceptive element, mica, I perceived these. Hero solitary, with all nature hushed and silent, I reminded myself of Alexander Selkirk, yet I cannot exclaim: "I am monarch of all I survey."

Looking away toward the sea there is a lovely view of hill and valley till the vision is broken by an elevated range crowned with the lofty Redwood, the monarch of the forest. To the north over peak and range, here covered with Chaparral there barren as the Mojave desert, again great masses of bare and glistening stones, we look till mountain dark and frowning forbids further meditation.

This, indeed, is a spot for meditation. What volumes are written by nature's hand in rock and minerals which lie about me. What a sense of admiration must be awakened in the mind of the observer for the hand that controlled the forces which wrought this mighty work. What a feeling of thankfulness for the benevolence of the Creator's display here, must the very soul of the holder be inspired with. For surely the same hand that formed the minerals deep down in the earth created and controlled the forces that they were to the surface where they may be secured by man. These and other such thoughts have filled my mind since reaching these heights; and now, as the sun is setting in the west where it soon shall be swallowed up by the deep blue sea, over which float feathery clouds with a golden fringe, I bid you all good night and pleasant dreams.

Yours Truly, T. O. GRAVES.

At present there is no effort being made to have a school in Morgan Academy this fall and winter. Prof. Stephenson will not teach, he expecting to receive a position in the Revenue Department in this district. A good school should be in progress there all the time; one that would control the entire educational patronage of the county, as people in the county could patronize a school at home with much less expense than one abroad. The people of this county believe in education, and a school can be conducted in such a manner at this place as to bring to it a liberal patronage. There are many advantages in favor of a school here that should be taken into consideration, and would be largely in its favor. Give the school a start.

The great St. Louis Fair commences October 5th and continues six days. A very liberal premium list is usual.

In this issue Col. Warren Mont-

fort, of New Liberty, Owen county, is announced as a candidate for Circuit Judge in this district. Col. Montfort is too well known in Boone county to need any introduction to the people, and it is elected to the office he desires, he will be ceaseless in his effort to administer justice to law and justice. He is a pleasant, courteous gentleman, mild in his manners and a man who makes friends wherever he goes.

In another column will be found the statement of the Superintendent of Public Instruction as to what will be the per capita of school fund for the year ending June 30th, 1885. It will be noticed that it is larger than it was last year, but it is not as great as many believed it should be from the amount of school taxes paid. But this shortage is accounted for by claiming that up in the mountain counties its all children and no money. The increase in the per capita this year probably arises, in part, from the increased amount of taxable property in the State and in part from the falling off in the yearly increase of children in the mountain portion of the State.

A Disturbed Cow Dead. Mrs. Samuel M. Shoemaker, of Washington, lost by death from inflammation of the lungs, on the 14th inst., the world renowned cow, "Princess Second" which astonished the world by living in seven days a yield of 46 lbs. and ten and a half ounces of butter. Test of her butter qualities was the per capita of 100, 1885. Sometime after the test the blankets were taken off rather suddenly, it is thought, and she took a cold, from which she never recovered. She was a magnificent animal, of great vitality and force, as well as a fine butter producer. One of the secrets of her immense yield of butter was her great vitality and appetite. During the very height of the test, when she was fed as large quantities of butter-producing food as it was thought she could safely bear, she broke loose one night and consumed over two hundred pounds of prepared food in a box in the stable. About a year ago Mrs. Shoemaker refused $25,000 for her. She was 8 years and 6 months old when she died. She was an imported cow, and was bought at auction in New York for $4,000. She was of the celebrated Comma strain. Her last calf was sold during an absence from home of Mrs. Shoemaker for $10,000, but the sale did not stand. Mrs. Shoemaker refusing to ratify it on her return.

In this issue Col. Warren Mont-

fort, of New Liberty, Owen county, is announced as a candidate for Circuit Judge in this district. Col. Montfort is too well known in Boone county to need any introduction to the people, and it is elected to the office he desires, he will be ceaseless in his effort to administer justice to law and justice. He is a pleasant, courteous gentleman, mild in his manners and a man who makes friends wherever he goes.

Shoemaker, of Washington, lost by death from inflammation of the lungs, on the 14th inst., the world renowned cow, "Princess Second" which astonished the world by living in seven days a yield of 46 lbs. and ten and a half ounces of butter. Test of her butter qualities was the per capita of 100, 1885. Sometime after the test the blankets were taken off rather suddenly, it is thought, and she took a cold, from which she never recovered. She was a magnificent animal, of great vitality and force, as well as a fine butter producer. One of the secrets of her immense yield of butter was her great vitality and appetite. During the very height of the test, when she was fed as large quantities of butter-producing food as it was thought she could safely bear, she broke loose one night and consumed over two hundred pounds of prepared food in a box in the stable. About a year ago Mrs. Shoemaker refused $25,000 for her. She was 8 years and 6 months old when she died. She was an imported cow, and was bought at auction in New York for $4,000. She was of the celebrated Comma strain. Her last calf was sold during an absence from home

Some one writes to the St. Louis Republic: "In your paper of the 26th ult., is a picture of the statue 'Star of the West,' a woman shading her eyes with her hand. It is not true to nature. A woman always shades her eyes by turning her hand over the palm up. So that the look will not burn. During the civil war a woman in the army in male attire was discovered by this gesture."

Prof. YATES labored hard to render the Teachers' Institute at this place last week, interesting and instructive, and if any of the teachers went home without having learned something, it was no fault of his. If we are allowed to we would suggest that there is too much silent dissent following the introduction of the various subjects introduced for the consideration of the Institute.

The subscribers to the Boone County Bank meet to-day to effect an organization. Those who have subscribed to the enterprise hail from every part of the county, and are representatives of thrift, industry and honesty, and with the management in the hands of such men as it is bound to fall, there is no room to doubt the success of the business which will be an advantage to the entire county.

After all the reports of killings and attempted assassinations in Rowan county, and the quattering of anania there to assist in the enforcement of the law, the recent grand jury failed to indict anybody for murder, giving as its excuse that it was impossible to obtain witnesses. There can be but little doubt that the real trouble was that indicated by Attorney-General Hardin in his speech in support of his motion to discharge the grand jury. The grand jury did just as he predicted it would.

Prof. JAS. W. TAYLOR is making an effort to secure the school in the Morgan Academy, and desires to plant a school that will justify him locating here permanently. The professor is a young man, and apparently endowed with a great deal of energy, a very necessary attribute for a successful instructor. He has had experience in teaching, having been assistant teacher of Greek and Latin in the State College at Lexington, and is recommended by the faculty of that institution. He can teach anything that the people will require of him. His terms are reasonable.

If the farmers realize good prices for their produce this fall and winter, there will be a large influx of money to Boone again during the next six months. Three million pounds of tobacco was produced last year, and the indications now are that that amount will be increased nearly a million pounds this year. This amount of tobacco sold at an average of three cents a pound will bring into the county $120,000, and when the sales of tobacco are augmented by the proceeds arising from the sales of the numerous other articles the county will put on the market, the aggregate will reach an amount surprising to our people. Boone is a thriving county in the matter of money making.

A correspondent of the New York Post, who has been studying the colored people of the South, says many of the preachers "are gifted with remarkable fluency, and can run with true oratorical skill over the whole gamut of emotions. None of them I heard couched his sermon in grammatical language, and yet some spoke with such genuine power that this defect was forgotten. There were at times, too, striking aptness and picturesqueness of illustration, ray similes and figures of speech, drawn from their observation of the fields and forests, and their manifold and ever-changing forms of life, or from their personal experience in those lowly walks of existence in which all their days had run. Most of the sermons, however, were strangely irrelevant and incoherent."

A noted statistician, Edward Atkinson, states that there is an abundance of room yet in this world. The 1,400,000,000 persons supposed to be on the globe could all find easy standing room within the limits of a field ten miles square, and by the aid of a telephone could be addressed at one time by a single speaker. In a field twenty miles square they could all be comfortably seated. Then take the land of the globe suitable for growing wheat; not more than one-twentieth is under cultivation. The average crop of wheat in the United States and Canada alone would give one person in every twenty of the population of the globe a barrel of flour in each year, with enough to spare for seed. We can raise grain enough on a small part of the territory of the United States to feed the whole world. If, therefore, there is hunger anywhere, it is not the fault of God or nature, but because of the incompetency or want of management on the part of those who direct the affairs of mankind. (From Democrat's Monthly for September).

The Courier-Journal suggests the following as the way out of the Rowan county trouble: What are the remedies? They are with the next Legislature. The county of Rowan must be abolished, or it must be joined to another judicial district.

The Governor must have the power to assign the Judge of one district to service in another. In the absence or other disability of a Judge the power to appoint must be given to the Governor. Choice by the bar has been greatly abused elsewhere than in Rowan, and choice by the bar really means in too many instances choice by the litigants.

The State must be allowed to summon juries from other counties, or districts, which is only an offset to the change of venue by the accused. Non-bailable cases must be clearly defined, and the discretion of the Judges in this matter must be limited.

The challenges of the State in a selection of a jury must equal those granted the accused. The aim of the court should be to secure a jury which will duly weigh the evidence, and intelligently form a conclusion. At present it is almost impossible to secure such a jury, and the whole system has fallen under reproach. By a little judicious legislation it can be redeemed.

This rains this week will continue the growth of the tobacco, and may prolong the season until it will have a small margin for the escape of the frost.

CROP NEWS.

The Independent says that the corn and tobacco crop in Gallatin county is remarkably fine.

Some now predict that corn will only realize 25 cents per bushel this fall. (Robertson Tribune).

The State Auditor estimates that Kentucky's tobacco crop last year was worth $15,838,202 and the corn crop $24,103,496.

Bountiful crop of persimmons this year, which is a "sign" that there will be lots of snow next winter, so the weather prognosticators say.

A young lady in Anderson county planted six acres in watermelons, cultivated and pruned them carefully, and is making money in the venture.

In Scott county, Dr. F. M. Cannon thinks his 8 acres of tobacco will average 9,000 lbs. while George Payne thinks his will be cut short 50 per cent by the dry weather.

The Flemingsburg Times-Democrat says: Corn is growing as rapidly as we ever saw it, and unless some unforeseen accident overtakes it the yield will be the largest for years.

A Fayette county farmer has forty acres in tobacco which promises a yield of 1,900 pounds to the acre. Another, with half as much acreage, thinks that each acre will make him 2,000 pounds.

Good soaking rains have visited this county, and crops have commenced growing with rapidity. Although some corn is damaged, there is a great outcome in the crop, and it promises to be immense.

Daniel Thompson, of near Millersburg, left at this office Monday, to buy a few samples of his 16 acres of tobacco. Some of the leaves in his patch measure 25 inches in width and 41 inches in length. (Kentuckian).

Reports from the South say the acreage of the cotton, corn, and tobacco crops is the largest on record. The reports are almost unanimous in stating the yields of these, as well as of smaller crops excepting wheat, will exceed the best ever produced before.

Some of our farmers tell us that the tobacco crop in this section is the largest, as to acreage, that we have had for many years, and that it hasn't been seriously damaged by the worms so far. It is feared, however, that they will get in their work in the make-up-for-lost-time style "this moon." The crop is needing rain, the yield will not be as good by big odds as was expected a few weeks since. (Franklin Favorite).

The mountains of Kentucky this season "blossom as the rose." Crops of all kinds were never as good in this section as now. Fruit of every kind is in abundance, while nuts of every description, from acorns to the toothsome chestnut, are plenty in excess of anything heretofore known.

The festive moonshiner is hard at work making "apple-jack," and temperance workers and vigilance committees are on the lookout. Game of all kinds will doubtless be numerous this fall.

A tobacco parasite is said to be damaging tobacco crops in the eastern part of the State. The Kentucky Stock Farm in reference to it, says: "It is now known to be broom rape. Webster says it is a British parasite plant, of the genus Orobanchaceae, which is destitute of green foliage, and subsists on the roots of other plants, particularly the broom, ferns, clover and the like. Its embraces are fatal, and many of our farmers are greatly alarmed at its appearance and rapid growth."

The New York Supreme Court decided a few days ago that a speculator in corn who was sold out by his broker in default of additional margin, which were called for and not furnished, could recover all the margins previously deposited, and cost.

GLANDERS exists in Parke county, Ind., and several horses and one man have died of it. Five horses affected with the disease were killed by order of the Secretary of the State Board of Health, and several other horses quarantined for 60 days, and it is hoped the disease will be stamped out.

The political fun has commenced in Ohio, and during the next five or six weeks, politics will be at high tide. The Democrats won one battle with the ticket they now present, and will make a desperate effort to gain triumph. The next legislature of that State and to which members are elected at the October election, elects a United States Senator, a successor John Sherman, and the Republicans will fight into the next district that may retain the United States Senator. Although, the prospects favor a very interesting campaign in Ohio.

We have not noticed the usual amount of praise of Representatives-elect. What is the matter with the men who are to compose the next legislature that they don't come in for an unduly dose of puff? It does seem that those papers that make it a business to discover that "the next legislature will be composed of the ablest body of men," etc., are slow about making their avowal this time.

STATE ITEMS.

The Prison is about the cleanest and coolest place in Frankfort.

A marriage was solemnized in the Mammoth Cave bridal chamber a few days since.

A Clark county lady who lost the power of speech about two years ago has suddenly and fully recovered.

The Richmond fair was a decided success in every respect. The stock exhibited was the best in the history of Madison county.

Lexington has found 107 sites for its Federal building, but there are 106 objections to each of them, so the location has not been determined.

Several unsuccessful attempts have been made to burn the residence of S. G. Underwood since the burning of his barn a few weeks ago. (Trimble Press).

At the last public sale in Lexington good mules brought from $150 to $176, medium from $100 to $125, and plugs from $30 to $60. No cattle were offered.

It is estimated that the recent hail storm which passed over here a few days ago, ruined 800 acres of tobacco in the counties of Bourbon, Bath and Montgomery. (Paris Citizen).

A hale old citizen of Barren county 83 years of age, broke up ten acres of land last spring, plowed it ten times, hoed it once, and has raised an excellent crop without assistance of any kind.

A Jefferson county woman went into Collector Attilla Cox's office in Louisville a few days ago and asked for Mr. Matilda Cox, the Collector. That will give Mr. Cox a new twist to his name.

In Ballard county a young man named Norton was run over by a wagon and seriously if not fatally injured. He had scarcely been taken home when the body of his brother killed in an accident, arrived.

A few weeks since a Harrison Co. lady gave birth to a daughter that has twelve well-formed fingers and four thumbs, eighteen toes and two tongues, the lower tongue being forked. At last accounts it was healthy and doing well.

It no appears that increasing the tax valuation of lands in Warren county 56 per cent. was caused by the Board of Equalization making an error in footing up the columns. The mistake will be corrected by the Auditor, and Warren is happy again.

Uncle R. P. Fox, the celebrated mule trader, of Madison, told us in Lexington Monday that the mule market was looking up considerably, and that the prices for colts, would yet be good, owing to the abundant corn crop. (Winchester Democrat).

The Owensboro Messenger says that the Kansas officials of late internal revenue officials is becoming quite formidable. As soon as the boys lose their places they start for the West, and nearly all of them settle down in the prairies of that Republican State.

We wrote last one day last week of a monster Trimble apple grown by Mr. Wu. Moreland a monster apple of the King variety, that measured nearly eighteen inches in circumference. When split into two pieces, measured six inches across. (Trimble Press).

A peculiar affliction has been prevailing for some weeks among the cattle of Mr. John McElroy, of this county. About 35 head of them have gone blind. The eyes become white, and soon lose the sense of sight. The cattle are not much affected otherwise, and lose but little flesh. (Lebanon Times).

At the last term of the Gallatin County Court the county subscribed $750 per mile for the building of a turnpike from Sugar Creek to the Boone county line, the company being organized and known as the Point Lick & Boone County Turnpike Co., the amount to be paid as each mile is completed.

The Russellville Herald-Enterprise says: "Those of our people who get dissatisfied with Kentucky and go West to find a place where they can 'make plenty of money' nearly always miss their calculations. Having had a pretty extensive acquaintance with the western people, the country, climate, etc., our advice to any one who is making a living in Kentucky is to stay at home, practice economy and look to the future for success. Here he can have tenfold more comforts than he can obtain in a new home."

Mr. J. M. Vick in coming to town Tuesday, met with a singular accident, about two miles below town. Coming to a crossing of the railroad he saw the construction train coming and knowing his horse was afraid of the cars, he got out of the buggy and held the horse by the bridle, when the train was directly opposite, the horse made a jump toward the train throwing Mr. Vick down and drawing the buggy over him; the horse ran to the train and jumped up on one of the cars drawing the buggy partly upon the car and was carried about 100 yards, when he jumped or fell off. The horse was injured but little, Mr. Vick riding him back home but the buggy was smashed to smithereens. (Lebanon Times).

By bidding farewell to a congregation with whom he had dwelt happily, a Virginia preacher said: "I do not regret our separation, dear brethren, for three good and valid reasons: The first is that you don't love me; the second, that you don't love one another; and the third, that God does not love you. You don't love me—my salary is several months in arrears; you don't love one another or there would be no such a dearth of marriages among you; and God doesn't seem to love you as you ought to be loved, because there have been so few funerals among you lately." He was not pressed to remain.

HEYN & BRO.

RISEING SUN, INDIANA.

Dress Goods, Etc.

We have laid in the most captivating Styles of Fall Dress Goods both of either Wool or Silk—or both combined. Ladies' Cloths, Berlin, Tribos, Cloaking, Cashmeres, Cut Cashmeres, Sateens, Brocades, etc., with all the latest novelties in trimmings to suit. Silk Velvets, all colors in plain and embossed, which will be the great favorites of the season, and they must be seen to be appreciated.

HEYN & BRO.

Children's Cloaks, Etc.

We have laid in our stock of Ladies' and Children's Cloaks, Russian Circulars, New Miketa, Havelocks, etc., in all grades and prices—what will insure their sale. Don't fail to see them.

HEYN & BRO.

Flannels and Yarns.

We keep always, a full line of J.
Schofield & Son's Yarns, Flannels, Jeans, Blankets, etc., at lower prices than they are offered anywhere else, and being the only firm here that carries the Genuine Schofield Goods, we are enabled to buy larger quanties at lower prices than most country stores.

HEYN & BRO.

We are the only Merchants in this vicinity that carry a Full Line of every article we advertise, and have succeeded in placing before our Kentucky friends and customers, such goods as are adapted to their wants. One of our firm being now East among the largest houses in this country, he has in the last 4 or 5 weeks bought up Immense Bargins, so that we will be able to save you all, from 10 to 25c. on the dollar on your purchases.
With this great advantage in hand we are anxious of almost doubling our sales over, for many years. We want to give our patrons the benefit of these bargins, and when you visit Rising Sun to buy your Fall Supplies be sure to call on us and save from 10 to 25c. on the dollar.

Ready-made Clothing.

In regard to our Ready-Made Clothing, we will say that we defy competition with any house in the country. We have in stock the finest as well as medium and Cheap
Goods, with the exception of Shoddy Goods. We keep all sizes and styles suitable for Men, Youths, Boys and Children.

HEYN & BRO.

Boots and Shoes.

We keep a great variety of the best makes, such as (Hick, Hocker's, whose goods we can guarantee to our trade); also goods from other good firms, such as Thorpe, Simpkinson, etc., houses that are well known all over the country, and their goods can be bought with full confidence.
By buying your Boots and Shoes of us you will get superior Goods at Lower Prices than anywhere else, as the selling of these goods gives us so additional expense.

Suits made to Measure.

Clothing made to measure from a well selected stock of cloths, Corsairs, Worsted, Cambrics and other goods on short notice—and a perfect fit guaranteed, with superior workmanship.

HON. ISAMATH A. SPAULDING, of Union, Hon. Charles A. Offutt, of Bourbon, and Hon. Wm. C. Owens, of Scott, are the authoritatively announced candidates for the Speakership of the House.

The relations between the Covington Commonwealth and the Frankfort Yeoman are these as to the former. The Commonwealth is for Col.
S. M. Major, one of the Yeoman's editors, for Public Printer, but against J. Stoddard Johnston, the other, for any and every thing.

SERIAL reports from the bright
tobacco belts of Virginia and North Carolina agree, with a few exceptions
that the crop is a failure. The estimates range from 20 to 30 per cent.
loss in weight and color. The plant,
owing to the drought, is firing badly,
and is being cut to save it from total loss. In some districts no rain has fallen for a month or six weeks.

SOME of the Texas cattle feeders
are strongly in favor of feeding corn
to their cattle in Texas, expressing the conviction that their State can supply corn-fed cattle cheaper than either Iowa or Illinois. They claim that Texas cattle can be placed on the Chicago market weighing 1,200 pounds each at three years just as well as weighing 900 pounds, at a slight extra cost.

It is reported that Col. Thea. L.
Jones has not said that he would not again be a candidate for Governor.
We are sorry to believe that Colonel
Jones has any aspirations in that direction, but should be a candidate
he would not see any cause now
why he should lose the vote of this county, but, at the same time, there would not be the enthusiasm which heretofore prevailed in Boone during his canvass.

Last Thursday Louisville put
the big pot in the little one, it being
the occasion of the tobacco parade,
celebrating the enormous sale of one hundred thousand hogsheads of tobacco in that market since the first of last January, which surpasses the sales of any other market in the world, besides the like never in the market in the same length of time.
The Louisville tobacco market is a hummer.

SOME Western farmers advocate
keeping their swine in the yards
every morning in the fall of the year
until after the dew is off the grass.
The reason given is that during the cool nights the germs of hog cholera
are thought to collect upon the surface of the earth in contact with the manure, which, owing to the hog carrying his nose near the ground, introduces the system and is liable to be diseased.

has in the last 4 or 5 weeks bought up Immense Bargains, so that we will be able to save you all, from 10 to 25c, on the dollar on your purchases.
With this great advantage in hand we are sanguine of almost doubling our sales over former years. We want to give our patrons the benefit of these bargains, and when you visit Rising Sun to buy your Fall Supplies be sure to call on us and save from 10 to 25c, on the dollar.

Thanking you kindly, One and All for the most liberal patronage extend-

Union, Hon. Charles A. Offutt, of Bourbon, and Hon. Wm. C. Owens, of Scott, are the authoritatively announced candidates for the Speaker-
ship of the House.

The relations between the Covington Commonwealth and the Frankfort Yeoman are these as to the for-
mer. The Commonwealth is for Col.
S. M. Major, one of the Yeoman's
editors, for Public Printer, but against J. Stoddard Johnston, the other, for any and every thing.

SERIAL reports from the bright
tobacco belts of Virginia and North Carolina agree, with a few exceptions
that the crop is a failure. The estimates range from 20 to 30 per cent.
loss in weight and color. The plant,
owing to the drought, is firing badly,
and is being cut to save it from total loss. In some districts no rain has fallen for a month or six weeks.

SOME of the Texas cattle feeders
are strongly in favor of feeding corn
to their cattle in Texas, expressing
the conviction that their State can supply corn-fed cattle cheaper than either Iowa or Illinois. They claim
that Texas cattle can be placed on
the Chicago market weighing 1,200
pounds each at three years just as well as weighing 900 pounds, at a slight extra cost.

It is reported that Col. Thea. L.
Jones has not said that he would not
again be a candidate for Governor.
We are sorry to believe that Colonel
Jones has any aspirations in that direction, but should be a candidate
he would not see any cause now
why he should lose the vote of this county, but, at the same time, there
would not be the enthusiasm which heretofore prevailed in Boone during his canvass.

Last Thursday Louisville put
the big pot in the little one, it being
the occasion of the tobacco parade,
celebrating the enormous sale of one hundred thousand hogsheads of tobacco in that market since the first
of last January, which surpasses the
sales of any other market in the world, besides the like never in the market in the same length of time.
The Louisville tobacco market is a hummer.

SOME Western farmers advocate
keeping their swine in the yards
every morning in the fall of the year
until after the dew is off the grass.
The reason given is that during the
cool nights the germs of hog cholera
are thought to collect upon the surface
of the earth in contact with the manure, which, owing to the hog carrying his nose near the ground, introduces the system and is liable to be diseased.

Mrs. Emily Campbell has purchased the residence on the corner of Union and Jefferson streets and now occupies it.

The people season at Green Ridge closed with a very pleasant gathering of young people last Saturday afternoon.

Dave Utz caught a fox, one night last week, in trap which he had set for varmints which were devastating upon his farm.

Rev. N. R. Quackenbush, of Madison, Indiana, will preach in the Universalist church at this place, next Sunday, the 27th inst.

Samuel F. Kyle (known in this section as Sam, only) and Miss Frances E. Wrote, of Havana, Illinois, marry to-morrow at 1:30 o'clock.

George W. Pugh has a very fine crop of tobacco some of the leaves of which measure 8 inches in length and are proportionately wide.

Red sunsets are the sign again this fall, and those who believe them an omen of a severe winter had better begin laying in their winter supplies.

At G. V. Rouse's sale last week, corn in the field sold for 30 cents per bushel. Some sales have been made in the country as low as 25 cents per bushel in the field.

No preaching in the Baptist church at this place last Sunday night after a regular meeting. The church has not employed a successor to Rev. R. E. Carney.

If you will get up to-night about two o'clock you will witness an eclipse of the moon, provided it is a clear night. No smoked glass will be needed for this occasion.

The attention of the enterprising reporters of the Enquirer and Commercial Gazette are respectfully directed to that mild confound in the Lawrenceburg jail.

On the 20th inst. J. O. Huey, administrator of Younger Johnson, will sell at public sale the late residence of deceased, near Pittsburg, all of his personal property.

Richwood, Riddell & Stephens' fine house was not done at last account, but it was thought that it was some better. He had both plank-eye and lung fever.

NOTICE—I have a large load of coal at the mouth of Garrison, on the Ohio river, which I am selling at 10 and 12c Pittsburg and Ohio river coal.

George Yonell is the only farmer of whom we have any knowledge that has a farm which produces briars with hair on them. He sent one in the other day partially shorn.

Thanks to Mr. M. S. Rice for a basket of very fine extra grapes sent to this office. Mr. Rice is one of the best informed persons in the county in the business of horticulture.

The flux has made its appearance in the Gunpowder neighborhood about three miles from Burlington. A. M. Zarnes lost one child from it, and there were several other cases the latter part of last week.

About the first of next month Jo C. Revell will move his family into the house now occupied by J. M. Conner on the Bellevue brick near town. Jim will move to the brick known as the Sherrill building.

W. A. Criger did not take his Almon home to Missouri, as expected, but left him in charge of Mr. Geo. Gordon his son-in-law, who lives about one and half miles from town, on the Burlington and Union road.

This is said to be the difference between a town tacker and country Jake when contemplating matrimony during the fall or winter: The former carries a large lot of fruit; the latter fattens a couple of pigs or two hogs.

John Furlong stopped in yesterday and after gazing a while upon the lean and lank appearance of the steed of the enquirer, he presented them with a wheelbarrow load of roasting ears, and we will have another fat steed in a few days.

We have in our agricultural display an ear of corn or rather a cluster of 12 ears all grown in one husk and presented by D. M. Hewitt, of Woolper Heights. Nobody else in this section of country could have produced such a novel formation of corn but Mr. Hewitt.

It takes a considerable space this week to meet the demands of our readers, but they must be accommodated as it is only occasionally their demands are all made the same week. The reader should examine the advertisements and see the special inducements.

The corn and tobacco stalks have an unusual amount of sap this fall, hence the difficulty in getting these crops cut without injury. When the season for stripping tobacco arrives many will be surprised to find that the tobacco is injured worse than expected.

Trumpet Mills, Fifth and Craig Streets, Covington, Ky., are now running. Highest prices paid for Wheat, Rye and Corn. Delighting on most favorable terms. They are making the best flour and corn meal in the State, and invite the farmers of Boone and

J. A. Davis, who recently moved from Hebron to Cincinnati, has been appointed ganger by Collector Bishop, of that city. The appointment was not expected by him. His first knowledge he had of the Collector's intention was the notice of his appointment.

There is a great demand for house room for tobacco this fall. The quantity in the county is considerably in excess of former years, and to get the most money out of it, it behooves the farmers to handle it with the greatest care from now until the week is ready for market.

The last capturing of "Cooley," the negro who killed young Carpenter at Richwood, was in Indiana last week, but when Mr. Carpenter went over in response to a dispatch announcing Cooley's arrest, he found a saddle colored negro instead of a black one as is Cooley, and of course the negro was at once released.

Coming home from the city Tuesday night of last week, James Westby reduced his wagon to a wreck by capsizing it at Richwood. Fortunately, the wagon was hurt, but did not injure the driver. Tompkins have implicit confidence in his being perfectly destitute of criminal habits, the finger of suspicion might indicate that a brotherly investigation be made. But say.

Some of the tobacco which was put in the house the first of last week, previous to that time, commenced spoiling and it became necessary to put it out on the scaffold again. Had the weather been warm and damp during the first of last week, much of the tobacco then in the house would have been seriously injured. As it was, some considerable damage resulted in many instances.

Chastown Fowler, an old Burlington boy who now resides near Fairberry, Illinois, was here a few days last week, having come in after his sister, Mrs. J. P. Blythe, who returned from her sister and her husband, J. P. Blythe, expecting to make that country their future home, Jerry having made arrangements to take charge of a farm which Chastown rented for him a few days before he started in for his sister.

A CARD.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

Some time ago you published a card from J. W. Grubbs charging me as being the cause of his trouble, which untrue—he was not arrested by any charge prepared by me—he was arrested on the charge of shooting Mr. James Lampton. From what I can learn from the card it stated that the man who had him arrested was that I owed him $1,000, and which I also kept from paying him, and which I also untrue. I do not owe him one dollar, or anyone else but what I am able to pay anyone willing to do so on demand. He further states that he has an agreement for $1,000 in the hands of Lewis Rice, which is untrue. From what I can learn he has an affidavit in Mr. Rice's hands which I have been trying to get him to copy but have not been able to get one. I called on Mr. Rice and demanded a copy, but he was not willing to let me have one until he saw J. W., but he refused and told Mr. Rice to let no one see it. I have no way to get it, and I feel myself unable to get it out of my pocket.

No man can say, with truthfulness, that I ever cheated him out of a dollar that I owed or that I ever took a cent from him in any way. I am ready to pay 100 cents for every dollar I owe on demand, I am certain J. W. had a just claim against me he would bring suit for it, and my fair minded man knows it.

M. G. Grooms.

WALTON.

The excursion from this place to the Dayton, Ohio, Soldiers' Home, and the suspension of Messrs. We clipped the following from the St. Louis Republic of September 2d:

NORTH BEND, O., Sept. 22.—This morning at 10 o'clock Mrs. Clara H. Belsay, an old and highly esteemed lady, died at the residence of her son, Col. Junius S. Belsay, immediately opposite this place.

Clara H. Eve was born in Virginia December 27, 1802, and with her father's family came to Boone county, Ky. In 1850, settling near where the greater part of her life was spent. She was the mother of seven pupils who formed the first school of Mrs. Anna Lane, mother of Gen. James Lane, a very refined and highly educated lady, and of the seven only one remained. Major John Moore, last married the late Col. Galt. Belsay, a prosperous farmer and to tobacco manufacturer, and an influential politician. He was the first Democrat elected to the Senate from the northern portion of Kentucky.

Mrs. Belsay moved to Missouri in 1871, and until two years ago was a resident of the Platte purchase, when falling and a desire to close her life where so much of it had been spent, induced her to return to Kentucky. At an early age she united with the Baptist church, and throughout her life was noted for works of charity and Christian consistency. Her great-grandmother and grandmother Eve died in Scott county, Kentucky, the latter at the advanced age of 107.

Other nine children, two only remain to mourn her death. Col. Junius S. Belsay, of Kentucky, and Montgomery P. Belsay, of Platte county, Mo. She leaves thirty-two grand-children, and twenty-four great-grandchildren, two of the latter married, the majority of them residents of Missouri.

Criminal business before the Justice of the Peace was quite lively last week considering the convention of the Big Sixteen was so near at hand. The first case to which the County Attorney's attention was called was before Esq. Curley, at Walton, before whose court Jno. Fink was arraigned, he having taken too much corn juice, after which he committed perjury. Walter Reed, and among other things pulled out the pocket cannon and discharged it in the streets to the great peril of the citizens. Twenty-five dollars fine and 10 days in imprisonment solved Mr. Fink. Wednesday the Attorney was called to the court to prosecute a couple of young men charged with assaulting and beating another. In this case the accused were held to answer before the grand jury this week. Friday Mr. Tolin arraigned court at Hebron, where some parties were charged with shooting in to one Slacks' house, breaking out the windows and doing other damages.

DIED.—At his residence in Florence, about half past nine o'clock last night, Mr. L. C. Yager, after an illness of several months. Mr. Yager was about 75 years of age, and is well known in the county, having filled the office of County Superintendent one term. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss, who have the sympathy of the entire community. He will be buried in the cemetery at that place to-morrow.

Mr. H. C. Dier, of the firm of Dier & Stanner, dealer in hardware and lumber, Walton, Ky., has sold his interest in the business to Mr. Stanner, and has gone into the fruit tree business, at which place he has a nursery. Mr. Dier has years of experience in that business and has purchased of Mr. Seiderberg, of near Taylorport, the right of a cherry tree, to bud from this tree eighty years old, eighty-two feet wide, four feet high, and has never failed to bear for forty years. The fruit is nice and large.

In December 1882 Jas. Harvey Moore was arrested and committed to jail by Esq. Baker and Bannister in default of bail, on the charge of stealing a horse from one John Frasier, and before being indicted at the April term, 1883, he escaped by running past the jailer one morning when taking his breakfast to the jail. He remained away from the county until recently, and last Saturday he eloped with a daughter of O. P. Kile, of Big Bone. Constable Coyle, of Beaver, started in pursuit and captured Moore at near Northville, Carroll county, and returned him to the jail of this county about dusk last Sunday evening. Moore was in high glee until lodged behind the bars when he wilted.

On Friday last, when H. P. Stephens and S. W. Tolin returned from rectifying the morals of some Beaver young men, Perry had two apparent something callously wrapped in his overcoat. What do you suppose the two were? Well, not two wads of the genuine hooch, of course, although the size and shape would lead you easily to such a conclusion, and yet, two wads were, Jimmie in his line was captured by Uncle Jake Clerk—two mammoth ears of corn, about fifteen inches in length, with an average of sixty-five grains to the row, or about 1,300 grains to the ear. These corns were a little over the average of a fifty ear field. Mr. Clerk claims a yield of eighty bushels to the acre, and this is not an over-estimate.

Personal Notices.

(If you have friends at a distance visiting you, or if you have business, or pleasure, let us have them for this column.)

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Brady will visit Jacksonville, Fla., in a few days.

Mr. Will Tanner and wife, of Florence, are visiting in Missouri, and attending the St. Louis Fair.

Charley Winton, who is attending the Woodland High school, Cincinnati, was at home Sunday.

LEWISBURG.

Oh, beautiful days where art thou gone?

W. S. Cole's school is prospering with an upper class of forty sublimative pupils as any one would wish.

Miss Eldora Rouse, who has been visiting her cousin at Fairmont, Ohio, has returned home and reports a very pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. May might an army of forty well armed with bells, horns and horse fiddles marched in line of two, around Leonard Rouse's place of abode and gave three cheers for Len and then on the march.

After he became deaf, the inside of the door was thrown open with a welcome, come in, and partake of the delicious fruits which were prepared for the wedding supper. My happiness and prosperity go with it, and I am sure of it.

Funny thing to see—Henry Cole eating Sweet "tater," Cole & Rouse trading pairs—Cole Rouse—going home from a charivari.

HABIT HARRY.

Mike Bailey is improving slowly from the effects of typhoid fever.

E. C. Calvert is doing some repairing about his residence in the way of paving and fencing.

My Mary Darby, widow of the late Willis Darby, left last Sunday for Walnut Hills to make her future home with relatives.

Mrs. Ceyton, mother of Mrs. Moxie, is very low in East Bend with paralysis, also Aunt Bess Holmes with other troubles. Both of them are in their 90's.

Mr. John S. Huey, of Bellevue, was in town Friday. We cannot say whether it was an electrifying trip or not, but will find out next August.

Thomas Eighin, of Vevoy, arrived and spent a few days with your pencil above, thence to Huntsville and Burlington to spend a couple of weeks with relatives.

River very low. Work on the dyke progressing rapidly. The cause of the low water is dredging out the channel. The current is very swift, about a four foot fall in less than a quarter of a mile.

Deputy Sheriff Gannett played havoc with the people here last week. There was a large congregation following him in case of the pigs and chickens, to say nothing about the women and children.

Bellevue.

Miss Lucy Bots is visiting relatives in Bellevue, Ind.

Mrs. James Pope and daughter, of Ghent, Ky., are visiting relatives here.

Mr. Edward Duncan and wife, of Ghent, are visiting (J. Kelly and family).

Last week Rev. Mr. Carney moved his household effects from here to Portsmouth, Ohio, where he has been called to preach.

Last week W. B. Kelly shipped 75 bushels of apples from here. He expects to ship 1,000 barrels this fall. His orchard is loaded with a fine crop.

Dr. Platt, who has been confined to his bed for the past week and threatened with typhoid fever, is now somewhat better, but still confined to his room.

The first of the week Messrs. Maurer, Dick and John Dick shipped 250 bushels of buckwheat. The five wheat ships of our city are now working their full complement of hands.

The damp, misty, rainy weather of last week ended with a sudden change Saturday evening to cooler weather, and on Sunday the air was decidedly cool, with a light breeze from the north of the season thus far, the thermometer registering 38°.

Last Monday our public school began. Prof. L. M. Whitehead, of Carrollton, Ky., is the teacher. We hope that every parent in the district will patronize the school and give their children the benefit of the five months' school. Our Trustees deserve much credit for the energy they used in getting the school with all the opposition that was used against it.

More than the usual acreage has been sown in wheat here this season—most of it in the corn fields. I notice that most of our farmers have sown their grain among the corn with land drills, which we fear is not as good a way as putting the grain in with a double shovel plow, and the ground loosened up with a plow or harrow before using the drill. But we are learning.

Mrs. M. B. Greene, who was stricken with paralysis last Sunday a week, died last Monday evening, and was buried in the cemetery at this place on last Wednesday. Funeral services were held in the Christian church.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Armstrong, of Rising Sun, Ind. The exercises were conducted in the order of the Presbyterian church. Quite a large congregation followed the remains to their last resting place.

PLATTSMOUTH.

Mrs. Stone Kirk is expected to die. Rev. Froh has returned to this circuit.

Mr. Seiree, of Chicago, was here last week visiting relatives.

The big sixteenth circuit will have quite a feast with the boys this sitting.

The brass band has been organized again with all colored performers.

James A. Foster, near Springfield, Illinois, was visiting here last week.

The writer's little boy was badly bitten in the face by a dog the other day.

Dr. Sutton, of Aurora, Ind., made a professional visit here one day last week.

Kentucky's Boone county now has a record in crime second to none in the State.

Mr. J. A. Botts, who has been quite sick for some time, is some better at this writing.

As yet the Recorder has not taken a whack at Murat Halstead and his letters of 1883.

Six grown men and two or three dogs engaged in a fight in front of the Avenue Hotel last night.

Persons traveling the Woolper pike after night should be careful at the iron bridge, or they will drive over the bank into the creek.

The Black Million, of Petersburg, are in a heap of trouble now, because of their number being detected in stone-old man Corken's house.

Andy Krosser has sold the farm he lately purchased of John Voshell to Mr. Walters, of Lawrenceburg. Andy expects to stay in this neighborhood.

Petersburg now has telephone communication with Cincinnati.

They experienced some trouble in getting the wire across the river at the ferry at Grove Hill.

Some of the farmers have commenced stripping their tobacco. The supposition is that tobacco will bring much better prices than it did last year, and the farmers are anxious to get it in.

J. Frank Grant's new residence in Petersburg will soon be completed, and will be among the finest in the county.

intelligible announcement, and changing of the request "yes more" into "send on more," was evaluated to produce annoyance. It is a curious piece of composition. A telegraph clerk turned out: "I urged a compliment concerning desirability of their cause and bounds of the exorcism." This interpreted meaneth: "The clerk urged a complaint concerning the exertion of their cause at the hands of the executive." St. Vitus!

seems to have puzzled an operator he rendered it "Vile dance," a notion which the unfortunate might not have disputed. The "antiquities of the church," once telegraphist into trouble, for the audacity to write "in quities church," which must have shocked "unco guid." A paper had to apologize for having—through a telegraph error—in the report of an un-lawsuit referred to a "religious" instead of a "litigious" family. It can be no question but the clerk wrote "subterranean taverns," "caverns" was intended, and has been suffering from the effects of a recent visit to some underground shop.—London Standard.

We are authorized to announce P. U. MORT as a candidate for reelection to the office of Circuit Judge in this district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce GEO. C. DRANE as a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge in this district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce THOS. R. GORDEN, of Owen County, as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in this Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

ONE cause of so much "local" legislation the Lexington Recorder says is the fact that it costs nothing to get charters and such things from the legislature, while it would cost something to pay the fees of the courts. The legislators should remember that their sessions cost the whole people something and that they have no right to tax the whole people that a few individuals may save a few dollars each in fees.

This week the Recorder passes the tenth mile post in its march to fortune and fame, and we can scarcely realize that, except a brief intermission, we have been chronicling local events for that period. The paper is now 129 months older than many expected it would ever be, and enjoying a patronage that has been of a steady growth. Now is the time to subscribe. Only $1.50.

Dr. CHENEVET, Superintendent of the Lexington Insane Asylum, has been put through another investigation, and from the testimony it looks very much like the charges preferred against him were the offspring of spite. The doctor has some enemies about Lexington who want to see him relieved of his office, to accomplish which they trump up all manner of charges against him.

The soldiers' monument at Atlanta is to have statues of Grant, Lee, Johnston and Sherman around the base of the column. Near the top will be two soldiers, the blue and the gray, clasping hands; and above the globe that crowns the summit will be the goddess of liberty. The structure will be one hundred and eighty feet in height, and will cost one hundred thousand dollars.

The Capital removal racket which it is said will come up at the next meeting of the legislature should be nipped in the bud. There are too many measures of vital importance to the State which should be attended to by the legislature for it to waste time in a wrangle over a location for the seat of government.

Trimble is a great fruit growing county, and no mistake. Mr. A. J. Trout sold this season 800 worth of cherries, $40 worth of grapes, 172 bushels of pears at $1 per bushel, 630 barrels of apples and has 10 barrels of crab apples, which he expects to realize $10 per barrel.—Press.

The late re-union of Confederate and Federal soldiers at Owensboro was a pronounced success both in the numbers in attendance, and the cordial spirit of fraternity which prevailed among the old soldiers of both armies. Many prominent men on both sides were present.

Mrs. GEN. GRANT has written a letter to Mary Grace, of New York, which should forever close the discussion as to the final resting place of her husband's remains. She desires that they shall remain where they are at present.

JOHN SHERMAN and Judge Forker went to Virginia and took a very active part in the campaign for the benefit of Mahone, a rebel brigadier. Politics make strange bed fellows.

The candidates for County Judge in Marion county are publishing lengthy articles in the Standard, and the discussion is approaching the "office and pistol point" for two.

The Chinese government has decided to maintain a standing army of 600,000 men to be increased in war time to 1,200,000.

In five days time Whitley county fellow killed his man, was arrested, indicted, tried, found guilty and sentenced to be hung December 21.

Mr. DUNE, the temperance lecturer, has 600 joiners at New Liberty, last week.

The total assessed value of railroad property in the State is $35,000,000.

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN.

(Carried on under the auspices of the County Teachers' Association. Address all papers and communications for this column to—
J. L. RYAN, Burlington, Ky.
J. C. MACE, Burlington, Ky.)

At the last meeting of the Teachers' Association at Walton, it was decided to form a Library for the teachers of the county, instead of joining the State Teachers' Reading Circle. The object of the library shall be to provide a suitable list of books upon the science of teaching and general culture, for the county.

It is proposed to start the library with one hundred volumes, ten of which have already been donated by Prof. Yates, of Covington, on condition that the other ninety volumes be raised by the Association.

Now, we wish for every teacher, every school officer, every patron and friend of the cause of education to help us in this work. It will take at least $125 to start the library, and this must be raised by subscription among the teachers and friends of education in the county. A list of all subscriptions will be published in the Recorder.

Let every teacher in the county start a subscription paper and work faithfully to raise his share of the funds. The teachers of the county need improvement in their profession, to give better satisfaction to the patrons of the common schools. They must engage in it as a profession, and a life work and not as a stepping stone to something higher or better. But how can we prevent them? By educating them in their profession.

Let not a teacher or patron refuse to contribute to this noble object, in behalf of the teachers of this county. In the end the patrons will derive the benefit, which must necessarily follow the establishment of such a library. The education of the teachers in their profession will directly benefit the schools of the county, and thus will the ultimate results of the library be in favor of the patrons of the schools.

The Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows in session at Louisville last week elected James T. Willis, of Williams-town, Grand Master for the present year, which is a high honor well bestowed. James is a prime favorite with all who know him, and the vote in the election indicates that he has pitted against an extremely popular brother. The fraternity in this State has got a level-headed at the helm again this year. The Louisville Commercial says: "The following candidates for Grand Master were placed in nomination: James T. Willis, of Centurian Lodge, No. 100, Williams-town, Grant county; R. H. Thompson, of Boone Lodge, No. 1, Louisville, J. M. Daniels, of Bourbon Lodge, No. 22, Paris, Bourbon Co. The name of Daniels was withdrawn before the balloting began. The first ballot for the first time in the history of the Grand Lodge, resulted in a tie vote between Messrs. Willis and Thompson, and to decide the election recourse was had to lots.

The names of the candidates, together with the lot and shaker well together. Mr. Hinkle, the superintendent of the hall, was then called upon to draw the lucky name. The first two ballots were blank, but the third bore the name of Mr. Willis, and he was declared the Grand Master. This election was the most enthusiastic that the lodge has ever held."

To sum up the crop situation for the year, we would have a large product, the yield of corn, oats, cotton and probably rice, sugar and fruits being larger than last year, while the yield of wheat, hay, rice, potatoes and tobacco is smaller. On the whole the balance appears to be, to a moderate extent, in favor of the year 1885-'86 in point of yield, but in respect to values there is no improvement in breadstuffs, while live stock and their products, and tobacco are much lower, and cotton is also lower. The outlook of foreign demand is only fair as contrasted with the last year or two.

CHARTER peddling is a fault with which the legislature in this State is charged. The charter business is one branch which detains the legislature, when a large portion of it can be done by the County Courts, a general law having been passed for that purpose, and when a charter which can be granted by a county court is applied for in the legislature, the would-be incorporators should be sent back to the court, and not allowed to intrude on the General Assembly, the time of which can be employed to a better advantage.

Ex-SENATOR HARRARD, father of the State Board of Equalization has received from the Governor of Minnesota a letter which says: "A State Board of Equalization has existed in this State for more than twenty years and it certainly does lay the burden of taxation more evenly than would be possible without it. It is equally essential with the Town Board of Review to equalize assessments among individuals, and the County Board of Equalization to equalize assessments among towns."

STATE ITEMS.

Ex-Lieut. Governor James E. Caldwell is mentioned as a suitable member of the Civil Service Board. Coal is cheaper this season than it has been known to be for many years. The best can be had at thirteen cents.

Albert Wright, a Lexington barber, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for forging an order for 35 cents.

The Wickliff Journal intimates that Judge J. D. White, of the county, will enter the race for the Superior Judgeship.

Woodford county will have a large corn surplus this year. The crop is very fine, but an unusually large acreage was planted.

Judge Campbell, the present incumbent, and Judge Randle will be the contesting candidates for Circuit Judge in the First district.

W. W. DICKERSON was elected last Monday to represent Grant county in the next legislature. He is a young man of considerable ability, and, no doubt, will make an excellent member.

THEIR licenses having expired, and the town council having put the price so high, we understand that all the saloons in Florence have been closed since last Monday. It's very dry over there now.

The New York and Virginia elections were held yesterday. The excitement was at fever heat, and in some parts of Virginia trouble was anticipated. Our telegraphic communications are not quite completed, and we can't announce the result this morning.

A fence that is wanted, and in time will be used by every one that wants a fence, either around the House, Garden or Farm, as it is cheap, durable and serviceable, to keep in check horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens, etc., and restrain wolves, dogs, and rabbits, etc.

Having all the advantages of a picket fence in restraining animals from jumping, and not so liable to decay, and at much less cost, and no bars to injure valuable stock, thus placing it far in advance of any other fence now in use, hence it must be the fence of the future; all who have it want more.

who wear silk handkerchiefs in the neck in cold weather. I think the best color, because it is washing and always looks as good as new. The same can be said of any other tint, for the color will sometimes stain. I like it in but rarely, and it chiefly turns yellow.

None but the best are worn and light ones will cleanse, though it is next to impossible in this operation at home. Great trouble with silk gaiters of the finger tips is getting into holes, and the remedy is to avoid it by putting a tiny bit of wool or wadding into the end of each finger. Some are imagining to wear the tips of an old glove instead, however carefully done, a pleasant trick of showing, is far preferable.

able to have a pair of boots made of the right size on which to dry them. The mixture should be made of water and the dirty gloves should be put up small and boiled in it and the dirty gloves should be rubbed and cleaned with a brush dipped in it. After this, they should be washed with warm—yes, hot—water and let on the "greenwood" to dry.

of game thrown on that market by W. L. Scott after his two days' hunting out here last week—Geo. Hughes went to the city the day after Scott returned to draw his share of the proceeds of the sale.

A very small crowd was in town Monday, but considerable stock was offered for sale, and for a while no less than four auctioneers were at work. J. M. Conner reports the sale of 40 cattle and 100 sheep at two satisfactory prices. The stock raised by Burlington ought to be much better on Court day.

The body of Sam Moyer, son of David Moyer, of this county, was found floating in the river at Aurora last Sunday morning. Last seen of Sam he was in Lawrenceburg last Friday, and the fact that there was an ugly pool in his forehead excited the suspicion of foul play. His father went to Aurora Monday after the remains.

The large barn on the premises of Milton (Graves near Florence, was destroyed by the application of an incendiary's torch last Friday night. The barn was full of food for stock and farming implements, which, entails a loss of $1000. If not insured, the unpaid loss, and the amount of insurance, if any, we have not learned.

One of the attendants at the Lexington insane asylum arrived here last Friday in charge of a colored man from this county, and who had been an inmate of that institution for several years. He was found to be in a curable and harmless and was returned to this county to be taken care of and is accordingly registered at the county infirmary.

The colored people about here seem to manifest more interest in their school than do the whites. They have not reached that point in education where their own opinions on public matters diverge as do those of the white people, consequently their more harmonious, and they reap more benefit from the school fund fees. They are the most peaceable people in the county, and in town, and it is quite as comely and no doubt equally comfortable and as well arranged for the accommodation of scholars, and so far they have employed a very good teacher.

Monday morning as Charles Clore was coming to town he was overtaken on his road by a party of men riding bareback a uptail looking sorrel horse. Charles opened up a conversation with the boy who upon proposal to sell the horse to him for $100, about half its value which excited Charles' suspicion, and it was not long until he offered to take $75 and, then $50, saying he had five more like him at home, and he wished to sell some of them. These low offers satisfied Mr. Clore as to how the fellow obtained the horse, and decided to buy him, although he was inclined to leave the East Bend road and go around the place. He did not halt in Burlington. Clore informed a crowd of boys of his strange talk and actions, when Jim Conner, who was in the crowd, started in pursuit of the fellow, overtaking him about half a mile from town and bargaining for the horse at $75, but told the fellow he must come back to town, and he would pay him the money soon as soon as he was in town. The neighborhood, East Bend, and said he was all right. Without objecting he returned to town by which time half a dozen persons had arrived, who identified the horse as John McConnell's, of East Bend, and said the horse was worth reached town that McConnell's horse had been stolen Sunday night. The fellow was put under arrest and McConnell sent for, and he arrived about 5 o'clock that evening and took the horse home. The fellow was in default of $100, but pleading guilty and waiving an examining trial. He says his name is William Collier and is a son of August Collier, a well-to-do German who lived near Ghent, Caspary county, and has one woman and is quite deaf and seems to be wrong offwise in the upper story.

County Court.

The full session of the Boone County Court for revenue only was held Monday, the following custodians of the county funds being present: Of Burlington, Esquires (Gaines and Baker; Petersburg, Esquires (Goulding and Florence, Dixon and Wagstaff; Walton, Curley and Johnson; Verona, Brunkbeck; Beaver, Ross; Union, Norman and Danner; Hamilton; Howlett; Carlton; Riley; Believer; Sutton, with a large bill as starter and J. W. Duncan as clerk.

About the usual number of claims had matured and were fired into the court, some of which were scaled down, some allowed in full, some continued to carry over, and others rejected outright.

The Jail committee was continued, with authority to send for men and tools necessary to put the structure in a condition for entertaining such persons as may be committed to remain therein when not in the cells.

Just before court adjourned Tabitha Hash came to the front "in favor of the old flag and an appropriation." The road supervisor down then wanted the county to pay for the bridge across the creek near town. Barrister Stephens made a very forcible appeal for the allowance, but the court said "nixty." The bridge is in a dangerous condition, and it will cost considerable money to repair it. The court proposed to assist in building or repairing bridges, you know.

The County Superintendent of Schools was allowed $450 for his services since his induction into office, and his salary for the year was set at $400. While this matter was under consideration, Justice Norman, of Union, made a short speech, fraught with praise of the Superintendent's efficiency as a school officer.

The day's business was concluded by the usual allowance to the County Judge and County Attorney for their year's services. Esquire Howlett of Hamilton moved that the Co. Judge's salary be increased, but the court did not prevail, and it was made $400.

John H. Moore's will was probated. The county attorney was directed to take the Sheriff bond suit to the court of appeals.

HOME COMFORT RANGE

30,000 In Use.

Who would be free must themselves "strike the first blow," and when a "woman says she will, she will." Henceforth the desertion of the cook need not be the signal for household wheels to stop, for with a "Home Comfort" Wrought Iron Range in the kitchen, the mistress can do the cooking without danger to health or temper.

Remember, the Home Comfort Ranges are the only Wrought Iron Ranges that have Malleable Iron Top Plates and Malleable Iron Fire Linings. And all other Wrought Iron Ranges you see advertised are Cast Iron Tops and Fire Linings.

LITTLE PARAGRAPHS

Expressing the Sentiments of our Customers.

I gladly add my testimonial to the perfectness in construction and its adaptability to the wants of the public. PERCY JERRY, Mt. Olive, Ky.

We could scarcely over-estimate its advantages. The fact that a 20-pound pot of beef and a delicate cake can be baked successfully at the same time is sufficient evidence of its merits. To testify to this is a pleasure daily appreciated by JOHN O'CONNOR, Ellenville.

Having purchased a Home Comfort Range of J. D. Gates, we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends of Bath county as the best thing of the kind we ever used. It heats up quickly, with a small quantity of fuel, and does better baking and cooking than any cast iron range or stove we have ever used. J. VARNHAUSEN.

We have used it a sufficient length of time to know that we could get nothing better. E. KENTON, Mt. Olive.

Having had long experience in the use of many kinds of stoves, but to quick work and economy of fuel it takes the lead. A. HILDEBRATH, Blue Licks.

It is the most excellent article I have ever purchased, and it is most highly recommended by WIN. McCLANAHAN, Ellenville.

I can safely say for perfect baking, broiling and economy of fuel it takes all others. JAS. HENRY, Nicholas Co.

I seldom recommend an article for others' use, but in this case will say I consider it superior to anything of the kind ever manufactured. Wm. HALL, Sandusky.

It is every satisfactory piece of house furniture. Strong, well made, and does its work with certainty and dispatch. H. B. SAMPOSS, Blue Lick.

No one can appreciate its great advantages without using it. Had we known its merits we would have bought one long ago; and discarded the old one. J. DOOLY, Carlyle.

You can not say too much in praise of it. I have the best biscuit and the best meat in the world baked on it. I would not part with it for any reasonable amount of money. W. N. SMITH, Nicholas County.

Dear Sirs: You can write anything you choose in recommending your beautiful and perfect operating Home Comfort Ranges, and sign our names. W. HALL, J. H. BOWEN, JAS. DOOLEY, J. H. CANNWOOD, WALTER POTTS, N. P. BALKS.

The "Home Comfort" Range is all right in every respect and I do not see how we could get along without it as it does better work and takes so much less fuel than any other stove. J. A. MCCOIN, Fleming County.

I endorse all that has, or can be said in favor of the "Home Comfort" Range. S. C. SPECKHARDT, Fleming Co., Ky.

The above statement in behalf of the "Home Comfort" Range suits me, and I claim enough can not be said in their favor. I am using one and could ask for nothing better of the kind. J. E. MCCARTHY, Fleming Co., Ky.

A WAR REALITY.

Meeting of Father and Son on the Old Decks of the Harriet Lane.

A day or two since as the com-pond was visiting the Episcopal Cemetery, in the western part of city in company with a friend, his attention was attracted by a modest to-stone under the shade of a vigorous live oak, bearing the following inscription:

EDWARD LEA,

First Commander U. S. N., Born Jan. 31st, 1837,
Killed in Battle January 1st, 1863.

"My Father is Here."

"This modest stone," remarked conspicuous companion, "commemorates one of the greatest of the sailors of the world. During the war he made the last landing of any brave on shore at the overboard of an American man-of-war.
ward Lee was a Baltimorean by birth and the breaking out of the war found him an officer in the Federal navy. His father, Major Albert M. Lee who had opposed the Confederacy since the beginning of the war in '61, giving his views then pending contest, adding he must judge for himself the side would take, but should be chosen

The young officer elected to stand for the United States they would probably never meet again, unless by chance.

The flag officer elected to stand by the old flag, and when the steamer Harriet Lane was transformed into a man-of-war he was selected by Capt. Wainwright as her first Lieutenant and in that capacity served under her as a frigate at Fort Jackson, New Orleans.

After the fall of the city and the forts occupied Galveston, in the fall of 1862, the Harriet Lane formed on the flotilla, and when the city was taken by the rebel forces under Magruder, on the 1st of January, 1863, Major A. M. Lea, the father of the young Lieut. Wainwright, was ordered to remain on board the ship with the few officers and crew from the shore witnesses he and his ship's company were ordered to surrender, after her Captain had been killed and most of her officers were severely wounded.

"Proceeding to the head of Bayou du Large, near where the light took place, the Harriet Lane was ordered to open those bulwarks, General Tom Green and Commodore Leach Smith stood, asked if any of the steamer's officer had been killed or wounded, and the reply was: "Yes; only all of them."

"Yes," Leach then granted, "I am sorry to hear of this. I have no mission to go on board and meet the officer of the ship, asked if Lieutenant Leach was there, and was answered: "Yes, and badly wounded."

"I am his father," replied the Commodore officer; and he was then escorted to the deck, lying on a stretcher, surrounded by the crew and doctors. He recognized the father, telling him that he hoped he was not mortally wounded. Dr. Penrose, of Philadelphia, who was operating upon a wounded man, stated that the Lieutenant was mortally wounded, and might die within a few hours, or might linger for several days. The father then returned to the shore to procure an ambulance to transport the wounded man to the hospital, during his absence the Lieutenant died.

pleared his last words, when asked if he had any more to say to his family. My father is here. He is buried, together with Captain Wainwright, on the 22d of January, with military honors.

"A wealthy relative of Baltimore asked the father's leave to remove the remains of the Lieutenant to Greece, but the father refused to do so for his mother, but the request was denied the father feeling that it was unfitting for the brave sailor to sleep where he fell 'in sight of the sea and sounds of the surf.' In 1866, when the remains of Captain Wainwright were washed ashore, the father was ordered also to take the Lieutenant's body to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., but this effort was also refused. To-day, of all who fought and died under the stars and stripes on the Hatteras, the remains of the Lieutenant are the only ones left on the coast of North Carolina, and are buried on the reef at Galveston Island."

THERE will be in the next General Assembly a number of sterling business men, of pronounced ability and thorough training in the practical vocations of life. They will bring to aid in the discharge of legislative duties, a knowledge of their fellow men in individual and corporate capacity, acquired through long and intimate association with business methods; and with minds trained to figures and the science of accounts, will prove valuable coadjutors to those who would weigh the interests of the State in a careful balance. The need of such men in State legislation was never more pressing than at the present time. The perplexing questions relating to the school laws, to finance, and many other matters of public import, will demand a large share of the attention of the incoming General Assembly, and the past has demonstrated that the practical solution of such questions will not be achieved by theorists or visionaries. They must be grappled by a firm hand, one used to grasping the knotty details of every day life. There will be columns of figures to compute, and the balance sheet to make out. There will be sums in fractions and reductions to a common denominator, as well as to common sense basis. The hand that has been trained to familiarity with cold, unsympathetic figures will be the one to take precedence in directing the remedial measures urgently demanded, and so ineffectually sought by the law-making power in the past.

The task is not an easy one, and the legislature will be fortunate if, in aggregating capacity, it deals satisfactorily and intelligently with the weighty matters that will come before it. Still, be the result what it may, it is a source of gratification now to know that there will be not a few capable representatives serving the people who can deal with questions of State from a practical standpoint, in a masterly, business-like and efficient manner.—Capital.

Very often we are asked why we don't put the price of the RECORDER down to $1. per year. The reason is because it cannot be run for that price. We admit that we would get a great many more subscribers at $1. per year, but we know our subscription list could not be doubled, which would be necessary to realize as much as the reduced rates as at the present rate. Old and experienced county newspaper men are unanimous in the opinion that a county paper of any size can not be run at a less subscription price than $1.50 per annum. We have never tried the experiment, but are convinced from observation that they are correct. The RECORDER started at $1.50 per year, a six column folio, and has been enlarged from time to time until it now gives its readers as much again reading matter as at first. The expenses in the office have been curtailed until they are now at a minimum, and our readers have been given the advantage of these reductions by the increase in the size of the paper, the subscription price of which will never be below $1.50 per year if the court knows itself, unless in case of an occasional offer. Now is the time to subscribe—only $1.50 from now until January 1, 1897.

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, some years ago removed from Greenville, South Carolina, to Louisville, Kentucky, and with an endowment of $300,000 is now taking the initiative to erect, on Broadway, between Fourth and Fifth Streets, magnificent buildings at a cost of $500,000 to be raised by subscription. Two gentlemen headed the subscription with $5,000 each, thus fixing in Louisville and giving to Kentucky the honor of the grandest Theological Seminary in the World.

With 150,000 majority in New York and 30,000 in Virginia, the indications are that Democracy in the East is on the wane about like Republicanism in Ohio.

Subscribe for THE RECORDER.

NUMEROUS and various constructions are put upon the result of the New York and Virginia elections. The result in New York is, in the opinion of some, a rebuke to the Administration, while others consider it a strong endorsement of same; it shows the Mugwumps that the Democratic party in the empire State is not dependent upon men; that Blaine is or was a stronger man in New York than Davenport, who was looking forward to 1888; that the Presidential race in Foraker's bonnet may as well cease buzzing; that Foraker and Sherman's bloody shirts are too thin for use in the east; that New York is a Democratic State and that Governor Hill is now a Presidential quantity.

The result in Virginia shows that the people are heartily tired of Mahone rule; that Foraker and Sherman could not save the rebel Brigadiers in the old dominion; that the leader of the Republican party should be relegated to the shades of less political prominence.

In the Ohio campaign Senator Sherman spoke from the stump thusly:

"To-day, the Republican party is faced by a solid South, in which the negro is deprived, substantially, of his political rights by open violence or by fraud as mean as any that have been committed by penitentiary convicts, and openly and boldly done as any highway robbery."

When the Senator mounted the stump in Virginia, his Ohio shout of the South changed to admiration of the Southern people, to whom he spoke as follows:

"We admire the courage with which you fought in what you regarded as a good cause, the right way, and claim for ourselves a share of the honor you conferred upon American citizenship by your courage. We frankly admit the sincerity of the motives which led you into the contest, and neither wish to reproach you with nor make any reference to what you did during the war."

So it appears that Mr. Sherman is a considerable demagogue after all.

The anti-whisky element in Trimble county is organizing for the purpose of waging a war on "ring alcohol," and the next legislature will be asked to pass a law allowing the county, at the next regular election, to vote on the proposition to suspend the sale of whisky within the limits of that county. The temperance element is very formidable in Trimble, and whisky, in all probability, will have to go.

SENATOR HARGROVE, of Clark Co., is making a strong effort to gain popularity for the State Board of Equalization, and fortify it against any attempt at repeal by the next legislature. He is securing information in regard to the effect of like boards in other States and publishing the same, and sending it out over the State.

In this issue we copy from the Moberly (Mo.) Headlight, a brief biography of Owen Thomas Rouse, a native of this county, who has been appointed United States Attorney for Arizona. Mr. Rouse has a very large circle of relatives in this county who will be glad to hear of his good luck with the Administration.

STATE ITEMS.

The Danville Tribune has been revived by its former editor, Capt. David A. Murphy.

Farmers from Bourbon county report that all the early wheat in that section of Kentucky will be destroyed by the Hessian fly.

Irish potatoes are cheaper in Lexington than they have been before in years, the supply being greater than the demand at twenty-five cents per bushel.

The grand jury of the Jefferson circuit court returned 183 indictments, and Judge Jackson said it was the best grand jury he had any recollection of.

In Warren county a couple of candidates for the same office agreed to settle the matter by referring it to an uncle of each. The uncles very quickly decided between the two by drawing straws.

Harrodsburg has a club called the "High Kickers," and no one is admitted into full membership until he can kick at least six inches above his head. There are several of its members who can reach a foot over the requisite height. Of course this is an essentially male club.—Democrat.

It will be remembered that some months ago a Trimble county woman Mrs. Jane Ball, had her throat cut in her own door at the midnight hour and she accused one Dan Shugler, a well to do neighbor of the crime. The woman sued him for $10,000 damages and the jury in the trial of the case last week gave her a verdict of $3,000. The criminal charge against him was continued until next term.

Judge Mike Oweley, of Lancaster, denies the statement published that his trip to Washington had something to do with the office of Collector of Internal Revenue in his district, and says he has no desire to supplant Mr. T. S. Bronston in that position, nor would he accept of the fee if tendered to him. He also says he had heard nothing of the request for Bronston's resignation, and new nothing of any "inaccuracies in his office."

THE

COMBINATION FENCE

A fence that is wanted, and in time will be used by every one that wants a fence, either around the House, Garden or Farm, as it is cheap, durable and serviceable, to keep in check horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens, etc., and restrain wolves, dogs, and rabbits, etc.

Having all the advantages of a picket fence in restraining animals from jumping, and not so liable to decay, and at much less cost, and no bars to injure valuable stock, thus placing it far in advance of any other fence now in use, hence it must be the fence of the future; all who have it want more.

It is portable and can be removed from field to field by drawing staples from posts, taking out the spike lath and rebounding it. We offer this fence for sale in bundles of five and six rod at Burlington.

—It is remarkable what a difference there is in the sensation when you get a letter enclosing a ten-dollar bill when you get one enclosing a ten dollar ra.

—An exchange has an article headed "Boys and Comagion." What small boy can't catch isn't worth catching, only he doesn't always catch what he deserves.—St. Albans (Vt.) Gleaner.

—In talking what mothers should do an exchange says: "Allow the child to throw away, to have animals

—A Tennessee negro who did general delinquency was turned over to the doctors, and a post-mortem revealed several rows of short buttons in his stomach. We are not surprised. A man's buttons are almost never where you ought to be. —Fuck.

day, of which I did not know the meaning. I went to the dictionary and they weren't there. Probably, I suggest, Splashpen had taken it from Doston Post.

—"Look here, I wish you would explain how this got into one of your gars!" said a man, rushing into a bacco store and holding up a strip of calico. The man explained it with disgust, and exclaimed: "It's those new gars again. I don't seem to know the difference between a Mother Hubbard and a necktie wrapper!" —Chicago Tribune

—His lost love.
 "By thy charm I crave a place
 'Midst rivals thy winsome grace
 And I beg ventures will I dare,
 To prove of thy love's power and care.
 If it's no chancy thy love to win,
 Abroad I'll eom to ether scheme.
 For me no more this earth is fit,
 'Till thou wilt give me smiles—origines
 Let peace be ours both wit us dwell!
 I'll e there no more—face-will!"

—Mrs. Jones (newly married)—
 "did you like that pie we had for today?" Mr. Jones (who recohis childhood)—It was rather pi-but not such a pie as my mother to bake. Why don't you call on get her recipe? Did you bake it?

—Jones—No. Mr. Jones—Ah!—
—did then? M. J. Jones (triumphantly)— —Your mother baked it and I ate it over. She thought you would like it.

HOWLING GLAD.

How a San Franciscan Won the Eternal Friendship of an Acquaintance—
Love is a good deal like the car
It is endless, and goes on all the but it doesn't matter a cent what is drawing. You're always got to fare, too, but whatever you put into box is gone. There was a man in land who had a sweetheart. I say there are several men in Oakland have sweethearts, several who have some sweetheart, several who have several sweethearts. But this man one sweetheart whom he adored, and a man who finds it hard to get a heart, and does not feel sure of thing, can adore. He wanted a thing precious to keep for her sake

he got permission of the Central Pa.
Railroad, and came to the Fair.

He took out of his pocket a photograph and a lock of hair.

"Y-e-e-s. She's good looking."
"When you go to Dresleu I want to have a painting of her made on a daisy. I don't care what it costs."
"All right, old man, I'll do it."
"Take care of it, won't you?—lock of hair, I mean."
"Certainly. Do you want to include it?"
The friend went to Europe and came back. In Dresden he had made inquiries, and found what was required was

"Hullo! Got back? How did you joy yourself?"

Not a word about the commission. The last the Erlson man spoke up.

"By the way, I priced those porcelain paintings in Dresden, and I thought you would not care to have fifty dollars for it was an idiot. So he came back without the porcelain. He been back some time, when he met the Oakland man on the street. Strange enough the Oakland man avoided him but he was cornered.

Gray's

within the shadows of the sloping roof of Gray's Inn. Here at his "box of slop" under the gateway, Jacob Tison, the famous publisher, issued "Disenchantment Campaign." And within courts Lord Bacon wrote his "Novi Organum," which King James claimed as being "like the peace tool, which passeth all understanding. At the gateway also at one time dwelt Thomas Osborne, the bookseller, who gave $13,000 for the books from the Harleian library. The men of Gray's Inn in times now passed, were famous for masks and revels and for gorging interlude. Hawthorne loved the place. Dickens lifted it into his "Uncommercial Traveler." Pepys wrote about the fashions that were flaunted by the promenaders on Sunday after church, and Charles Lamb has embalmed beauties in an epitaph by saying: "Those are the best gardens of nature the laws of court. Bacon has let's impress of his foot upon their grave walks."—Pall Mall Gazette.

hurry, muffled shouts and ejaculations. Uncle Simon's voice. Of course we all rushed into the dining-room, to find that the ash pan had fallen from the table, as he capered wildly about the room, quite uncertain what to do. In the course of his explorations he had taken hold of the ash pan and set it upon a corner of the table, and, in the effort to preserve the carpet from injury, he had, as a last resource, thrown it down. As, however, the ash pan was not broken, and, as, as a pan is apt to be, it had no sharp edges, the accident had not seriously injured a blade. Mr. Parker was the only one of us who had any sense. He thought that the situation at once, and, rushing from the room, he had procured a broom, which he threw over the burning paper,

"Because you both admired her, and was jealous," I said, sagely; at which George fairly roared.

"Not exactly. Because he wanted me to admire her and I wouldn't, or rather I wouldn't comply else more. He 'advised' me to address her, and when I declined he 'advised' me to leave the far-which I did."

There is no use writing down any more of that episode. There is no fear of my ever forgetting it, and as this journal is not intended to be a record of my eyes, it will clearly be a work of supererogation.

SHERWIN RELEASED

Ex-President of the Maxwell Land-Grant Company Caut of Frisco.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The Court of Sessions today granted a writ of habeas corpus to Frank R. Sherwin from the Albany Penitentiary on the ground that the settlement was defunct. Sherwin was recently sentenced to three years imprisonment for failure to pay $250 for contempt in refusing to pay a subpoena in the case of the accused in the recent trial of the "Black Legion" in the city in 1937, and released on bail.

The point appears to be to prevent Maryland from obtaining his needed leaf at cheaper prices in Louisville than New York, and the principal fight is on crop tobacco. Barley tobaccos of all sorts have been more uniformly firm, low and high relatively strong, and immediate grades steady. Smoking leaf still in active demand. Mr. P. Jones, a farmer living near Jay, about four miles from Covington, committed suicide by hanging himself to a tree in his barn a few days ago. He was ty-one years of age, and had been married, and the objection to his marriage evidently was the cause of suicide. His second wife died a few since, and recently a flame was kindled in his heart. A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year!

WELCOME AND FAREWELL.

When the Old Year went, we said,
Looking at his gr in gray head,
At the shoulders broad and low,
And the sad eyes dark with cloud:
"And the sad eyes were young and bright,
Did we praise his sunny hair
And glad eyes, with promise lit?
We can scarce remember it.
Tenderly he smiled, nor spoke Holding death's rainbow cloak Store of precious things to strew
On the way that we must go;
Vain to bid him; old and weak
He is doing; let him die."
And the Old Year did not speak;
But we thought we heard him sigh.
—Susan Coolidge, in N. Y. Independent.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

Last Christmas time there was a lad About as big as
Who ate too much plum pudding,
 And likewise too much pie.

He went to bed, and oh, dear me!
 What awful dreams he had!
 Because his stomach was so full,
 And felt so very bad.

He thought a great big bird, as black
 As ever crow could be,
 Sat on the headboard of his bed,
 And watched him solemnly.

And when he groaned in awful pain,
 This bird came one or saw Spread out two big and flapping wing
 And uttered: "Caw! caw! caw!"

The "Old Settler" Tells a Christmas Story.

A waddin' hain't giner' a 'prize party boys," said the Old Settler, he shant one eye and peered through cloud of mist that rose from a pew muffled by his hand. "But if Beverly ever comes back, I'll give him a party year ago this Christmas Eve, wa'n't n-p-an-up 'prize party, then, b'gosh. I've 'eern of 'prize partied, but never see one."

"You're in the tavern, wa'n't so bright that you could stand on one side of the room and read clear across on the other, just as plain as day, the announcements of a coming dance?"

"I can't see a thing, now, a darnation thing," said the Old Settler, "but I'll raffle at Nate Goble's. It was bright that the usual go on the Goble's, but I'll raffle at Nate Goble's. I'm embued by the unwonted darkness of the room that its tone failed to give me any idea of what I was doing. I'm titled to as a regular patron of the department of the hostelry. But I'm a clerk, and upon my soul, I'm a clerk, and upon my soul, I'm a clerk. The Old Settler and his friends were laughing at him, but he bubbled away with reminiscence.

"'Thi' were a heap o' fun in Pitt County forty-seven year ago," continued the Old Settler, "an' no mistake 'bout it. I was a boy then, an' I remember how he got to be my brother-in-law, 'cause he was a brother to my father's wife, but he wa'n't daz'dly mine. I hitched me an' M'r Mrad had a daughter one or two several year, an' M'r Mrad had'n never see me.
